MEHEMMED V SENDS MESSAGE TO WORLD

NEW SULTAN REIGNS IN THE YILDIZ KIOSK.

Abdul Hamid Is Driven from Throne of Ottoman Empire.

His Brother, Mehemmed Reschad, Takes His Place Under Title of Mehemmed V—Declares He Will Obey Commands of Allah and Strive for Advancement of His People.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Abdul Hamid, after he had been dragged from the harem by a committee consisting of two officers, two Senators and two Deputies, who had been sent to apprehend him, turned pale with fear and cried in terror

"Why do you want my life?"

There was no reply, and Abdul continued:

"I have reigned thirty-three years, but I have done ill to nobody. Why do you want my life?"

No reply was vouchsafed, and the Sultan proceeded:

"I made war with Greece. Why do you want my life?"

The six delegates remained silent, and again the Sultan spoke, saying:

"For thirty years I treated my brother Mahmoud well. Any other Sultan would have had him killed, so why do you want my life?"

After a short pause Abdul whined pitifully:

"Only let me live and I will do all that you wish."

There was no reply, and there was another pause, longer and more lugubrious than the others. The Sultan, pale as a specter, then tottered to his feet and said:

"Take me to the Cheraghan Palace with my family. I was born there; there let me die."

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Abdul Hamid II was driven from the throne of the Ottoman empire today and his brother, Mehemmed Reschad, under the title of Mehemmed V, reigns, but does not rule, in his stead.

Some hours before Parliament approved the decree of deposition this morning, soldiers of the Constitution went to the Yildiz Kiosk to seize Abdul Hamid. The palace was searched unsuccessfully for a long time. It became necessary at last to force an entrance into the harem and there the monarch was found squirming on the floor in a sort of fit, real or simulated.

He was quickly placed in a closed carriage, and driven rapidly to the Cheraghan Palace, a beautiful building, on the very edge of the Bosporus, where his elder brother, Sultan Murad V, who was also deposed, was incarcerated for more than twenty years.

DETHRONEMENT LEGAL.

Abdul Hamid's dethronement was not technically an act of Parliament or of the Young Turk committee. It was accomplished in the only lawful manner, by a fetva, or decree of the Sheik Ul Islam, the head of the Mohammedan church. This document declares that Abdul Hamid is unfit to remain Kalifa, by reason of his religious unworthiness, and also because of his tampering with the holy writing, and of blood guiltiness. It is the Moslem theory that the throne is never empty, and therefore Mehemmed Reschad became de facto Sultan, as soon as the announcement of the removal of Abdul Hamid was issued.

Mehemmed Reschad drove through the streets to the Parliament house, being everywhere acclaimed with apparent enthusiasm, and he immediately took the oath of fealty to the Constitution. A salute of 101 guns proclaimed his accession.

OUTBURST FEARED.

There is naturally nothing but satisfaction visible among the population of the capital, but it would be assuming too much to expect that the change will be accepted quietly throughout the empire. There is grave reason to fear an outburst of religious fanaticism, taking the form of the massacre of Christians, in some parts of the country. Nevertheless, the transfer has been effected strictly according to Moslem traditions, and with far greater decency than the circumstances of Abdul Hamid's enthronement more than thirty years ago. The Young Turks believe they possess overwhelming evidence of Abdul Hamid's guilty connection with the revolt of April 13. They found much telegraphic correspondence at the Yildiz Kiosk bearing on this point.

The amount of money, evidently received as bribes, found in possession of the captured soldiers of the old garrison was simply incredible. One company of gendarmerie alone took from its prisoners £4000. Among 780 policemen taken prisoners, one had £750 in his pocket. It is absurd and incomprehensible how the assertion can be made that the Sultan knew nothing of the rising in face of such evidence. The money captured included many English sovereigns.

ABDUL HAMID'S FATE.

Abdul Hamid's personal aide-de-camp, Shakir Pasha, has committed suicide. The city remains quiet, but the streets are full of people. The chief topic of discussion is the future treatment of Abdul Hamid, who will be kept a close prisoner wherever the Assembly decides he shall be incarcerated.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 28.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Times correspondent was today received by Mehemmed V at his palace, which had been his prison. The new Sultan said in the course of the conversation:

"You are the first European to whom I have given an audience since I have been here. You are the first correspondent I ever received. The moment is portentous to the whole Turkish nation. My enemies have slandered me. They said I was a madman, bordering on imbecility, and shut me up for years, but Allah has so willed it now in his merciful bounty that he has been pleased to call me to fulfill my destiny and rule over Islam.

MESSAGE TO THE WORLD.

"I beg you to be the envoy for the deliverance of a message which I would send to Europe and the entire world, and which is the first of its kind ever sent from within these walls. Say, then, that I have ever been a convinced and ardent supporter of the cause of enlightenment, liberty and progress.

"If it be the will of Allah that I should mount the Ottoman throne, I shall enter upon the office fully realizing its duties and responsibilities and fully conscious of the heavy burden which will fall on my shoulders, but by the help of Allah the Most High I shall follow unswervingly the path of duty, seeking to act justly and honorably to all men, be they giaours or true believers. My voice has been silent for thirty-three years, but the voice of conscience has never been stilled.

STANDS FOR PROGRESS.

"You ask me what I think of the situation of modern Turkey as I find it today. After my political resuscitation after long years, I will tell you that, although shut up here, I have continued, feebly, perhaps, to keep in touch with the march of progress in the outside world. A few partisans, who have been loyal to me through the dark days of adversity, are aware that from my earliest years, while faithful to the precepts and teachings of the Koran, I have advocated a constitutional charter and parliamentary institutions.

"From this opinion I have never deviated. I hold it as strongly today as I did when I was a young man seeking to imbibe knowledge of western civilization and its methods.

"I am a firm supporter of the policy of Young Turkey. With the full enjoyment of political freedom, I see nothing incompatible with the Mohammedan sacred law."

ABDUL HAMID IS NOT REGRETTED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

LONDON, April 27.—The deposition of Abdul Hamid II as Sultan of Turkey, so far as he is concerned personally, is not regretted in England.

For years past English diplomats have been fighting against the intrigues emanating from the Yildiz palace, and they never really knew whether the Sultan was their enemy or their friend.

The effect that the deposition is likely to have in Turkey, however, is another thing, and fears are freely expressed that the new administration will probably have a more difficult task in overcoming the prejudices of the people in the provinces than has been experienced in Constantinople.

ANATOLIA IN THE HANDS OF A MOB.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PARIS, April 27.—La Liberte publishes a dispatch from Constantinople saying that although Schefket Pasha has announced his ability to restore order in Asia Minor, the latest reports from beyond the Bosporus are alarming. The whole of Anatolia has been given over to the passion of the mob.

SULTAN HAS TWO WIVES.

New Ruler Is Kindly, Generous, and Sincerely Religious.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

LONDON, April 27.—A person who is well acquainted with the new Sultan gives the following description of him: "He is tall and well proportioned, but stoops. His features are regular and he has a hooked nose. His eyes are blue and his hair and beard are light red. His manners are gracious and he is generous and kind. He is not fanatical, but sincerely religious. The new ruler is a good draughtsman. He has two wives and several children. His wives are both highly educated. They dress in the French fashion."

TRAINS SOON TO RUN.

OAKLAND, April 27.—According to a statement made by Chief Engineer Williams, the Western Pacific Railroad will be running trains in and out of Oakland within sixty days.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 27.—The reign of Abdul Hamid II ended today with his deposition and the accession of his brother, Mehemmed Reschad Effendi.

The name Mehemmed is a variation of Mahomet, it being considered inappropriate to assume the precise name of the prophet.

Mehemmed V is the thirty-fifth sovereign of Turkey, in male descent of the House of Osman, the founder of the empire, and the twenty-ninth Sultan since the conquest of Constantinople.

The two houses of Parliament, meeting as a national assembly, approved the decree of deposition, which was read by the Sheik Ul Islam, chief of the Ulemas, and supreme judge on ecclesiastical questions. The document recites that Abdul Hamid's acts were contrary to the sacred law and set forth a long list of crimes, the whole making a terrible indictment.

The assembly chose Reschad as Sultan, and appointed committees to notify the dethroned sovereign and his successor.

The firing of 101 guns announced to the waiting people that a new Sultan had been proclaimed.

CEREMONIES SIMPLE.

The ceremonies connected with the transfer of the power were simple. The newly-chosen ruler came from his palace in Galata through streets lined with troops and cheering thousands, and took the oath at the War Office. He then proceeded to the Parliament and later went to the Dolmabagtschee palace as head of the empire, where for so many years he has been practically a prisoner.

Martial law was relaxed tonight, and the people gave themselves over to celebrating the victory of the Young Turks and the end of Abdul Hamid's reign.

Many buildings were illuminated and thousands of rounds were joyfully fired by the soldiers. General good humor prevailed everywhere.

The question of the new Cabinet has not yet been settled, but the new Sultan has charged Ahmed Riza, the new Grand Vizier, with forming one. Some of his associates will probably be Hilmi Pasha, the former Premier, as Minister of the Interior; Djavid Bey, as Minister of Finance, and Rifaat Pasha, as Minister of Foreign Affairs.

FORMAL DECREE.

The Sheik Ul Islam, supported by all the principal personages of the higher church administration, issued the fetva, as the decree of deposition is called. It informed Mehemmed Reschad Effendi that he was chosen Sultan by the will of the church, Parliament, the army and the people. It admonished him to serve God and keep the sacred law, as commanded by the prophet.

This Reschad humbly promised to do.

The fetva was prepared last night, both Abdul Hamid and his brother, Prince Reschad, being informed early today.

Abdul bowed his head, saying:

"It is the will of Allah."

MAKES "SLUSH" FUNDS ILLEGAL.

STATE TO PAY PART OF CANDIDATES' EXPENSES.

Governor of Colorado Signs Election Law Which Provides That Twenty-five Cents Apiece Shall Be paid for Each Party Vote as Campaign Fund.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER (Colo.) April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With the signing today of the bill that provides for payment of a share of the election expenses of candidates by the State, Gov. Shafroth accomplished the first reform of the kind in any State. The law is one of the most drastic ever drafted to govern elections.

Slush funds can be eliminated if the law is enforced. Corporation officials will find themselves facing the penitentiary if they violate it. Under the new law the State gives each party in the next general election 25 cents for each vote cast for Governor by that party. One-half of this goes to the county chairman, according to votes cast.

The only other contributors can be the candidates themselves, and their contributions are limited to 40 per cent. of the first year's salary, or 25 per cent. of the fees in case the office is on that basis.

Next year the political parties in this State will receive the following amounts:

Democrats, $32,229; Republicans, $29,708; Socialists, $1970; Prohibitionists, $1384.50. The total cost to the State will be $65,291.50.

Violations of the law by corporations or individuals in making contributions to campaign funds, or by candidates or political leaders in receiving such contributions is made a felony, punishable by imprisonment for not more than two years or a fine not exceeding $5000, or both.

CABBY ACCUSES HEINZE.

Taxicab Driver Charges Millionaire Copper Man With Disorderly Conduct.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] F. Augustus Heinze, the millionaire copper man, appeared in the Yorkville court before Magistrate Corrigan today charged with disorderly conduct, on complaint of Joseph Hubbard, a taxicab chauffeur, of No. 102 West Eighty-fifth street, who charged Heinze with beating him.

Hubbard drove Heinze and a party to the Cafe Boulevard on Saturday night and he alleges that when he demanded $6.40 fare, as indicated by the cab register, Heinze refused to pay and knocked him down. Heinze was arrested at the time and released in $500 bail. He did not appear in court yesterday and his bail was forfeited, with the understanding that forfeiture would be revoked if he appeared today.

Because of the absence of witnesses, the case was adjourned until Thursday.

GRAFT PROSECUTION.

CHALLENGE TO DUEL.

Rogers and Heney Make a Date.

Turn Up Noses at Each Other in Court; Agree to Fight After Trial.

Comedy and Melodrama Badly Mixed Before Judge Lawlor.

Angry Words Bandied by the Lawyers and Jurist Threatens Them.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 27.—Francis J. Heney and Earl Rogers, opposing counsel in the trial of Patrick Calhoun, today agreed that their private differences, arising out of a clash over the admission of testimony, shall be settled at the first opportunity, following the end of the trial.

An exchange of threats, made in tones that escaped the shorthand reporter, nevertheless caught the attention of Superior Judge William P. Lawlor, who demanded to know what the warring attorneys had said. Ignoring the court, they proceeded with their examination of Daniel G. Coleman, the third member of the former Board of Supervisors summoned as a witness against the president of the United Railroads.

Mr. Rogers, objecting to a question put to the witness, had declared the prosecution had no intention of attempting to prove the implication contained in the question.

ROGERS TAKES OFFENSE.

The attorney for the defense had referred to the record of a previous trial as corroboration, when Heney said:

"I challenge you to prove the assertion you have made. I have reason to know that it is not contained in that record."

For the first time during the pending trial, Mr. Rogers appeared to take offense. Advancing to the edge of the table reserved for Mr. Calhoun's attorneys, he said:

"Don't you talk to me in that manner, Mr. Heney."

"I'll meet you at any time you say," replied the prosecutor, and while the court was endeavoring to learn the subject of the debate, which was conducted in the lowest of tones, Mr. Rogers said:

"All right, Mr. Heney. That is agreed, but we will settle this matter after we have ended our duties to our respective clients."

HENEY UNDER GUARD.

Heney departed from the courtroom under escort of his customary bodyguards, and the adjournment marked the end of a stormy session of court, wherein Heney addressed Lewis F. Byington of the defense as a "barking cur," and Mr. Byington retorted by addressing Heney as a "trailing dog."

Between quarrels, the re-cross-examination of James L. Gallagher, who has occupied the witness stand since last Tuesday, was concluded, and Coleman, a former Supervisor, was called in his place.

Coleman's direct examination occupied less than three-quarters of an hour, but in that period it was made apparent that the witness was not in entire accord with replies he had previously made to the prosecution. His cross-examination was undertaken by Mr. Rogers, who first questioned the witness about his understanding of the immunity contract with Rudolph Spreckels, and later elicited from Coleman a statement to the effect that all the people of San Francisco were enthusiastic concerning the resumption of street car service after the fire of 1906.

"CURS" AND "DOGS."

"I never take any notice of a barking cur," said Heney to Lewis F. Byington in this morning's session.

"I may be a cur," said Byington, rising to his feet, "but I am not a trailing dog, as you are."

Judge Lawlor, hastening to intervene as the warring attorneys stepped toward one another, warned the combatants that such language would not be tolerated, whereupon Heney, addressing at once the court and the five attorneys on the defense side of the room, said:

"I have heretofore notified the court that I do not intend to be assailed by any person engaged in this case. I stood it for months when I was opposed by Henry Ach, but, so help me God, I will not stand for it again. I shall not play the baby and appeal to the court protection, because I conceive it to be the court's duty to intervene when these attacks are instituted. I serve notice again that my character must not be assailed. When we come to the argument to the jury, then you are at liberty to say anything you please."

LIE IS PASSED.

The outburst was the first that has occurred in several days, and marked the end of a long argument relating to admission of testimony given by James L. Gallagher on re-direct examination. As the attorneys alternated in their

ABUSE DROVE PATTEN AWAY.

His Wife Is Wearied of the Continued Publicity.

Denies She Used Influence to End Corner.

Says She Never Presumes in Husband's Affairs.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. James A. Patten, the wife of the man who has been advertised far and wide as the manipulator of the wheat "corner," today denied a New York dispatch which credited her with influencing her husband to get out of his wheat deal and said she had prayed for low-priced wheat.

"As to that dispatch, there is absolutely no foundation for it, I never presume in my husband's affairs. And I am sorry that this publicity does not cease."

Mrs. Patten's conversation indicated that the continual publicity and abuse heaped by amateur and uninformed writers on her husband were partially responsible for his trip to his partner's ranch in New Mexico.

Mrs. Patten told of the many annoyances which she suffered because of the publicity given her husband's wealth. Begging letters from every part of the United States, from Maine to California were received continuously, she said. "Every time a paper in some distant place printed some foolish thing about my husband we receive a lot of mail," she said, "and the requests made in letters include everything from a violin to a $1.50 tablecover. Now that my husband is away I have some of his, besides my own mail to look after, and with my other duties it keeps me pretty busy."

One thing Mrs. Patten is proud of. That is her husband's honesty.

"I know that my husband is honest," she said as she escorted her interviewer to the door. "He has never tricked any one and he told every one what he was doing when he began to buy wheat."

Mrs. Patten's activity as a charitable worker is praised by her neighbors. While she declined to discuss what she was doing for other people, her friends shed some light on this phase of her life.

"In everything that is good, true, noble and deserving, you will find Mrs. Patten," said Mrs. Catherine Waugh McCulloch, only woman judge in the county. "She dresses unostentatiously and you will find many women in Evanston whose means are not as great as Mrs. Patten's dressed as well as she is."

RIOTERS EXECUTED.

DURANGO (Mex.) April 27.—Official reports of the recent rioting at Velardina, following the stopping by the municipal authorities of a religious parade, show that no less than twenty-five men were executed after summary trial by court-martial for participating in the rioting. Besides these, seven men were killed during the rioting, and forty men are still in prison awaiting trial on charges of participating in the riot.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 27.—William Smith, a soldier of the Civil War, was found dead today in his room.

AEROPLANE FOR GERMANY.

Assistant to Wright Brothers Starts for Berlin to Set Up Two Machines.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ROME, April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Duval La Chapelle of Chicago, who is here assisting the Wright brothers, is going to Berlin with instructions to set up two aëroplanes in readiness for the arrival of the inventors in mid-summer when flying trials will begin in Germany.

Wilbur Wright will leave Rome tomorrow for Washington, to arrange for the purchase by the government, of the American rights of his aëroplane, and to give the army and navy officers instructions in aviation. The Wright brothers are deluged with requests from both sides of the Atlantic to sell aëroplanes and give instruction to the army in navigating the air. These offers necessarily have been refused. Orville Wright soon will resume work, as he has recovered from his accident.

Mr. La Chapelle is enthusiastic on the subject of aviation, which, he says, will be the cheapest and quickest means of transportation of the future.

SUES MILLIONAIRE HUSBAND.

Wife of Theatrical Manager Declares He Deserted Her—His Estate Tied Up.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

DENVER (Colo.) April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Charles R. Keener, theatrical manager, son of the late millionaire cattle king, Frederick A. Keener, and once proprietor of the famous "Red Devil" automobile, is defendant in a divorce suit in the district court, and the entire estate of the Keener Real Estate and Cattle Company, valued at $500,000, is tied up in the proceedings.

Mrs. Hazel Keener alleges that Keener deserted her more than one year ago, and that his whereabouts is kept a secret, except from the officers of the real estate and cattle company, who remit to him monthly his portion of the earnings of the company. She charges a conspiracy in the forming of the company to keep the estate from her.

OBITUARY.

Samuel E. Bruckman.

SAN JOSE, April 27.—Samuel E. Bruckman, a retired capitalist and pioneer mining operator of Leadville, Colo., died last night in this city where he came four years ago to better his health. He leaves a daughter, Mrs. Rose S. Grove of St. Louis and a son, Ernest Bruckman of New York. At one time he was prominent as a business man in Quincy, Ill.

George Hark, Sr.

RENO (Nev.) April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] George Hark, Sr., a pioneer, and for many years chief weigher at the United States mint at Carson City and a veteran of the Civil War, was stricken with paralysis today and died at his home in Sparks, Nev. While in a store he exclaimed, "I am so tired," and fell over on the floor. Hark came across the plains during the Indian days and first settled in San Francisco. He afterward took an active part in the activities of the Comstock at Virginia City. He was one of the best-known pioneers in the Far West.

Joseph W. Babcock.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Former Representative Joseph W. Babcock of Wisconsin, for fourteen years a member of the lower house of Congress, and for many years chairman of the National Republican Congressional Committee, died at his home here this morning, aged 59. As chairman of the Republican Congressional Committee, Mr. Babcock managed six campaigns for the election of a Republican house, not one of which did he lose.

INGRATITUDE.

PETTED WIFE LEAVES BROKEN FINANCIER.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BALTIMORE (Md.) April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The beautiful young wife of Gen. Alfred E. Booth, who lost most of his large fortune in the financial crash of the Booth Company of Chicago, has left him and is now residing with an aunt in Philadelphia. It is said that she was too proud to bear up under the financial reverses of her husband, who for years was a director and resident manager in Baltimore of the big Chicago concern.

Mrs. Booth was formerly Miss Shryock, daughter of Gen. Thomas J. Shryock, a prominent business man, one of the leading Masons in the country, and treasurer of the State under the administration of Gov. Lowndes the only Republican Governor Maryland has had since the Civil War.

It was during the Lowndes administration, ten years ago, that Miss Shryock was married to Gen. Booth, who is many years her senior. Reared in luxury the young bride's every whim and wish were indulged by Gen. Booth, who at that time was counted one of Baltimore's wealthiest citizens. He built for her one of the most palatial homes in the city, overlooking Druid Lake, and furnished in the most extravagant style. Recently when financial reverses came, the general sold this beautiful home and took apartments at a fashionable hotel.

The manner in which he remained game and put up his money to tide over the financial difficulties of the Booth Company won for him the admiration of business men everywhere and general regret was expressed by the people of Baltimore at the announcement that his house, his automobile and other luxuries would be disposed of.

The loss of the mansion in which she had entertained so lavishly was a sore blow to Mrs. Booth. She left the city in February for Palm Beach. Then she returned and went to Atlantic City and subsequently to Philadelphia.

"During all our married life," said Gen. Booth tonight, "I gave my wife everything she desired. Our relations are amicable outside of money matters."

FIFTY LEFT.

GOVERNOR HAS ONLY TODAY TO SIGN BILLS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SACRAMENTO, April 27.—Tomorrow is the last day remaining out of the thirty since the session of the Legislature closed, on which Gov. Gillett may exercise his prerogative of signing bills.

Of the 875 bills that passed the muster of the two legislative houses, the Governor has disposed of all but fifty.

As follows are among the more important bills remaining unsigned:

Senate No. 115, Black.—Authorizing the formation of fraternal fire insurance associations.

Senate No. 853, Caminetti.—Declaring it a crime for any person to induce any person to join any spurious secret society.

Senate No. 548, Stetson.—Providing that when an order is made transferring an action to another county, the costs must be paid by the party at whose instance the order was made when the action was originally commenced in the proper county, in all other cases the costs to be borne by the plaintiff.

Senate No. 33, Wolfe.—Appropriating $500,000 for a trades school in San Francisco.

Senate No. 998, Welch.—Providing for the formation of water districts by cities, the acquirement of water plants, and their government.

Senate No. 812, Curtin.—Insuring the better training and qualifications of persons acting as chauffeurs.

Senate No. 1204, Bills.—Appropriating $160,000 for a new State printing office.

Senate No. 374, Anthony.—Limiting the hours of labor for cooks and waiters to ten hours a day within fourteen hours.

Assembly No. 44, Beardsley.—Amending the act creating a firemen's relief fund.

Assembly No. 882, Barndollar.—Repealing the compulsory vaccination law and providing that vaccination shall be practiced only when smallpox exists.

Assembly No. 938, Hans.—Providing that teachers shall be paid while in attendance upon teachers' institutes, providing school is in progress at the time.

Assembly No. 154, Beatty.—Providing that after condemnation suits, cities may have six months within which to sell bonds for the payments upon property.

Assembly No. 1152, Johnston.—Amending the act regulating the practice of veterinary medicine.

Assembly No. 1369, Greer.—Authorizing the property owners on Wood Island to sue the State for damages by reason of the construction of jetties at Newtown.

Assembly No. 919, Greer.—Authorizing the formation of the American River Drainage district.

Assembly No. 133, Maher.—Turning the government of the California Redwood Forest near Santa Cruz over to a commission.

"DRYS" WIN IN BITTER FIGHT.

Carry Indiana County by a Large Majority.

Citizens of Muncie Vote for Local Option.

Anti-Liquor Question Undimmed by Politics.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] When election was held in September, in Delaware county, to fill a vacancy in the Legislature, the anti-local option advocates succeeded in electing a man who was pledged against the passage of the county local option bill, and at the regular election in November the same element elected a representative who was in favor of a repeal of the law enacted at a special session. Today the question of local option was presented to the people of the county, separated entirely from politics, and the local option forces have won by a majority of 2952.

The city of Muncie, with a population of 25,000, and the largest city in which the question of local option has been tested, overcame the dry vote in both the special and regular elections last fall, but today it gave majority 205 for the "drys."

The campaign has been one of the most bitter ever conducted in the State, and the victory is a most pronounced one for the local option. Eighty-two saloons were at stake, and for more than a month brewers and outside saloons have been sending speakers into the county, while the local optionists have had mass meetings in all parts of the country, and have had noted temperance workers from many other States to assist in the campaign.

ANOTHER SECRET.

NAN PATTERSON MYSTERY WOMAN.

DAILY VISITOR AT BEDSIDE OF INJURED BANKER.

Paying Teller of Washington Bank, Suffering from Mysterious Pistol Wound, Is Recipient of Attentions from Accused Slayer of Bookmaker in New York.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Nan Patterson, the chorus girl who was tried in New York for the murder of Caesar Young, a bookmaker, is again in the limelight here, as "the woman of mystery," who has been a daily visitor at the bedside of B. Stevens, paying teller of the United States Savings Bank. Stevens was mysteriously shot, it is said, by a negro while he and another employé were at the bank Saturday last.

J. M. Baker, Jr., son of the vice-president of the bank, was with Stevens at the time, and, although contrary statements were at first made as to the occurrence, the two men now say that Stevens was attacked by a negro, who afterward escaped.

Miss Patterson is living with her parents at the Beran, and Stevens recently began boarding with them. Baker is said to also know the Pattersons.

Miss Patterson's interest in Stevens's welfare adds still further mystery to the affair, which has so far baffled the police. She is said to have begun her visits to the hospital as soon as she learned of Stevens's injuries. She has been seen to visit the bank occasionally, but did not go near it on the day preceding the shooting, nor that night.

JAPS FLOCK EASTWARD.

Seven Hundred Subjects of Mikado Reach Chicago and More Are Coming.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Chicago is experiencing an unprecedented invasion of Japanese. It is said a single lodging house at Fifty-first and Clark streets is the headquarters for 700 new arrivals. Three months ago there were only 200 in the whole city.

The newcomers are artisans, domestic servants and laborers, all strong and vigorous. They assert they were driven by persecution from California and other Pacific Coast States. Others are to follow them.

T. Takahatchi, whose forefather helped lay the corner-stone of the Mikado's palace in Tokio, and who makes his living as a teamster for a tea house at No. 1207 Clark street, declared that at the present rate of immigration there will soon be more Japanese in the East than in the West.

"Those who are coming this way now," he added, "are used to manual labor. They will not confine themselves to work in private families, hotels and clubs, as did most of their predecessors. They are tending toward trade unionism."

CHICAGO TO HAVE OPERA.

Wealthy Citizen of the Windy City Gives One Million Dollars for the Project.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Plans of a definite nature are being developed to give Chicago a permanent home for grand opera. These plans are based on a gift of $1,000,000, by a wealthy Chicagoan, whom gossip declares to be J. Ogden Armour.

Persistent siege has been laid to Mr. Armour for months by local music lovers, who believe that Chicago should have a permanent company of trained artists to furnish at least two seasons of grand opera during the winter. Armour is said to have evinced great willingness to hear all they had to say on the subject, and to have given them encouragement to hope for definite results.

In addition to the $1,000,000, which will be used in the erection of a suitable building, the project includes the raising of a fund of $500,000 to be contributed by fifty Chicagoans. Fifty have been selected, and will be asked to give $10,000 each to insure the success of the venture.

HOT AFTER SMOKERS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, Aprid 27.—Smoking on the street cars and elevated railroad trains is to be prohibited by law, if recommendations made to Mayor Busse and the City Council by City Traction Expert Herely, are carried out. In his annual report he declares that smokers are a common nuisance and should be suppressed. The ordinance prohibiting spitting on floors or platforms of cars never will be effectually enforced until smoking is abolished, according to Mr. Herely. He says he makes the recommendation in the interests of public health and comfort, as smoking is offensive to the great majority.

DECLARE WAR ON COMICS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, April 27.—The Nineteenth Century Club of Oak Park, has begun a campaign to eliminate the comic supplement of the Sunday newspaper. Many women assert the pranks depicted in the funny pages have had a bad influence on their children, who are apt to be imitative. One woman declared that on returning home late one evening she discovered her dog running about the house with her husband's dress shirt, collar and cravat dangling from its neck.

PYROMANIAC ESCAPES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, April 27.—Andrew Hanson, a pyromaniac, who was committed to the insane asylum at Elgin in January, has escaped and is still at large. The police of Chicago are keeping a sharp lookout for him and the fire department is on edge, past experience with the escapades of Hanson having taught the firemen that trouble comes in bunches when he is not restrained. His vagaries covers a period of several years and he is accused of starting more than 100 fires.

PATHETIC SITUATION.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, April 27.—A pathetic story of Adlai E. Stevenson's illness at a hospital here has just come to light. During the time the former Vice-President lay ill, his sister, Mrs. E. S. McCaughrey, died, and two days later his brother, W. M. Stevenson, also passed away. Fearing the effect of this news on the patient's mind, and fearing the danger of accidental disclosure, his Chicago friends decided to send for his wife and to have her gently tell him of one of the deaths. When he recovered from the shock of the operation and the shock of the first information of death, he was to be told of the death of his sister. Mrs. Stevenson arrived Sunday morning, and told her husband of the death of his brother. In the afternoon Judge Kohlsaat visited the distinguished patient. Mr. Stevenson spoke to the judge of the great blow his brother's death had been to him. Judge Kohlsaat remarked: "Yes, indeed, it must have been a severe shock, coming along with the death of your sister." That was the former Vice-President's first inkling of the second tragedy.

PLAN BIG PEACE BANQUET.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, April 27.—The banquet by the Chicago Association of Commerce to the visiting delegates to the National Peace Congress, May 5, will be the largest in the history of the local organization. The officers of the peace congress have joined with the officers of the association in securing speakers of national and international fame.

FOR SPEED MANIACS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

HAMMOND (Ind.) April 27.—The police here have devised a new plan to quench the ardor of the automobile scorcher, whose favorite stretch for speeding is Calumet avenue. Midway along this thoroughfare a field telephone will be installed and worked by an officer, who will send information to the farther end of the approach of the violator of the speed ordinance. Here will be established a water gun with a three-inch nozzle and 100 pounds pressure to the inch. It is claimed that on the refusal of the chauffeur to stop when ordered a stream will be turned upon him with a force sufficient to lift him out of the machine without inflicting serious injury.

SEEK CAPTURED FLAG.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

LANSING (Mich.) April 27.—Gov. Warner has received from the Department of Archives and History of the State of Alabama a letter asking if the flag of the First Alabama Cavalry is at present in Michigan. The flag in question was captured during the Civil War by the Fourth Michigan Cavalry at Middletown, Tenn., and is preserved in the collection of the Michigan Pioneer and Historical Society at Lansing. The matter has been referred to Col. James Cox.

HOME FOR CRIPPLED CHILDREN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

LANSING (Mich.) April 27.—A movement is on foot for converting the Federal school for Indians at Mount Pleasant, Mich., into a State home for crippled, dependent children. There have been frequent rumors that the institution was in danger of being dropped from the list of government Indian schools, and State Senator Moriarity has taken up with United States Senator Burrows the question of having the Federal government deed the property over to the State of Michigan. Children not well in mind and body are by State excluded from the State home for dependent children at Cold Water, and there has been frequent occasions when the authorities have been puzzled to make suitable provision for dependent children who had the additional misfortune of being crippled.

MEETS DEATH, NOT BRIDE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

ST. LOUIS, April 27.—Instead of being a bride today, Mrs. L. E. Stone, who was to marry Alvin C. Little this afternoon, is mourning his death. Little was killed last night by a street car while on his way to the home of Mrs. Stone for his last ante-nuptial call. Mrs. Stone collapsed when she heard of her fiance's death.

ADVERTISE FOR POPULATION.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

ST. LOUIS, April 27.—The Million Population Club has decided that the city's population can be increased by the expenditure of $100,000 and the municipal assembly will be asked to appropriate that sum. This action was decided on last night. The idea is that one half of the amount shall be spent with local newspapers in monthly supplements, dealing with the advantages of St. Louis. The other half is to be spent for magazine and billboard advertising and circulars.

EVENT AT BANQUETS.

NATIVE SONS VOTE AGAINST INTOXICANTS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

MARYSVILLE, April 27.—The defeat of Carroll Cook's amendment to the rule that no intoxicants should be used at Native Son banquets and entertainments; the selection of Lake Tahoe as the next meeting place of the Grand Parlor, and the naming of San José for the Admission Day celebration, were the chief features of the second day's session of the Grand Parlor, Native Sons of the Golden West.

The attendance today was larger by forty delegates than it was yesterday. A per capita tax of $1 on members was voted today, 50 cents to be paid in July and 50 cents in January, the proceeds to be applied in buying stock in the hall association of the organization.

The Yuba county delegation has offered a resolution providing for the erection of a monument at Camp Far West, on Bear River, Yuba county, where the Donner party first camped. The delegates favor the plan and arrangements will be made.

Monterey county gave notice that it will ask for the Grand Parlor meeting of 1910.

Treasurer John McDougald introduced resolutions eulogizing John C. Fremont and commending "our heroes" to the Grand Parlor.

Dr. Turner introduced a resolution providing that all persons over 50 years of age, or who have been rejected by examining physicians, be made associate members of the order.

The Grand Parlor accepted the proposition of Placerville and Georgetown parlors to take up a twenty-three-acre tract of land adjoining Marshall monument at Coloma, on which to establish and maintain a home for aged Native Sons. The home is to be established in a building already on the ground.

The Palo Alto Parlor of San José will change its name to the Garden City Parlor, and the University Parlor of Palo Alto will change its name to Palo Alto Parlor.

Tonight the Native Daughters gave the delegates a reception at Armory Hall which was attended by 2000.

There will be no session tomorrow, as all delegates are going on an excursion to Oroville and Chico.

"LOST BIRD."

BY CANOE ON HONEYMOON.

TRAPPER WINS BEAUTIFUL INDIAN MAIDEN AS BRIDE.

Wedding One Day After First Meeting and on Saturday Will Start from Portland for Hudson Bay and Thence to Atlantic, All the Way by Boat.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PORTLAND, April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Meeting for the first time an Indian maiden last night, marrying her tonight and setting forth next Saturday on a honeymoon trip in a canoe from Portland to Hudson Bay and the Atlantic seaboard, is the unusual, not to say startling, experience of Albert Chalivat, a young Canadian Frenchman.

Zintka Launi (Lost Bird) is a Sioux girl and she will play the part of a modern Minnehaha in being borne away by her lover in his staunch canoe.

Chalivat is nothing if not impetuous. He loves to do the unusual things and to startle people. He is 25 years old. He had planned the trip across the continent, making the trip entirely by canoe, with a short carry at Griscom Portage. He had expected to have two men for his companions on the trip, but last night he met Lost Bird. This changed all his plans.

His bride apparently loved him for the dangers he has faced, for he has been an inveterate canoeist and trapper. The girl insists that she will be answering the call of the wild and will enjoy the long trip to the utmost.

She has had a strange history. Found when a baby on the battlefield of Wounded Knee, after her Sioux parents had been killed together with many of her tribe, she was adopted by Gen. Colby, in command of the United States troops, and was educated as well as any American girl. She is 19 years old and has been living with Mrs. Colby, editor of the Woman's Tribune, in Portland and Washington, D. C.

FINED FOR HYDRAULIC MINING.

Miners Found Guilty of Violating Anti-debris Law by Operations in Yuba River.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

YUBA CITY, April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In the Superior Court today, John Black, charged with George West and others, with violating the anti-debris law by hydraulic mining on the watershed of the Yuba River, was fined $500.

Sentence was suspended, however, for five hundred days, and if Black desists from his operations the fine probably will be remitted. United States Dist.-Atty. Devlin prosecuted the case.

Black and others were caught by watchmen of the anti-debris association, mining illegally. The injunction against the Pennsylvania Gold Dredging Company at Oroville, was reinstated. This company was found to be damaging Feather River by allowing debris to escape into the stream.

MRS. SIMS GETS DIVORCE.

Wife of Prominent St. Louis Surgeon Granted Decree on Grounds of Cruelty and Desertion.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RENO (Nev.) April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.]] Enola A. Sims, wife of Dr. John Sims, a prominent physician and surgeon of St. Louis, and nephew of the noted surgeon, J. Marion Sims of New York City, was divorced here today by a decree handed down by Judge John Orr, out of the district court.

Appearance was made by the husband, and demurrer filed, but was overruled. The ground of action was that of cruelty, desertion and failure to provide. According to the complaint, the couple were married in Illinois. Shortly after, her husband left her and refused to provide the necessaries of life for herself and her little daughter. She has been ever since forced to look after herself, receiving assistance from her mother.

No alimony was involved in the complaint, the request that she be given the custody of her child, being granted in the decree. Mrs. Sims is in poor health, and has been a resident of this city for several months, in an effort to regain her health.

INSURANCE MAN ROBBED.

LOSES GOLD AND DIAMOND.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RENO (Nev.) April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] George C. Richards, an insurance man giving his address as Los Angeles, while boarding the westbound Goldfield train for San Francisco here last night, was robbed of his purse containing $25 and a valuable diamond ribbon watch chain. Richards was stepping into one of the Pullman cars and he felt a hand in his pocket, and turned to see what it meant but observed nothing conspicuous and did not realize that his pocket had been picked until the train left the depot. He placed the ribbon chain with its diamond-mounted buckle in the purse in the presence of the proprietor of a local hotel and had just walked across the street to the train when the theft occurred.

DOGGED.

MEXICAN "REDS" FIGHTING HARD.

COUNSEL TO MAKE STRUGGLE FOR THEIR FREEDOM.

Trial of Alleged Revolutionary Leaders Opened—Prosecution Challenges Entire Panel of Grand Jury. Signs Point to Coming Strenuous Legal Battle.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

TOMBSTONE (Ariz.) April 27.—That every legal point is to be strenuously fought in favor of Magon, Villareal and Revera, the three alleged revolutionists, who are to be tried on the charge of violating neutrality laws was shown today in the United States Court, when Atty. W. B. Cleary for the prisoners challenged the entire panel of the grand jury on the ground that same was not drawn according to law. He asserted that the special venire was summoned from the body of the district instead of being drawn as an original venire.

The objection was overruled by the court. Later, when examining the jurors as to their qualifications, the first tilt between counsel occurred. Cleary asked a juror if he would follow the United States attorney or his own judgment when voting on a bill in the jury-room. United States Attorney J. B. L. Alexander objected emphatically to the question.

The three prisoners are to enter plea on two indictments on Thursday next. It is believed other charges are to be presented to the grand jury. The defense has formally objected to the procedure in order that record may be perfected as basis for claiming illegality of probable indictments.

The three prisoners are closely guarded by United States officials. The appearance of the leaders of the Mexican revolutionary movement attracts large attendance at court, and much interest centers about their coming trial.

SCHORNSTEIN SEEKS DIVORCE.

BRINGS SUIT IN RENO.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

RENO, April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Suit for divorce was filed today in the District Court by Rudolph Schornstein against his wife, Bella Schornstein, the ground of action being desertion. The couple were married in Berlin, Germany, in March, 1896, and his wife left him in that city in February, 1901.

Schornstein came to Reno several months ago from Los Angeles. It is said that he was banished from Germany as a punishment for engaging in a duel with an army officer of prominence. He is a son of the head of the famous Keiferhoff brewery of Berlin and other German cities.

WOMEN HAVE COCAINE.

KICK OFF OFFICER'S HAT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE, April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Open rebellion and defiance of the officers in charge of the United States Detention Station created a sensation here today, when two French women, Mignon Boucher and Marie Cailliot, held as witnesses against Leon Jubert, charged with importing women for immoral purposes, were removed from the station to the King County Jail.

They were searched by the matron on arrival and the Mignon woman was discovered to have $5 and a package of morphine tablets and one of cocaine, hidden in her belt. The Boucher woman had $55 in cash and a hypodermic syringe. The money was in her hosiery, and the "gun" in her belt. Both were in excellent humor, having loaded up on stimulants before their trip to jail.

One of the women, on being requested to take off her slipper, did so, kicking off the hat of a deputy sheriff standing near. For three weeks the women have been creating a disturbance at the detention shed, violating rules of discipline. They rebelled against the order to keep within their own quarters. An investigation will be had as to how they came to have in their possession money, morphine and cocaine.

STATE FORESTER SAFE.

Gov. Gillett Announces He Will Not Sign Bill Which Would Remove Lull.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Gov. Gillett has set at rest all talk of removing State Forester Lull from the command of the California redwood forest near Santa Cruz. He has written A. S. Palmer of Santa Cruz that the Maher bill to put the forest in control of a commission will not be signed.

The Governor says while Lull cut down certain trees that in the executive's opinion should not have been cut, the damage cannot be undone and is not likely to be repeated. The trouble arose over the removal of certain trees Lull declared were dead, and the Santa Cruz people raised strenuous objections, striving to secure Lull's removal by legislative action.

READS OWN OBITUARY TWICE.

Dr. Baldwin Returns to Edmonton Home After Long Absence; Friends Thought Him Dead.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA, April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Long thought dead and having twice read his own obituary notice in the newspapers, Dr. Baldwin, one of the old-timers of Edmonton, and for years medical officer in the Royal Northwest Mounted Police, has returned to Edmonton, after twelve years' absence, much to the surprise of his old friends, all of whom thought him dead years ago.

Since leaving a dozen years ago, the doctor traveled in various parts of the country, finally settling in San Francisco, where he practiced his profession for some time, until the recent death of his wife. Dr. Baldwin left Edmonton when it was little more than a hamlet of huts surrounded by brush. He finds on his return it is grown to a metropolis, with the old trails transformed into paved streets and the ox carts superseded by the automobile and street car.

Several years ago Dr. Baldwin was reported in San Francisco as having been lost while making a trip with a pilot off San Francisco harbor. One of the dailies printed half a column of obituary notice.

MADE GREEKS YIELD GRAFT.

ESPEE EMPLOYEES DISCHARGED

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SACRAMENTO, April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] General Foreman I. W. Fleming, Chief Clerk I. C. May and other employés of the Southern Pacific Roseville car shops, have been dismissed following a hearing of charges against them. Assistant Superintendent Bowles and Resident Engineer Harrington, Traveling Passenger Agent Drake, Assistant Superintendent Baker and Assistant Superintendent Antony of the Coast division constituted a board of inquiry. May was found guilty of falsifying his personal record to defraud a creditor and Fleming permitted him to do so. Others were charged with collecting fees from Greeks given employment. General Foreman S. S. Fredericks was charged with using company materials for himself. His case is under advisement.

SCOTT IGNORES OTHER SOLONS.

Tells Chair He "Doesn't Care What They Do."

West Virginia Senator Asks for Protection.

Says Dingley Bill Benefits Whole Country.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, April 27.—As the last half of his two days' speech Senator Bailey devoted nearly three hours in the Senate today, to a discussion of the legal aspect of his income tax amendment to the tariff bill, he citing numerous cases and authorities to maintain the view that such a law would be constitutional.

He was interrupted frequently by Senators, who at times objected to his position, or suggested authorities to sustain him. Mr. Scott spoke on the tariff with special reference to its effect on the South. Mr. Gore of Oklahoma, denounced the protective tariff.

SCOTT TALKS PROTECTION.

"Mr. President, I do not wish to be called to order," said Senator Scott of West Virginia upon beginning his speech on the tariff today, when Vice-President Sherman undertook to maintain quiet in the chamber.

"I do not expect this argument to change a vote," added Mr. Scott, "and consequently I am entirely indifferent whether Senators retire to the lobbies or indulge in conversation, because I do not care whether they listen to my remarks or not."

"The chair does care," replied Mr. Sherman.

Mr. Scott's remarks were listened to by many Senators, who gave him strict attention. He advocated protection, he said, not only because he believed it was the best policy, not only for his own State of West Virginia and for the South, but also for the entire country. He asserted that when Congress had completed the enactment of the pending tariff bill "we will not have nearly so good a bill, in my judgment, as the present Dingley law. New England, for instance, profited in the past; now she is ready for a downward revision of the tariff and for free coal if she can get it. But the southland sees ahead of her nothing but prosperity under a protective tariff. She has developed more rapidly in manufactures than any other portion of our country."

COUNTERVAILING DUTY UNFAIR.

He insisted that raw material and cheap fuel still would be lying undeveloped if it had not been for a protective tariff, but that a countervailing duty on coal was a great injustice to the coal mining industry. He declared his absolute and utter opposition to a countervailing duty. He declared that if the rate on lumber should be reduced—48 per cent. of all the lumber manufactured, in the United States being produced in the South—there would be nothing left for the American lumbermen to do but to cut wages. Lower wages, also, he said would follow the cuts of tariff rates on iron and steel products.

He asserted with respect to the oil industry that less than 10 per cent. of the crude oil of the country, was produced by the Standard Oil Company, and he declared he did not propose "to let any Populistic howling, influence me in what I see my duty in regard to taking care of the independent oil producers in my States."

Senator Gore of Oklahoma declared he had been reliably informed that in the rich Pocahontas coal mines of West Virginia, wages were less than in Nova Scotia and England. This statement was denied by Mr. Elkins. Mr. Clark of Wyoming declared that the coal miners of his State were paid the highest rate of wages paid in any State or county, and said that that condition of prosperity would be destroyed by free coal.

BAILEY SCORES OPPONENTS.

Mr. Bailey quoted from court opinions and other authorities to substantiate his contention respecting the constitutionality of an incime tax. He denounced the men who resist the income tax as inquisitorial, as calculated to make the United States a "nation of liars."

"That this tax is inquisitorial," said Mr. Bailey, "is true, but not more so than any other tax. To compel me to tell the source of my income, as is done in the State in which I live, is as inquisitorial as to compel me to tell the amount of my income. Every tax must be inquisitorial, because otherwise the honest men would pay it and the dishonest men would escape it.

"I don't think a self-respecting American citizen will lie to escape paying a tax, and if I should find a man who would commit perjury to escape taxation I would favor disfranchising him. It may be that rich men will tell a lie to avoid paying an income tax, but I will not say so, although some of them say it of themselves."

The rich man, Mr. Bailey said, should be willing to pay for the protection of his property, over which armies and navies "stand in solemn guard."

For himself, if he were counsel for the rich, he said, he would advise them not only to support, but to advocate an income tax law.

"And if they would do that," said Mr. Bailey, "they would do more to silence anarchy than all the benefactions and charities they can do. It seems to me there are rich men who are willing to give benefactions in order to have them published, who are not willing to pay their fair portion of the expenses of the government."

As Mr. Bailey concluded, he was congratulated by a large number of Democratic and Republican Senators.

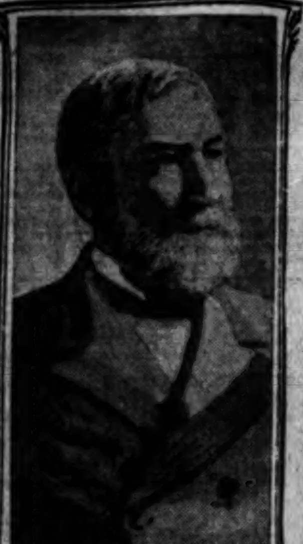
VALUE GOOD ROADS.

POSTAL OFFICIALS TICKLED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, April 27.—As an instance of the good service by reason of the Postoffice Department requirement that roads be maintained in good condition for travel throughout the year, and the department coöperation with county officials and good roads associations, Assistant Postmaster-General De Graw has called attention to the fact that at a recent election in San Joaquin county, Cal., it was decided by a vote of 2 to 1 to issue bonds to the amount of $1,890,000 for the building of stone highways. These roads, when completed, will embrace at least 75 per cent. of the 225 miles of road covered by rural carriers in that county.

"While many appropriations have been made by States for the improvement of highways," said Mr. De Graw, "there has not been known in the knowledge of postal officials another instance in which any one could have provided such a sum for the purpose or contemplated the rebuilding of so many miles of highway."



Senator Scott

of West Virginia, who yesterday spoke in favor of protective tariff.

FIXED UP.

PRESIDENT'S TRIP WEST ASSURED.

APPROPRIATION WILL DISPOSE OF FINANCIAL DIFFICULTY.

Congressman Tawney, After Seeing Mr. Taft, States Intention of Introducing Bill in House Calling for $25,000 to Defray Expenses of Visit to Coast and Alaska.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Representative Tawney, chairman of the House Committee on Appropriations, talked with the President today about the latter's plans for an extensive tour through the West late this summer. At the conclusion of the interview Mr. Tawney said he would place a bill before the House, appropriating $25,000 for the President's traveling expenses during the coming fiscal year.

Mr. Tawney said a false impression had gone abroad that he was opposed to such a measure. He said he did not know until today definitely that President Taft desired to go West this summer and take a run up to Alaska—one portion of United States territory upon which Mr. Taft has never set foot. No President of the United States has ever visited Alaska.

Mr. Tawney said he had no doubt his measure would pass the House without objection. If unanimous consent could not be secured, however, the bill might be called up under a special rule.

Already, in the Senate, several propositions to set aside $25,000 for the President's traveling expenses are pending and no doubt is expressed in getting the appropriation through that body.

SEEK SUBSTITUTE FEATURE.

OPPOSE MAXIMUM-MINIMUM.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Numerous conferences were held between Republican members of the Senate today to further consider the substitute for the maximum and minimum feature of the Payne bill, which will be submitted to the Senate from the Committee on Finance.

The provision has been completed except articles on the free list that are to be taxed specifically when imported from countries that fail to give to the United States the advantage of their best rates.

Experimentally the committee has fixed a tax of 10 cents a pound on coffee and 10 cents a pound on tea in order to illustrate the operation of such a provision. These taxes could not go into effect except as applied to countries that discriminated against the United States, and then only upon proclamation by the President.

The specific taxes are to be named solely for trading purposes in campaigns to extend the markets in all parts of the world to American products.

It was practically decided today that the amendment providing for the application of the rates noted in the bill would not be presented to the Senate until after all the other administrative features have been worked out.

WASHINGTON BRIEFS.

Harlan Denies Rumor.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Justice Harlan denies that he intends to be a candidate for the office of moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly, which meets in Denver next month. He states that he has no intention of attending the General Assembly, and has not been elected delegate from his presbytery.

Ward Off Land Hogs.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Secretary of the Interior Ballinger is determined, if possible, to prevent monopolistic or speculative interests from securing control of water power sites, and to that end he instructed the director of the Geological Survey today to investigate such natual resources under the public domain outside of national forests, which are not included within withdrawals for reclamation purposes. Secretary Ballinger will report the findings of this investigation to Congress.

Advocates Income Tax.

WASHINGTON, April 27. — That "Congress shall have power to lay and collect taxes on incomes and inheritances," is the declaration of a constitutional amendment proposed by Senator Brown of Nebraska in the Senate today.

New Los Angeles Letter Carriers.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Letter carriers appointed: Bakersfield, Harry E. Wolford; Los Angeles, Walter L. Reese, Herbert W. Stover, Samuel W. Niles, John C. Bruce, George H. Judkins, Amos J. Buchanan.

Postmasters Permitted to Come.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] An order has been signed by Postmaster-General Hitchcock granting postmasters of first, second and third classes in California leave of absence for as many days, not exceeding seven, as may be necessary to enable them to attend the second annual convention of the California Presidential Postmasters' Association, to be held at Los Angeles July 20, 21 and 22.

RAILWAY RECORD.

MERGER DEATH OF COMPETITION

Testimony for Government in the Harriman Suit.

Alleged Illegal Combination Fights Dissolution.

No Special Effort Now Made to Secure Business.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SALT LAKE CITY, April 27.—The introduction of testimony in the suit of the United States government to dissolve the alleged illegal combination of the Union Pacific, the Southern Pacific and affiliated lines for the purpose of crushing competition was begun in this city today before Special Examiner Sylvester G. Williams. The government was represented by C. A. Severance of St. Paul, Glen E. Husted of Washington and Charles A. Page of New York, and the interests of the railway companies were cared for by R. S. Lovett of New York, chief counsel for the Harriman system, and N. H. Loomis.

W. S. McCarthy, traffic manager of a local hardware company and a former railroad man, testified that prior to the railway merger in 1891 competition for general merchandise and wool business was keen between the Union Pacific and the Southern Pacific agents, but that since the alleged combination was effected no special effort had been made, so far as he was aware of, to secure the routing of business over either one of these lines, as the business is handled over the most convenient line. He also testified that after the alleged combination the freight time schedules between Omaha and Utah had been doubled and that the lengthened schedule was not always maintained.

S. H. Babcock, manager of the commercial club freight traffic bureau, testified along similar lines. Describing the competition existing before the merger, he said: "One company even went so far as to pay a government tax on sheep between the States of Idaho and Montana in order to get the shipping of the wool."

Mr. Babcock said that the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake had refused to quote a through rate to San Francisco and had informed him that the rate on freight shipments to Daggett, Cal., and thence by the Santa Fé to San Francisco, would be the sum of the local rates. The conclusion reached by the witness was that the only through rate obtainable from Salt Lake is on the Southern Pacific.

He was questioned regarding the method of making through rates and said the rates were fixed by the freight association in secret session, the details of which he preferred not to give.

David Eccles, an Ogden business man, told of his experience in making lumber shipments from Hood River, Or. Formerly he shipped via the Oregon Short Line to Wells, Nev. Now he was obliged to use the Shasta route and Southern Pacific the Oregon Railway Navigation, and the Oregon Short Line refusing to quote him any rate through Ogden. He had remonstrated and the only explanation he could get was that the Southern Pacific preferred the long haul.

Mr. Eccles went into the origin of the San Pedro, Los Angeles and Salt Lake road. In the 90's he had been interested in the building of sixty-six miles of railroad from Milford, Utah to Uvada, on the Nevada line. The Oregon Short Line had taken an option on the grade, but had not exercised the option until Senator W. A. Clark began to negotiate for it as a part of his Los Angeles road. Then the Short Line made the purchase.

Mr. Eccles's testimony is important chiefly as a foundation for the evidence to come regarding the relations of the Clark road with the Harriman system. The hearing will be resumed tomorrow morning.

MEXICAN EXPRESS COMPANY.

WITH HARRIMAN THE BOSS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CITY OF MEXICO, April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] E. H. Harriman and his associates, who own the stock of Wells, Fargo & Co., have gone into partnership with the Mexican government in the control of the express business of Mexico. It is announced that instead of the Wells, Fargo Express obtaining a contract to exclusively operate over the lines of the National Railways of Mexico, it is to become a minority stockholder in an entirely new company which is being organized for that purpose.

The Federal government will own the controlling stock in the new company and will direct its affairs, just as it now does those of the National Railway of Mexico. The company will be operated under the direction of the present officials of the Wells, Fargo Company.

ROOSEVELT OUT AGAIN.

Ex-President Bags Grant's Gazelle and Hartebeste—Prepare for Longer Expeditions.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NAIROBI (British East Africa) April 27.—Theodore Roosevelt and his son, Kermit, had sufficiently recovered today from the fatigue resulting from their first shooting trip and their journey from Kapiti Plains Station to the ranch of Sir Alfred Pease on the Athi River, to go out shooting this morning for small game. They were successful in securing a Grant's Gazelle and a Hartebeste.

All the members of the party are busy today sorting out their baggage and making it up into loads and otherwise preparing to start on more extended expeditions.

The party decided today to remain for a week at the ranch. The smallpox among the porters of the Roosevelt caravan has been checked.

ELEVEN KILLED ON SUBMARINE.

NAPLES, April 27.—Eleven men were killed and eleven wounded as a result of the explosion here yesterday on board the Italian submarine Foca. The American gunboat Scorpion, although ninety feet distant from the Foca, suffered no damage. Launches from the gunboat helped in the work of refloating the Foca.

JAMES A. RHODES DEAD.

SAN JOSE, April 27.—James A. Rhodes, eldest son of ex-Supreme and ex-Superior Judge A. L. Rhodes, died this morning at the family home on the Alameda, after a long illness. He had resided here nearly all his life and had for years been prominently identified with educational and reform movements. He was nearly 60 years of age.

CHALLENGE TO DUEL.

appeals to the court, the remarks gradually became embittered, and Mr. Byington finally interrupted Heney in the course of an address to the court and said:—

"That statement is not true, and that man knows it is not true."

Heney's face flushed, as he ceased speaking, and there was silence for a period of ten seconds. Then, speaking very slowly and distinctly, the prosecutor addressed to his opponent the remark about "a barking cur."

No issue in the trial has been more bitterly contested than the effort on the part of the prosecution to show the relations tending to show conspiracy between Gallagher and Abraham Ruef prior to installation of the Schmitz Board of Supervisors. Heney charged that the defense was attempting to destroy or minimize the value of Gallagher's testimony by attempting to show an organized conspiracy for the purpose of holding up all corporations that were reached.

"INIQUITOUS SCHEME."

"The closest, most iniquitous and rascally scheme ever conceived was this bond of interest between Gallagher and Ruef," said A. A. Moore.

"It was a bold and naked agreement to waylay and hold up every one who came along," said John J. Barrett. "Gallagher stood forth as the head of this band of robbers, like a man with a shotgun hidden behind a bush, with the intent to collect tribute of all who traversed the highways of the city's commerce."

It was Heney's intention to bring out, through Gallagher's testimony, an allegation that Ruef and Gallagher had agreed upon the acceptance of bribes before Gallagher spoke of prospective bribes to other members of the board. In the course of his argument he referred to a conspiracy and cited problematical situations wherein a defendant might not be directly connected, but nevertheless implicated.

"It is not proper for counsel to unload all the suspicions he may have in his mind," said A. A. Moore, in reply. "He has lurking in a dark corner this mysterious, mythical thing he calls a conspiracy—a figment of his imagination—and now and then he drags it before the jury as something he expects to prove and establish.

ROGERS GRILLS HENEY.

"If it will be of any benefit to you," said Heney at this juncture, "I will announce that we do intend to offer proof of a conspiracy before the case is finished."

Judge Lawlor, after nearly two hours of argument, decided the point in favor of the prosecution, and Gallagher, renewing his narrative, stated that he had discussed possible bribery with Ruef before he ever spoke to a Supervisor. Gallagher also declared that he never knew where Ruef obtained the money paid him in any of the alleged deals.

There was another outbreak of hostilities when Earl Rogers called the court's attention to the fact that Heney had placed in sight of the jurors a copy of an old newspaper which had been shown to the witness.

"I know the jury will not look at it, but I believe the paper was placed there so they might," said Rogers.

"Is the court going to permit that remark to pass without rebuke?" asked Heney. "Because, if you do, I am going to retaliate in kind."

"Keep quiet," said Judge Lawlor sternly. "There will be no retaliation in this court. The remark by Mr. Rogers was wholly unjustified and entirely improper."

HENEY ISSUES CHALLENGE.

Heney again notified the court that he was not prepared to endure the recurrence of such affairs, concluding as follows:

"No one of them dares to say anything of the sort to me outside this courtroom."

"If this occurs again," said Judge Lawlor, "I will take action that will have a tendency to discourage the repetition of these discussions before the jury."

A. A. Moore took exception to Heney's declaration that no member of the defense dare to speak to him outside the courtroom, but was ordered by the court to resume his seat.

Later in the day, Heney took up the matter of Gallagher's several interviews with Rudolph Spreckels in the effort to arrange for immunity. The witness declared that he had chosen to talk to Spreckels rather than Langdon, for the reason that if no arrangements for immunity were made with the District Attorney, the latter would be able to use the interviews as a basis for prosecution.

Heney's questions, dealing first with one subject and then with another, indicated that he was reviewing the latter part of the cross-examination and was about ready to close the redirect examination. When the prosecutor came to the subject of Gallagher's interviews with Spreckels, the objections of the defense were interposed to every question and the attorneys were almost continuously engaged in arguments.

MONKEYS THREATEN SHIP.

Six Huge Chimpanzees Escape from Cages and Terrorize Crew for Two Days.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, April 27.—When the German steamer Tanenfels arrived here from Calcutta late yesterday, Capt. Lubke told of the escape of six chimpanzees, part of a consignment of 600 members of the Simian tribe he brought to a New York animal dealer, from their cage, and their vicious attack upon several members of the crew.

Three of the chimpanzees followed Wong Foo, the Chinese cook, into the rigging, and there one of them held his queue until the animal was knocked senseless with a rod. Chief Engineer Newman was chased about the deck by the other chimpanzees and suffered a severe laceration of his arm, where he was struck by a marlin spike hurled by one of the animals.

The largest of the chimpanzees was cornered by several members of the crew in the boatswain's locker, and there he presented such a ferocious front that the men were glad to retire. The animal then dashed out and leaped into the sea.

The others were subjugated only by starvation, but in the two days it required to do so they had the ship's crew terrorized.

OFFERED JUDGESHIP.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Ellwood C. Hughes, for twenty years a lawyer of Seattle, has been tendered an appointment to the newly created Federal judgeship in Washington State.

Mr. Hughes has been associated with some of the most prominent legal firms on the North Coast, and has been president of the Washington State Bar Association, of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer, and of the Seattle school board. He formerly practiced law in Spencer, Iowa. He has taken considerable part in State politics, but has never before held a Federal office. He declined a nomination for Congress about twenty years ago. He was once elected president of Carthage (Ill.) College, his alma mater, but declined it.

"A PLAGUE O' HATS."

WOULD BANISH MERRY WIDOWS

Bill to Forbid All "Dangerous Headgear" Favored.

Its Author Shows Samples to Illinois Solons.

Says Hatpins Are Deadly as Roman Spears.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Uneasy lie the heads that wear the double and triple-decker bushel-basket hats. The House Committee on Miscellany reported out today with a recommendation that it pass the Hilton bill prohibiting the manufacture, sale or use of "unsanitary, dangerous or deadly headgear or hats."

The session was illuminated by a talk from Hilton, illustrated by a prize exhibit of three spring chapeaus that had been lent for the occasion by three House Committee stenographers. One had been carefully loaded with eighteen hatpins ranging from javelin length to stiletto size.

"I have brought these lids in simply as an object lesson," said Demonstrator Hilton, picking up a yardstick. "Look at this bonnet," measuring it off. "We find it is thirty inches wide, or twice the width it should be. And what have we here? Eighteen hatpins, each one as deadly as a Roman spear. Think what it would mean to brush up against this lid in a crowded elevator cage. It would be like bucking up against a Macedonian phalanx.

"A friend of mine had his ear drum punctured a few days ago by running into a hatpin in an elevator. It isn't safe for a short man to be on the streets."

After Chairman Carmack had read a letter from a man who stated that he had just got out of the hospital, whither he had been conveyed unconscious after his face had been cut open from ear to mouth by a hatpin, the committee reported the bill out favorably.

JAIL BREAKS BOY'S HEART.

Seventeen-Year-Old Youth, Sentenced for Petty Larceny, Dies After Serving Part Time.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STOCKTON, April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A case that has attracted much attention was brought to light today in the death of Jake Oxander, a 17-year-old boy, implicated in several petty larceny affairs throughout the county of late. He was arrested along with two other boys and given 100 days in jail. The others, having relatives or friends, soon paid their fines, were released and the matter soon forgotten, but Oxander was unable to gain his freedom and was held in the local jail.

Several days since it was noticed that he was not in good health, but he did not make any complaint. He had been raised in a refined home, and would not appeal to his relatives. It is claimed that he was led astray by his companions, who were older and more advanced in the ways of the world. The officers at the jail noticed that he was ill, and a physician ordered him sent to the County Hospital, where an operation was performed, but without success, and the boy soon died. It is also claimed that a broken heart added to the early death of Oxander. His relatives are greatly wrought up over the untimely death of the youth.

HAINS JURY IS COMPLETE.

Eleven of Twelve Men Who Will Determine Captain's Fate Are Married.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

FLUSHING (N. Y.) April 27.—The jury to try Capt. Peter C. Hains for the murder of William E. Annis, his one-time friend, was completed today. It took just seven days to select the twelve men, 450 talesmen being examined. All the jurymen are married except Otto Nicholas, who is 27 years old. The defense has fought all along for married men and peremptorily challenged the few bachelors who qualified.

The idea that a lunacy commission will be appointed to pass upon the captain's mental condition is gaining ground.

ON PHILIPPINE TARIFF.

WASHINGTON, April 27.—The Ways and Means Committee of the House met today to consider the Philippine tariff bill introduced recently by Representative Payne of New York, which was the subject of a special message from the President. A sub-committee consisting of Representatives Payne, Hill of Connecticut, Boutell of Illinois, Clark of Missouri and Underwood of Alabama, was appointed to redraft the bill. Col. Colton of the Philippine customs service appeared before the committee.

FOOD FACTS

What an M. D. Learned.

A prominent Georgia physician went through a food experience which he makes public:

"It was my own experience that first led me to advocate Grape-Nuts food and I also know, from having prescribed it to convalescents and other weak patients, that the food is a wonderful rebuilder and restorer of nerve and brain tissue, as well as muscle. It improves the digestion and sick patients always gain just as I did in strength and weight very rapidly.

"I was in such a low state that I had to give up my work entirely, and went to the mountains of this State, but two months there did not improve me; in fact, I was not quite as well as when I left home.

"My food did not sustain me, and it became plain that I must change. Then I began to use Grape-Nuts foor, and in two weeks I could walk a mile without fatigue, and in five weeks returned to my home and practice, taking up hard work again. Since that time I have felt as well and strong as I ever did in my life.

"As a physician who seeks to help all sufferers, I consider it a duty to make these facts public."

Trial 10 days on Grape-Nuts, when the regular food does not seem to sustain the body, will work miracles.

"There's a Reason."

POETIC JUSTICE.

FATE SERVES SULTAN AS HE DID BROTHER.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Abdul Hamid, the "Red Sultan," who, today has been deprived of all his power as ruler of the Ottoman Empire, was born in 1842. When 34 years old he deposed his brother, Mourad V, from the high post which he himself now vacates, and seized the throne.

Abdul Hamid is tall, of slender build and stooped. This gives him the appearance of one suffering from tuberculosis. He looks young for his years, a fact which is due to his use of dyes for his hair and beard.

The deposed Sultan was the son of an Armenian slave girl, who renounced Christianity for the Moslem faith, and danced her way into the good graces and harem of Abdul Majid. He is extremely suspicious of all who are about him, and is credited with being the perpetrator of numerous murders. It has been reported that he expended more than $4,000,000 annually in the employment of 20,000 spies. His practice has been to collect money at the point of the bayonet when he needed it.

Prince Rechad Effendi, brother of the deposed Sultan, was born November 3, 1844. He is the direct heir to the Turkish throne, in accordance with the laws of the Turkish Empire relative to the succession.

PLIANT.

FEAR NEW SULTAN IS BUT A FIGURE HEAD.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mehemmed Rechad Effendi, who has just succeeded to the Turkish throne with the title of Mehemmed V., in succession to his brother Abdul Hamid II, who has been deposed, is, in the opinion of the few persons who have had an opportunity of studying his character, a man of much less mental and political strength than Abdul Hamid.

He has, since his accession, been practically a prisoner in Yildiz Kiosk. He was born in Constantinople November 3, 1844, being a son of Sultan Mehemmed Murad, who was dethroned in 1876, and died in 1904.

The new Sultan is tall and well proportioned, but inclined to stoop. His features are regular, but he has a hooked nose like that of Abdul Hamid. His eyes are blue and his hair and beard are light red. His manners are very gracious and easy, and he is exceedingly generous and kind. He is not at all fanatical, but he is sincerely religious. He plays unusually well on the piano and he is a great admirer of classical music.

Like the deposed Sultan, the new ruler of Turkey is a good draughtsman, and he sketches well. He has two wives, both highly educated, and the daughters of distinguished Pashas. They dress in the French fashion.

After the revolution of July, 1908, he received a measure of freedom and was sometimes seen driving about the streets of Constantinople in a closed carriage.

During his long imprisonment Mehemmed V was always closely watched by the guards and spies, and as a result of his confined life, he is very weak physically. He has four children, the Princess Zia-Eddine Effendi, born in 1877; Nedjm Eddine Effendi, born in 1881, Eumer Hilmi Effendi, born on February 18, 1883, and the Princess Refia, born in 1877.

Rechad has held an honorary title of general in the Turkish army, but has not been in any way connected with the practical affairs. He is the thirty-fifth Sultan since the foundation of the Ottoman dynasty, and the twenty-ninth since the conquest of Constantinople in 1451.

Next in succession is Yussef Issedine Effendi, a son of the Sultan Abdul Aziz, who was dethroned on May 30, 1876. Yussef was born in Constantinople October 9, 1857.

Those well informed on Turkish affairs declare Yussef a much abler man than Rechad, but say the Young Turks probably thought Rechad would be more pliable in their hands.

TURKEY.

rested are Prince Sabah Eddine, a nephew of the old Sultan, and all members of his family.

At a secret sitting of the national assembly the decree was read. It declared that Abdul Hamid II must abdicate or be dethroned. The assembly unhesitatingly shouted:

"Dethrone him."

Two senators and two deputies thereupon visited the palace at Yildiz and communicated to the Sultan the assembly's resolution. Abdul Hamid replied:

EXPECTED BLOW.

"I expected this; it is fate. My only wish is that the lives of myself and family may be safeguarded, and that I may reside at the palace of Cheraghan, and I wish to die where I was born."

A similar deputation proceeded to Dolmabagtschee palace in Galata, and informed Mehemmed Reschad Effendi of the nation's wish. He replied that he bowed to the will of the people.

Later the Assembly debated the momentous question of Abdul Hamid's future residence. The suggestion that he be allowed to travel abroad was strongly opposed, on the ground that it might cause complications. It was finally decided that he must remain in Constantinople.

The Sultan-elect came by boat across the Bosporus to Stamboul. He landed near the Sublime Porte, and thence proceeded to the Seraskerat in a closed carriage. A large detachment of cavalry acted as an escort, and carriages containing his sons' and sister's suite followed. Ahmed Riza, the former president of the Chamber of Deputies, and Gen. Schefket and his officers, received Mehemmed Reschad at the portals of the War Office. All kissed the Prince's hand.

PLAINLY DRESSED.

He was plainly dressed, and appeared happy and radiant. He was ushered by the entire Cabinet into the great hall, where had assembled the representatives of the nation and state dignitaries, civil, military and ecclesiastical.

The Prince expressed a wish to perform ablutions and say prayers. He solemnly subscribed to the oath, which was administered by the Sheik Ul Islam. A mollah prayed for the welfare of the new Sultan, and the prosperity of the nation, and the assemblage responded "amen."

The batteries boomed an announcement at 2:30 o'clock that a new ruler had been sworn into office, while all present congratulated Mehemmed V, who immediately proceeded to the Top-Kapou palace to venerate the relics.

Returning to Dolmabagtschee Palace, where he will take up his residence, the new Sultan was enthusiastically cheered by great crowds.

Enver Bey, one of the prominent leaders of the Young Turks, who followed the procession, was recognized and received a tremendous ovation.

In receiving a deputation from the National Assembly subsequently, Mehemmed said:

CONSTITUTIONAL RULER.

"I am pleased to become the first constitutional sovereign. Doubtless my successor will improve upon me, but you may rely upon my doing my best. I also have suffered oppression and can therefore enter into the feelings of my fellow-sufferers. Let us endeavor to work together for the welfare of the country."

When the Assembly deputation arrived at the Yildiz the fetva of the Sheik Ul Islam was handed to Ali Djevad Bey, First Secretary, for communication to Abdul Hamid, who in an inner apartment was guarded by fifteen eunuchs. Djevad Bey tried to gain admittance by knocking, and after this was continued for fifteen minutes the door was opened and Abdul Hamid appeared. He accepted the fetva without comment.

ABDUL HAMID IN ABJECT TERROR.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

LONDON, April 27.—A dispatch received here by the Exchange Telegraph Company from Constantinople says troops under the command of Young Turk officers fired the Sultan's palace last night and took His Majesty prisoner. Later, closely guarded, he was removed to the Cheraghan Palace on the Bosporus.

Sensational accounts are given of the methods employed in the deposition of Abdul Hamid, who is represented as being in a state of abject terror.

Some reports even say he is dead. None of these reports have been confirmed.

A Belgrade dispatch to the Telegraph says that, according to news from Macedonia, the ominous movement among the Albanians is increasing in the district around Monastir.

The Albanians demand the enforcement of the Sheriat.

The Constantinople correspondent of the Daily Chronicle was received in audience by Mehemmed Reschad Effendi at the moment the National Assembly was sealing the fate of Abdul Hamid. He protested that it was premature to address him as "Your Majesty."

A dispatch to the Times says it was said in the chamber that Abdul Hamid probably will be sent to Salonika.

A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company says that the committee has seized all of the former Sultan's effects, including his jewels, as well as his vast personal fortune.

DEPOSED SULTAN DENIES ALL GUILT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BERLIN, April 27.—A dispatch to the Tageblatt says that Abdul Hamid when told of his deposition said:

"Since the renewal of the Osmanic constitution, I have never departed from it. I leave the instigators of this tragedy to God's justice. My innocence concerning these occurrences is proved by the fact that no shot has been fired from the Yildiz during my reign. We won the Greek War, and I have saved my land in several crises. If my abdication is desired, let God's will be done."

MISSIONARY TELLS OF MASSACRE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

ADANA (Asiatic Turkey) April 27.—The Rev. Herbert Adams Gibbons of Hartford, Conn., a missionary of the American Board of Foreign Missions stationed here and at Tarsus, was an eyewitness of the scenes of terror and destruction at the center of the Moslem uprising. He gives a graphic story of the series of massacres and incendiarism.

"The vilayet of Adana has been visited during the past five days by a terrible massacre of Armenians, the worst ever known in the history of the district. The terror has been universal and the government is powerless to check the disorders. Adana, the capital of the province, has been the storm center.

"Conditions have been unsettled for some time and there has been animosity between Turks and Armenians in consequence of the political activity of the latter, and their open purchase of arms.

SLAUGHTER BEGINS.

"Early last Wednesday morning, while I was in the market, I noticed that the Armenians were closing their shops and hurrying to their homes. An Armenian and a Turk had been killed during the night and the corpses were paraded through their respective quarters. The sight of the dead inflamed the inhabitants and crowds began to gather in the streets armed with sticks, axes and knives. A few young Armenians assembled in the center of the coveted market and began firing revolvers in the air. By 11 o'clock in the morning the crowd had begun the looting of shops.

"The military commander of Adana was by my side in the market when the firing began; he had not the courage to endeavor to disperse the mob. He returned to his residence and did not venture out for two days.

"William Chambers, field secretary of the Y.M.C.A., and myself proceeded to the Konak and found a howling mob demanding arms with which to kill the Giaours. We then went to the telegraph office to summon the British Consul. On the steps of the building we saw three Armenians who had been massacred. Their bodies had been mutilated. While we were in the telegraph office a mob burst into the room where we were and killed two Armenians before our eyes. The unfortunates were begging the protection of the Vali when they were struck down.

REACH SAFE PLACE.

"We managed to make our way into the next room, where we made representations to the Vali. This official said he could do nothing. He was afraid of his own life, and he made no attempt to protect us. Somehow he managed to get us into the interior of the Konak, where we remained at the side of the government officials for the next forty-eight hours.

"That afternoon the situation grew distinctly worse. The Armenians withdrew to their quarter of Adana, which is situated on a hill, and converted their houses that held advantageous positions into fortresses. Here the fighting went on for two days, during which time the Armenians succeeded in beating off their Turkish assailants.

"Wednesday evening Maj. Daughty-Wylie, the British Vice-Consul at Mersina, arrived at Adana and established headquarters in the house of a dragoman, a wealthy Greek resident, where many refugees had been received. The wife of the British Vice-Consul, who was brought into Adana under fire on Thursday, attended personally many wounded women and children.

ADANA A HELL.

"Adana was a hell. The bazaars were looted and set on fire. There was continued and unceasing shooting and killing in every part of the town and fires raged in many grounds.

"Moslems from the neighborhood began pouring into the city, and notwithstanding our vehement protests, the Vali distributed arms to these men, alleging that they were Turkish reserves.

"Maj. Daughty-Wylie at the head of the troops which he compelled the Vali to supply, went to the rear end of the town and was successful in preventing the villagers from coming to Adana. Later, while the major was attempting to pacify the town he was shot and disabled.

"Missionaries of the Central Turkish Mission had assembled for a district conference in the center of Adana on the day of the outbreak.

"They received and protected hundreds of refugees in the American seminary for girls, and endeavoring to pacify the warring elements.

MISSIONARIES KILLED.

"On Thursday Daniel Miner Rogers and Henry Maurer, American missionaries, were killed under treacherous circumstances.

"On Friday the Armenians yielded, since when there has been little murdering.

"Adana is in a pitiable condition. The town has been pillaged and destroyed and there are thousands of homeless people here without means of livelihood. It is impossible to estimate the number of killed. The corpses lie scattered through the streets. Friday, when I went out, I had to pick my way between the dead to avoid stepping on them. Saturday morning I counted a dozen cartloads of Armenian bodies in one-half hour being carried to the river and thrown into the waters. In the Turkish cemeteries graves are being dug wholesale.

BABIES WOUNDED.

"The condition of the refugees is most pitiable and heart-rending. Not only are there orphans and widows beyond number, but a great many, even the babies, are suffering from severe wounds.

"On Friday afternoon, 250 so-called Turkish reserves without officers seized a train at Adana and compelled the engineer to convey them to Tarsus, where they took part in the complete destruction of the Armenian quarter of that town, which is the best part of Tarsus.

"Their work of looting was thorough and rapid. It is said they spread with kerosene and fired the great historic Armenian church at Tarsus, the most imposing structure in the city. They demolished marble statues and shattered important historic tablets. Everything portable was carried away, but the church itself resisted their attempts to burn it. Fortunately only five persons were killed here. This was owing to the proximity of the American college, where 4000 destitute and homeless persons had sought and found shelter."

SMALLPOX AMONG THE REFUGEES.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

LATAKIA (Syria) April 27.—Five thousand refugees are quartered here, having come in from Kersal and other points in the district north of Latakia, where several thousand Turks from surrounding villages have burned towns and killed many Armenians.

Several smallpox cases have already been discovered among the refugees.

There are 6000 homeless refugees at Latakia at present, and many others are in hiding in the mountains, suffering great privations. There are no soldiers at Latakia.

Through With Games of Chance.

They were seated on separate chairs, the young woman cheerful and smiling, the young man distrait and apparently struggling with some bitter disappointment—some well-nigh crushing blow from the pile-driver of Fate.

"So you care nothing for me and positively decline my offer, eh?" he hoarsely demanded, bending forward and staring moodily at the door.

"Yes," was the frigid reply. "I am sorry for you, but you have utterly misconstrued my feelings. I can never be your wife."

"Stung again!" bitterly remarked the young man as soon as he could command his voice. "I was just foolish enough to bet Hank Perkins a week's salary that you would accept me, but I've got the throw-down, as usual, and am out fifteen plunks in the bargain. But that settles it! I'm through monkeying with games of chance!"

And the young man reached for his hat and went forth into the night, an embittered and disappointed being.

CARD SHARP SUSPECT.

DAGGETT MAN ANGRY AT BEING ARRESTED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Hoboken came near getting involved in what might have been an international episode if there had been any complainant in the case of three passengers by the North German Lloyd steamship Kaiser Wilhelm II, who were escorted to Hoboken police headquarters by four detectives just after the liner docked this evening.

Capt. Cueppers of the Kaiser had sent a wireless message to Hoboken on Monday afternoon asking for Hoboken police to come down to quarantine and take charge of five professional gamblers who had been cheating other passengers.

Frank Brueckman, a Belgian mining engineer, bound from Brussels for Ecuador, and representing there a large Brussels concern, was the passenger who had declared to the captain that he had been swindled out of $530. He accused the three men who were finally taken to Hoboken police headquarters.

Gen. Henry L. Burnett, former United States Attorney for the Southern District of New York, who was a passenger by the Kaiser, was puzzled to know what would be done with the three men if Mr. Brueckman or Capt. Cueppers or someone else connected with the liner should make a complaint. He said from his point of view and under a strict interpretation of the law, whatever crime had been committed was committed on what was practically German soil. He did not see how Hoboken could claim jurisdiction.

At first Brueckman was willing to press a charge against the three men. But his ardor cooled after he landed and he finally declared that he would not prosecute. The men were allowed to go.

The three men gave their names as A. Booth, M. J. Eppley and P. Treadwell. Mr. Booth was the only man who desired to talk, and the only one who had a card. The card read "A. Booth, Borax Developing Company, Daggett, San Bernardino County, Cal."

Mr. Booth said he certainly would sue the captain of the ship and the line. In response to the questions "Who is your lawyer?" he said: "I have two lawyers," but he did not offer the name of either. He said he would be at the Hotel Breslin tomorrow.

Among the prominent mining men registered at the Hollenbeck are John Doser of Pioneer, Nev., and J. D. McKenzie, who has holding in Chihuahua, Mex.

STRONG FINISH EARNS A DRAW.

Sandy Ferguson Boxes Well With Sam Langford.

Giant White, However, Is Not Clever Enough.

Fifty-five Pounds Advantage Has White Man.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BOSTON (Mass.) April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The twelve-round bout between Sam Langford and Sandy Ferguson was declared a draw by Referee Eugene Buckley tonight. The contest took place at the Armory before a record-breaking attendance of members and, while the majority approved the referee's finding, there were many who claimed that Langford was entitled to the award.

Ferguson weighed 225 pounds, while Langford tipped the beam at 170. It was difficult for Sandy to reach the negro and he kept shooting his famous left jab over Sam's head, while Langford would get in close and do some clever body punching and work a right swing to Ferguson's jaw.

There was not a knockdown during the entire contest and Ferguson boxed cleanly. Sandy's nose bled profusely at times, while Langford's left eye was partially closed in the eighth round. Neither man was distressed at the finish, although Sandy looked tired during the eighth and ninth rounds.

Langford had a can of oxygen in his corner, but it was not used, and he steadfastly refused its aid during the tenth and eleventh rounds, when Ferguson made the rally which earned him the draw.

The referee explained the draw decision after the contest by stating that Ferguson had a lead in the three opening rounds and evened up the advantage earned by Langford from the fourth to ninth rounds by his wonderful rally in the closing rounds.

The alleged yellow streak in Ferguson did not materialize, and he showed that he was game and could stand punishment. He was never afraid to meet his man, but seemed unable to stop the wicked right swings to the jaw landed by Langford.

Sandy showed himself to be a left-handed fighter pure and simple, and only used his right when Langford was inside his guard and "beating him to it."

In the eleventh round Sandy made a grand-stand finish and had Sam guessing, but the negro was strong as he walked to his corner, and he finished well in the twelfth and closing round.

M'CAREY'S PAVILION.

MEMSIC AND PICATO.

George Memsic and Frank Picato are to begin active training today for their ten-round contest May 7 at McCarey's pavilion.

Memsic has gone to Eastside and will use the athletic club in the suburb for his headquarters. Picato will arrive from Murrietta Springs this morning and will go to Vernon and start his training at Jack Doyle's place.

Four good preliminaries will be made up this week for the same evening.

Martin Hefron has gone East and there will be no chance to match him with Frankie Sullivan again. It is probable that Danny Webster and Sullivan will meet in a ten-session contest, which will form part of a double event for May 14.

Wins by a Punch.

TROY (N. Y.) April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Cy Smith's seconds threw the sponge into the ring in the tenth round of the fight with Kid Henry to prevent a knockout. Throughout the contest both boys threw science to the winds and slugged each other from one end of the ring to the other, neither gaining any advantage until Henry sent a vicious right to Smith's jaw which practically put him out.

Police Get Busy.

NEW YORK, April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A dozen policemen held up the bouts scheduled at the Longacre Athletic Club tonight, without as much as lifting a finger. The police invaded the club before many of the members gathered. Manager Neumann then announced he would postpone the entertainments until Thursday night.

Tommy Murphy Wins.

BALTIMORE, April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Harlem Tommy Murphy scored his second victory over Kid Sullivan of Washington tonight before the Eureka Athletic Club. The contest was scheduled to go fifteen rounds, but came to an abrupt end in the third, when the Gothamite sent the Capital City boy to the canvas for the count with a series of rights to the body and jaw.

GOOD CONTEST.

The Custer-street grammar school baseball team defeated the Sixteenth-street school nine yesterday afternoon by the score of 4 to 1, on the diamond at Echo Park. A three-base hit was made by Benson for the Custer-street boys in the sixth inning. The batteries were: Custer, Lavalley and Benson; Sixteenth, Stone and Lyons.

WESTON IS FAGGED OUT.

ALTON (Ill.) April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Edward H. Weston, veteran pedestrian, walking from New York to San Francisco, reached here at 10:30 tonight. While he did not say so, those who saw him say he was fagged out.

HARRY WRIGHT IS CHAMPION.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, April 27.—H. A. Wright of San Francisco, tonight won the national amateur billiard championship at the Liederkranz Club, defeating C. F. Conklin of Chicago, 400 to 307.

Wright won the battle with a clean record of four straight victories. The game which decided the championship lasted through thirty-five innings.

HAMMERS ARE OUT.

STUDENTS ARE SORE AT SUPERINTENDENT.

THE students of Los Angeles High School are aroused against the Board of Education, and especially against E. C. Moore, Superintendent of Schools, because the track team has been prohibited from participating in the invitation interscholastic meet that is to be held at Stanford University Saturday.

The track men claim that they were given to understand that if they won the track championship of Southern California they would be allowed again to go north to compete for the State championship, but when the track captain, Phil Harrigan, and Al Frank called on Moore to get final permission for the trip, they found that there was "nothing doing." It is claimed that Moore asserted that he would not give the team permission to go north because the faculty of the High School was opposed to the trip, and because such a trip would promote professionalism.

The track squad got seven-eighths of the members of the faculty to sign a petition to the effect that they were not opposed to the trip and again tried to get the unwilling ear of Moore, but he is said at first to have some feeble excuse and then to have evaded the boys. The boys tried to hold a conference with the Board of Education, but it is said that before they could properly present their claims, Moore arranged that the meeting be turned into an executive session which, being private, necessitated the withdrawal of the boys.

The members of the track squad are indignant because Moore is alleged to have asserted that athletics at High School are in the hands of a clique that controls all sports to the exclusion of many students who are desirous of participating in the games. At the beginning of track season a try-out for the team was held in which every boy in the school was invited to compete. The boys claim that everybody had a fair chance.

The Los Angeles High School track team had an excellent chance to win first honors at Stanford. It easily won the local championship. Last year the boys attended the meet at Stanford and made an excellent showing, although Harvard Military School won first place.

Many High School students assert that Moore has always "bucked" high school athletics without being able to give a good reason for his actions. The boys say that there is absolutely no sense in the assertion that the northern trip would promote professionalism, and that every other objection Moore has made they answered, but they claim he remained obstinate and would not deal with them fairly.

The student body of the school was so anxious to have the track team compete in the meet at Stanford that a movement was started to raise funds by popular subscription to pay the expenses of the athletes. The action of the Board of Education, which, it is alleged, was brought about by the influence of Moore, was a great surprise and a bitter disappointment.

Some of the boys say that the High School student body has been getting a "raw deal" from Moore and the Board of Education for some time, and that conditions are becoming worse. The students say that they will not endure many more "throw-downs" and that it is about time that they were treated like young men instead of kindergarten children.

The track team has been training consistently in preparation for the northern meet and its supporters were confident that the showing the squad would make against the northern teams would win renown for the local High School. The boys say that if any good reason had been advanced by Moore as to why they should not be allowed to compete at Stanford, they would not feel so "sore," but they believe they have been "thrown down" hard by one who takes no interest in their activities.

The Polytechnic High School track team also expected to go to Stanford, as it was about on a par with Los Angeles High, but it also was prohibited by the Board of Education from going North. The Los Angeles High School boys believe that if the mechanics had put up the same fight for permission to go North as did the Los Angeles High representatives the Board of Education would not have been "buffaloed" by Moore into prohibiting the taking of the trip. The mechanics also are "sore," but they are inclined to let the matter drop, as the trip did not mean so much to them as it did to the champion Los Angeles High team.

STRAIGHTAWAY.

AUTOMOBILE WINNERS AT JAMAICA TRIALS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, April 27.—Ten thousand persons shivered five hours today in Jamaica, L. I., while automobile time trials were run off, under the auspices of the New York Trade Association.

The affair was the second day's event in the annual Metropolitan motor carnival. All were straightaway contests.

In the one-mile free-for-all race, the big event of the day, the Benz 120-horse-power gasoline car, driven by David Bruce Brown, won in 35 2-5 seconds, which was at the rate of 101.4 miles an hour.

The winners of the two-mile event for gasoline vehicles were:

For cars priced under $1250, E. M. F., 2:22 3-5.

For cars costing $1250 to $2000, Buick, 1:52.

For cars costing $2000 to $3000, Knox, 1:50.

For four-cylinder cars costing more than $4000, Stearns, 1:51 3-5.

For six-cylinder cars, costing more than $4000, National, 1:42.

The winner of the one-mile gasoline events were:

For cars costing under $1250, E. M. F., 1:09 4-5.

For cars costing $1250 to $2000, Buick, 55s.

For four-cylinder cars, costing more than $4000, Stearns, 55 1-5s.

For six-cylinder cars, costing more than $4000, National, 48 3-5s.

ANOTHER MARATHON.

Ten Thousand Dollars Put Up for Race Between All the Cracks.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, April 27.—A $10,000 grand international Marathon race is announced for May 8 at the Polo Grounds in this city. The promoters say it is for the championship of the world.

St. Yves, the Frenchman, who won the Derby; Simpson, the Indian; Dorando, Maloney and Orphee and Cibot, the winners of the recent six days' go-as-you-please race in Madison Square Garden, have already entered.

The management says that Carvajal of Cuba, Pat White of Ireland, Fred Appleby, the Englishman, who twice defeated Shrubb; Svanberg, the Swede, John Hayes, Tom Longboat and Shrubb also will enter.

It is announced the $10,000 will be divided $5000 to the winner; then, in order of the finish, $2000, $1200, $800, $500, $300 and $200.

WRESTLING CHAMPIONSHIP.

Luttbeg Wins Lightweight Title by Defeating Albert Wassen of St. Louis.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

CHICAGO, April 27.—Max Luttbeg of Kansas City won the lightweight wrestling championship of America by defeating Albert Wassen of St. Louis in the final match of the lightweight tournament at the Illinois A. C. last night.

The preliminaries having taken up so much time, the principals agreed to wrestle one fall to a finish for the title. Luttbeg took the fall in 25:12, after an exciting tussle, with a half-Nelson and bar-arm hold.

Wassen was awarded second money.

Ernest Lindberg of Chicago won third money by winning from Arthur Johnson.

GETS DOUBLE SHOCK.

After Giving Up Money Under Death Threat Merchant Finds Dynamiter in Basement of Store.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

GLENWOOD SPRINGS (Colo.) April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After being compelled by blackmailers to place $300 in a secluded spot yesterday under pain of death if he refused, J. C. Schwarz, former Mayor and the city's wealthiest business man, received another shock this morning when he found John Brown, a discharged employé, in the basement of his store with dynamite caps and fuse, and declaring he was going to blow the establishment to atoms.

Schwarz seized and held the man until the police arrived. Schwarz placed $300 in a box where the blackmailing letter instructed him to; then a policeman waited ten hours until a man came to take the money. He proved to be D. J. McCune, a Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen switchman.

CACTUS COCKTAILS SEIZED.

LAREDO (Tex.) April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] William Johnson, chief of the Indian service, today confiscated 200,000 peyotes in this city and Ojuelos, a small town about forty miles from here.

After investigating for several months Johnson found that peyote, which is a species of cactus, affecting any one using it as would liquor, cocaine and opium combined, was distributed entirely from this point and that two prominent merchants in this city had a monopoly on the product, shipping it as Japanese buttons and selling it through agents to Indians in Oklahoma and Indian Territory.

The Indians worship peyote as the body of Christ and call the vision they see from using it the word of God.

LONDON ENDS SLOOP TRIP.

HONOLULU, April 27.—Advices received today from Sydney, N.S.W., state that Jack London, the American author, who started on a tour of the South Sea Islands many months ago in the sloop Snark, has sold the boat at that port and gone to South America.

BASEBALL.

SEALS WHALE JIMMY WHALEN.

Hit at Opportune Moments and Tally Scores.

Home Run by Bodie Is the Slugging Feature.

Flanagan Joins Senators in Right Field.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Fighting hard to maintain its position and with the hope of topping the pennant chasers, had Oakland won in the North, the Seals returned from a victorious week against the Vernons, pounded Jimmy Whalen hard at opportune times today, winning by a score of 5 to 2.

Bodie, with a home run, was the distinguishing feature of the local display, although Berry and Henley were on hand with two-baggers, and Henley put one over the fence that would have been a home run save that it went foul. The Senators were almost even in the hit column, but the Seals played tight ball when occasion demanded.

The Grahamites were reinforced by Ed Flanagan, the outfielder who was with the Chicago White Sox the early part of the spring. Flanagan played right field, but accomplished nothing in the way of hitting the ball. Graham had been dickering with Comiskey for Flanagan, but until the outfielder reported yesterday was not sure that he would get him. Flanagan is the man who hit the ball so hard last year for Vancouver, and ought to strengthen the Sacramento team. Fitzgerald, who jumped from the Stockton team, was on the grounds, but not in uniform.

Shinn moved around as far as third base in the opening inning, but it was left to the Seals to get the first tally. With Mohler and Zeider out, Bodie hit one that just skimmed the top of the left-field fence that went for a homer.

In the second inning there was more doing for the locals. Melchoir hit one to right that Flanagan juggled. Lewis sacrificed and Berry hit to left for two bases, scoring Melchoir. Berry went to third on an error and was squeezed home by McArdle.

Zeider made the fourth San Francisco tally in the third inning, when he walked, went to second on a wild throw to first by Shinn, to third on an out, and came home on the sacrifice squeeze play by Tennant.

The Senators did all their tallying in the fourth. With one down Gandil hit a safe one toward first and stole second. House put the ball into right for two bases, scoring Gandil. A bad peg by Berry left House safe at third, and he was scored when Byrnes hit a hard one through Zeider. It was credited an error by the official scorer, but no harder-hit balls go down to the infield.

The Seals picked up another in the seventh for the sake of safety, but really didn't need it. The score:

PITCHERS' BATTLE.

HARKNESS SCATTERS HITS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PORTLAND (Or.) April 27.—Portland won today from Oakland in a pitchers' battle pure and simple. The best either team could do was to secure three hits during the nine innings, but Harkness kept the hits so scattered that the visitors were unable to score. Notwithstanding the low score, the battle was a generally snappy one. Score:

BEATS HOLLYWOOD.

LONG BEACH THE BEST.

The Long Beach High School baseball team defeated the Hollywood High School nine yesterday afternoon in a slow, one-sided game, by the score of 7 to 1, on the Long Beach High's grounds.

The famous "cyclone pitcher," Linton of Hollywood, fell down in the latter part of the game, being touched up for fourteen hits and seven runs, all told, by the Long Beach team, and, although he only walked one man, he seemed easy to find, and if Long Beach had shown any base-running ability at all, the score would have mounted much higher than it did. Most of them seemed to take things easy and many died on bases who should have scored.

The Long Beach pitcher, Encoe, held the visitors down to one run and four hits and seemed in excellent condition, fanning eight men to Linton's six.

The batting of Fulton, Peterson and Encoe of the winners practically won the game. Peterson, out of three times up, got three hits, one a double. He, with Fulton and Encoe, scored six runs.

Both teams showed up strong in their fielding, Hollywood preventing at least five scores by fine running catches. The only thing that prevented a shutout for Hollywood was a fumble by one of the Long Beach boys in the first half of the first inning.

Hollywood scored their lone tally in the first and managed to hold Long Beach down to six base hits and one run until the sixth inning. In the sixth and seventh Long Beach seemed to find the ball and ran in six tallies, making the score 7 to 1, as it stood at the end of the game.

A championship series of games have been arranged to be played with Polytechnic High School, the first to take place on May 1, the second on May 8, and the third on May 13. The Long Beach team is confident that it can defeat Poly, and will pass next week in practice.

GREAT PITCHING.

FOURTEEN STRIKE-OUTS.

Occidental College, 8; Los Angeles High School, 1.

Pitcher Lockwood of Occidental College held down the Los Angeles High School baseball team without a hit yesterday afternoon at Occidental. The Tiger twirler struck out fourteen men and only issued one pass to first base.

The High School boys got one man across the plate in the second inning as a result of clever base-running, and two errors by the Occidental infield.

Both teams played a ragged fielding game, but the home team bunched its hits at the right time and took advantage of their opponents' misplays. Beach, the High School twirler, held up well for four innings, but in the latter part of the game the Tigers landed on him hard and assumed a long lead.

Baer led the batting, making four hits, one of which was a timely two-bagger. The Occidental line-up again was changed on account of the absence of Shortstop Wieman, who has a sprained ankle.

Thomas threw well to the bases and cut off several attempts to steal second. Hirsch, the High School catcher, was charged with three errors.

Gault played a good game at second base, handling five out of six chances in a clever manner. Wingett at first covered lots of ground. The score:

GOTCH WINS FROM ROLLER.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In the cleanest, fastest, cleverest and most scientific wrestling match ever staged on the Convention Hall mat, Frank Gotch, champion grappler, tonight wore out and finally conquered the toughest one he has faced in many months, Dr. Benjamin Franklin Roller, the muscular physician from Seattle.

The champion won the first fall in 37m. and 55s. with his favorite hold, a crotch and half Nelson. The second fall was won by the Iowan in 18m. 29s. A reversed Nelson did the damage.

A crowd of 5500 persons witnessed the match.

One-Sided Score.

The Twentieth-avenue grammar school defeated the Fifty-fourth-avenue school at baseball yesterday afternoon by the score of 12 to 2, on the winner's diamond. Bouette got in a three-base hit for the winners in the first inning.

Anson Is Successful.

CHICAGO, April 27.—Capt. Anson and his baseball team have returned from the first invasion of the East ever made by a local semi-professional team. While the team lost a majority of the games played, it paved the way for future visits and other local semi-professional teams are expected to follow the captain's example.

Clarke Waives Claim.

ST. LOUIS, April 27.—Fred Clarke, manager of the Pittsburgh team, announced today that he had waived claim to James Slagle, former center fielder of the champion Chicago National League team. Slagle will now go to Baltimore for the Eastern League.

BRIBERY CASE.

ASKS COURT TO ACQUIT BENSON.

MOTION OF DEFENSE IS TAKEN UNDER ADVISEMENT.

Attorney for Accused Declares That Only Criminal Intent in Alleged Land Frauds Existed in the Mind of Secret Service Agent Burns—Expect Decision Today.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, April 27.—"Instruct to acquit," was the motion of the defense which was argued, and taken under advisement by the court today, in the trial of John A. Benson of San Francisco, charged with bribing two government clerks in connection with land deals on the Pacific Coast.

Counsel for the defense urged before Justice Gould, that the criminal intent, if any, existed in the mind of Secret Service Agent W. J. Burns. A decision is expected tomorrow.

Counsel charged that Burns concocted a scheme to get Benson to offer Division Chief Woodford D. Harlan, of the general land office, money to secure information in a secret government report. They contended also that the money said to have been paid to Harlan was paid, if at all, for past services.

Dist.-Atty. Baker, however, declared that Harlan, before the detectives learned of his transactions with Benson, voluntarily informed Benson that the investigation was in progress, and that Harlan told Benson he would keep him advised respecting the matter. The money referred to, Mr. Baker declared, was in furtherance of a continuing agreement between Harlan and Benson, the criminal intent not originating with Burns.

PREPARE FOR STRIKERS.

French Government Orders Out Warships and Troops for May 1 Demonstration.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PARIS, April 27.—Although the leaders of the General Federation of Labor who are organizing a twenty-four-hour strike for May 1st, disclaim any violent or revolutionary intentions, the government is taking elaborate precautions to preserve order on that day. Warships rigged with wireless telegraphy have been stationed along the coast for purpose of preserving communication with the Eiffel tower in Paris and heavy bodies of troops have been drafted into the capital from Versailles and St. Germain.

FIND MUTILATED REMAINS.

BAKERSFIELD, April 27.—J. D. Hendricks, supposed to be from Los Angeles, was run over and killed by an Owl train at Jewetta early this morning. His mutilated remains were found by railroad employés. He had a receipt for 400 shares of mining stock, on deposit with a Los Angeles brokerage house, $2.40 in cash, and a poll tax receipt dated in Inyo county the last of March, in his clothes.

A number of new members were admitted by the Aëro Club last night, and these included several entries for the glider contests and other departments of the exposition.

One of these new entries is R. W. Stewart of No. 243 South Grand avenue, who produces a model in which he claims to have solved the problem of automatic lateral stability. The invention was commended by many of the airship designers who saw it at the meeting.

Stewart's plan consists of an elongated canvas plane, triangular in shape, presenting its point forward. From the rear edge of the plane to a point about two-thirds of the length forward is a depression in the shape of a V trough, running to a point forward, like the cutwater of a ship, and broadening toward the rear, so that the plan of the upper surface looks like a great V. This leaves on the under side two surfaces that are rather suggestive of the hull of a river steamboat, with very much extended flat decks.

When the airship is tipped to one side, the inventor explains, the flat deck and the side of the hull on the lower side will form a large box which will present considerably more resistance to the air than the other, or uptipped side, the position of which will allow air to slip by it so fast that it must fall of its own weight, at once righting the ship.

For propulsion and control of flight, the machine is somewhat on the lines of the many other approved patterns. It is drawn, instead of propelled, by two helices placed forward of the operator's seat, and the elevating by steering rudders, both designed on the double or box plan, are also placed forward, but in such fashion that they will not obstruct the view of the aviator.

Frank Steffan of No. 436 West Fifty-sixth street, this city, and E. H. Earle of No. 736 West Libie street, Pomona, are also among the new entries with airship models, while new gliders have likewise been entered for the contests.

A full list of the entries will be published as soon as the lists are closed.

Informal meetings are to be held every day and at night at Fiesta until after the show.

LABOR.

UNION PICKETS ARE WARNED.

JUDGE WILL NOT TOLERATE LABORITE INTERFERENCE.

"If I Find That a Man Has Been Assaulted Because He Is Trying to Earn an Honest Living I Will Give Assailant Maximum Penalty," Declares Cincinnati Jurist.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CINCINNATI (O.) April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] No more violence by "pickets" will be tolerated at plants in this city where strikes are on.

"I want to say that if I find that a man has been assaulted because he is trying to make an honest living, and if the proof of the assault is positive, I will give his assailant the maximum penalty."

Police Judge Bode made this statement today following the hearing of the case of Fred Clark, a striking stove foundry man charged with assaulting Arthur Simmons, a man alleged to have taken the place of a striker at the old Resor foundry.

"In this case I am compelled to render a Scotch verdict," said Judge Bode. "I believe the defendant did strike this man, but there is not sufficient testimony to prove it. He kept a close watch on his movements all evening, and was within twenty feet of him, when he claims that a car struck Simmons. Not proven. Dismissed."

BANK INDICTMENTS QUASHED.

Officials of Defunct Ouray Institution Were Denied Right to Question Grand Jury.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

DENVER, April 27.—The seventeen indictments against Judge Theron Stevens, George R. Hurlbut and Joseph Turner were quashed in Gunnison yesterday by Judge Carlton M. Bliss of Denver.

The indictments charged the men named, who formerly were officials of the defunct Bank of Ouray, with receiving deposits thirty days before the institution closed its doors, when, it was charged, they knew the bank was insolvent.

It was argued that the court below denied the defendants the right to appear before and question the grand jury on grounds of alleged bias and prejudice.

Judge Stevens had been appointed to the bench in Goldfield, Nev., when the indictments were found against him. He had not been a resident of Colorado for over two years.

IGNORE OUR NAVY.

England Does Not Consider United States When Estimating Needed Warships.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

LONDON, April 27.—Awakening a question in the House of Commons today, as to whether it was the policy of the government to take under consideration the American Navy when estimating the number of ships necessary for Great Britain to maintain the so-called "two-power" standard, Reginald McKenna, First Lord of the Admiralty, said that under existing condition the navy of the United States would not enter into account.

Asked whether America was not at the present moment the world's second strongest naval power, Mr. McKenna replied:

"Under the 'two-power' standard, as defined by Mr. Asquith, the American navy is not to be so regarded."

LIFE'S SEAMY SIDE.

HE ENDS LIFE OF ADVENTURE.

Broken Diplomat and Kaiser's Friend, a Suicide.

Sweeps Out Office of Lawyer and Turns on Gas.

Finishes His Existence in Abject Poverty.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Diplomat, capitalist and soldier of fortune and once close friend of the German Emperor, Albert Koelich, 72 years old, poor, broken in health, and without friends or position, ended his life today in the office of Attorney William McGee, where he had been charitably permitted to sleep.

Koelich had first carefully swept and dusted the office of his benefactor, then turned on the gas and lay down on a couch to die. Koelich held a high government position in Germany, and later was appointed Ambassador to a foreign country.

Tiring of the restricted life he returned to Germany, and taking $100,000 from the family estate, became a soldier of fortune. He traveled far and wide, finally landing in America. Here he squandered the last of his fortune. In the meantime, his parents in Germany had died and the estate became involved. The former Ambassador then had to work for his living.

CROOKS CAPTURED.

GANG WILL BE BROKEN UP.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE, April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Seattle police by timely arrests have put the kibosh on a threatened invasion of the Pacific Northwest by a fake directory gang, a confidence crowd that has defrauded the merchants and manufacturers of the East and Middle West of more than a million dollars during the past decade, say the Chicago police.

George B. Kerth and N. Lawrence Hewes are the leaders under arrest. The men will be taken to Chicago, where four of their fellows have been arrested by Detectives John B. Sausman and Leonard Zimmer, who arrived here from the Windy City today.

Although the head of the alleged gang, one A. A. Bowen, has been sought throughout the United States, Canada and Europe, he has thus far eluded the Chicago police. They hope, however, through one of the sextette they now have in custody, to discover the whereabouts of the ringleader.

In Kerth and Hewes they claim to have two of the ablest lieutenants of Bowen, Kerth being particularly valuable to the operations of the gang. They also claim that Seattle was to have been made the headquarters of the gang in the invasion planned. Others were to join them here and work throughout the Northwest as soon as they cleared up their business in the Middle West and the East, which sections were becoming too warm for them.

Kerth and Hewes have been charged with "working a confidence game," under a statute that covers various methods of obtaining money by false pretenses in Illinois. City Detectives Charles Phillips and James Byrnes arrested the two men here last Wednesday, following the receipt of information from Chicago that Kerth and Hewes were in this city and that warrants had been issued for them.

HIDEOUS CRIME PUNISHED.

Murderer, Who Brutally Tortured His Sweetheart, Shot to Death by Soldiers.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

GUADALAJARA (Mex.) April 27.—Roman Estrada today paid the death penalty for one of the most brutal crimes in the history of the Republic. Furiously jealous of his sweetheart, whom he accused of unfaithfulness, Estrada beat her severely in an attempt to compel her to confess. This method proving unsuccessful, Estrada tied the unfortunate girl to a post and cut off one of her ears, then one of her toes. Still getting no confession, the blood-maddened man tore open the girl's clothing and cut away her breasts and slashed her body. In that condition he left her. She was found hours afterward dying, but still able to give the name of her torturer. She died shortly afterward. Estrada was captured and today he was shot to death by soldiers.

SUICIDAL MANIA.

FOLLOWS HIS FOREFATHERS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

STOCKTON, April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A victim of suicidal mania inherited from his forefathers, David P. Sohl killed himself last night at the State Hospital by hanging himself to a bedpost with a towel. He had made frequent attempts to end his life, but had been prevented until early this month, when he shot himself in the mouth, leaving a wound that would not heal. He was living in Santa Clara county at the time and was committed to the local State Hospital on the 21st inst.

According to the records here, some of his relatives for many generations have committed suicide, and it is believed that the mania was communicated to the young man, who was only 21 years of age. It is said that Sohl's great-grandfather, grandfather and an uncle have committed suicide.

DRIVE AWAY POLICEMAN.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

RENO (Nev.) April 27.—After clubbing a Chinaman into unconsciousness and locking him in the cellar, four men robbed the Casino, a big gambling resort of Reno, of between $4000 and $5000 about 4 o'clock this morning. A night watchman who intruded was captured, and locked in a closet. After the men had opened the safe, they scooped the money into bags and boldly walked out the front door and started north. A policeman tried to intercept them, but they took a shot at him and he fled. They then easily made their escape, and have not yet been captured.

TO ARREST TRANSPORT CLERK.

ACCUSED OF EMBEZZLEMENT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Eugene Pearson, principal clerk of the finance branch of the United States army transport department, will be taken into custody tomorrow morning on a warrant issued from the District Attorney's office, charging him with the embezzlement of $212.91 of the moneys belonging to the United States government.

He was thought by many of those who knew him to be leading a regular and quiet life. There were a few, however, who knew he had been bestowing unusual attentions on a young woman stenographer.

It was only a chance query from headquarters at Washington, asking why some minor correspondence had not been promptly attended to, which led to an investigation, eventually disclosing a shortage in the funds of the finance branch.

OFF HIS MIND.

CONFESSION IS BOMBSHELL.

MORTGAGE FORGER TELLS OF PREVIOUS EXPOSURE.

Peter Van Vlissingen, on Witness Stand, Says He Was Compelled to Admit Crimes to Business Men Four Years Ago—Will Aggregate More Than Million.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, April 27.—Peter Van Vlissingen, whose confession last winter to the forgery of mortgages to the extent of $1,000,000 caused a great sensation in Chicago, exploded a bombshell in the bankruptcy court here today when he stated that his confession a few months ago was antedated by four years by a confession made privately to men who held $400,000 of his spurious paper.

Van Vlissengen was brought back to Chicago from prison today to testify before referee in bankrutcy, Frank L. Wean, who is attempting to located the valid assets of the prisoner. Van Vlissingen declared that in 1904 he was compelled to confess to Mauric Rosenfeld, then a director of the now defunct Chicago National Bank, and Bernhard Rosenberg, a real estate dealer, that the mortgages held by them and valued at $400,000, had been forged.

Bernhard Rosenberg likewise has been prominent in the real estate business and in Jewish society circles for many years.

Van Vlissingen's face was pale and his hands trembled as he told his story on the witness stand today. His eyes were bloodshot and his lips twitched as he faced counsel and recognized former friends among the spectators in the crowded courtroom.

The witness stated that his forgeries had continued for twenty years, but that he did not know the exact extent of them.

"Will they aggregate a million dollars?"

"Surely."

"And may be more?"

"Yes."

Asked when his marriage occurred, tears came to his eyes.

"Only two years ago," he said. "I am serving a term in prison for my crimes," said Van Vlissingen, "and it is just that I should. It feels good to get the whole thing off my heart, and I must tell the truth, no matter whom it affects."

COOPER CASE APPEALED.

NEW TRIAL IS DENIED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NASHVILLE (Tenn.) April 27.—Judge Hart today overruled the motion for a new trial in the Cooper murder case and an appeal was taken to the Tennessee Supreme Court.

The defendants were in court early, Mrs. Lucius Burch coming in with her father and brother. The Colonel appeared in excellent spirits. Robin was pale and ill at ease. The court's opinion was brief, Judge Hart in denying the motion for a new trial, merely stating there was no ground for setting aside the verdict of the jury. An appeal to the Supreme Court was then granted.

RAID ON JAP GAMBLERS.

The police last night raided the Japanese poolroom at No. 219 East First, where eight Nipponese were engaged in playing for 15 cents a game on the side. The men arrested were T. Yoskiosa, R. Amora, K. Kato, K. Mesono, O. Kono, E. Kuma, S. Moramo and S. Kawamura. They were released on $25 cash bail each for appearance in the Police Court this morning, except E. Kuma. A lottery ticket was found in his possession, and he had to put up $50.

CRIME BRIEFS.

Shoots Girl and Self.

POCATELLO (Idaho) April 27.—William J. Woodland of Rawlins, Wyo., last night shot and wounded Grace Agnes Rooney in the girl's room at a lodging-house, and then committed suicide. Miss Rooney will recover. Unrequited affection is thought to have inspired the crime. Woodland was about 30 years old.

To Investigate Lynching.

ADA (Okla.) April 27.—A special grand jury ordered by Gov. Haskell to investigate the lynching here on April 19th of James Miller, Jesse West, Joseph Allen and W. T. Burrell, the cattlemen for the murder of A. A. Bobbit, a United States deputy Marshal, convened here today. Atty.-Gen. West will contend the examination of the witnesses. More than 200 witnesses have been summoned.

Do Your Own Shoveling.

Gen. J. W. F. Hughes of the Kansas National Guard takes six spoons of granulated white sugar to every cup of coffee. The only reason he assigns for this extraordinary stunt is that he likes "his coffee sweet."

He runs up against some odd experiences over this notion. Some time ago he was in the South on a railroad diner, and the waiter came around and said: "How many lumps of sugar, sir?"

"About half a dozen," replied Hughes.

"We only give four to one cup of coffee," replied the waiter.

"Well, then, bring me another cup of coffee, so that I can have the sugar belonging to it."

Another time when the general was traveling he jumped off a train and was in a hurry to swallow down his lunch so as to make connections with another train. The dining-room girl at the railway eating-house who waited on him, after she had served his meal, took up the sugar bowl. It contained granulated sugar.

"How many spoonfuls in your coffee, please?" she asked, sweetly.

"Six or seven," answered the general, quickly.

She slammed down the sugar bowl and snorted: "Shovel the d—n stuff in yourself!" and switched out of the dining-room.—[Kansas City Journal.

"Just Like a Woman."

"Oh, dear, John, I just know I shall not like this dress."

"What's the matter now?" asked her husband without laying down his pipe or looking from his paper. "I thought you said you liked it."

"That's just it. I was so sure I wouldn't like it when I got it home, though I liked it well enough in the store. And now that I am home I do like it, and therefore I know I will not like it when it is made up. Now I don't know what to do."

"Search me," grunted the cruel man turning to the sporting page.—[Puck.

ARIZONA.

CHARGES BUT STREET TALK.

Grand Jury Fails to Find Any Crooked Work.

Hints of Legislative Graft Came to Nothing.

Millions of Gallons Now in Roosevelt Dam.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) April 26.—If there was any bribery or attempted crookedness in the last Legislature, the grand jury of Maricopa county has been unable to find it out, though it tried hard for a week, and had before it a large percentage of the Democratic leaders and lobbyists in the Legislature. The matter was one that vexed the jurors considerably, and it is said that they even discussed finding bills against the men who had brought the bribery charges before them.

It all simmered down to the common street talk during the Legislature, that it would be worth some man's financial interest to break the Council deadlock on the Pace Local Option Bill. Councilman St. Charles had been heard to state that he would lose much money through voting for the bill, but it has developed that he meant the financial support that has been given his newspaper by the saloon element in his home town of Kingman.

The grand jury took up investigation of the lower order of saloons around Phoenix, and recommended that the Supervisors refuse license to a couple of them. It also advised the passage of a law forbidding any officer to drink intoxicants while he is on duty. Most of the report was given over to an attack on the Maricopa County Poor Farm, which was declared in bad condition, except for the part operated as a consumptive ward by the Associated Charities of Phoenix, under a private agreement with the management of the farm.

MILLIONS OF GALLONS.

With the discharge gates wide open, the reservoir above the Roosevelt dam now is nine miles in length, with a maximum depth of ninety-two feet. Stored at the present time is enough water to cover 81,830 acres a foot deep. But this is a small matter compared with the full capacity of the completed reservoir, which will be 1,400,000 acre feet. Thus far placed in the dam are about 221,000 cubic yards of stone and cement, the structure rising about 140 feet at its highest point. The old townsite of Roosevelt is wholly under water, but every building in it was moved several months ago, after warning given by the Reclamation Service.

The rising waters have put a new problem on the Supervisors of Gila county, who are now laying out new roads above the lake created. The Reclamation Service has built new main roads, but they cannot be used till the dam is wholly complete, when traffic can be taken over the crest.

Director F. H. Newell of the Reclamation Service lately made a short visit to Parker, where he viewed the proposed site for a governmental dam across the Colorado, as well as about 200,000 acres of excellent land, which can be irrigated around the town if the waters of the stream can be raised and diverted. Mr. Newell stated he had heard that a private corporation was seeking authority from Congress to dam the Colorado near Parker, and that he had spoken to Senator Flint about it. The Senator said he remembered introducing such a bill, but he really knew little about it. A report was made current about the time of Mr. Newell's visit that the Reclamation Service is preparing to pump water at Parker sufficient to irrigate 20,000 acres. If this be done, it will probably be for the benefit of the Mohave Indians.

Joe V. Pidgeon, alias Frank E. Howard, who has been jailed in Phoenix, is wanted in Oakland, Cal., for seduction. He left Oakland about two months ago, spending much of the intervening time in Los Angeles. He says he will go back without waiting for extradition papers.

CREAMERY MANAGER GONE.

Buckeye farmers, interested in a cooperative creamery in their section, believe themselves losers to the amount of about $7000 through the defalcation of their manager, C. K. Sorenson. The president of the company, J. A. Weager, has been in California for the past month, leaving Sorenson in full charge.

Registration for the coming city election has closed with 1883 names on the roll, a gain of 210 over two years ago. This is despite the fact that at least 100 were barred out by the new educational qualification law.

Much commercial activity is noted in the new gold mining district around Winchester. J. V. Hadden of Los Angeles has started a store at Vicksburg, and several Phoenix merchants have established themselves also. An irregular postoffice has been opened at Winchester, though regular mail service is expected within a couple of weeks.

A telephone line to Vicksburg is to be extended to Wickenburg, where connection will be made with all the principal towns of the Territory. Winchester already has a water works system, with an ample supply pumped from a well by gasoline engine.

THEIR HOPES VANISH.

For several years a couple of men mysteriously worked in the hills just north of the precipitous Superstition Mountain, less than a mile from the camp of Goldfield. They permitted no one to see their workings, driving strangers away with threats of death. Till about a year ago it was locally believed that the men were working on a wonderful bonanza. Then, after the miners had gone to Mesa it was found that the pair had been working on an immaterial stringer of gold-bearing rock such as the locality is threaded with. The sequel came Saturday, when the pair were sent from Mesa to Phoenix to be examined on a charge of insanity. Undoubtedly sane in the beginning, their minds had given away under the strain of years of lonely toil and of privation, their hopes of wealth vanishing eventually, their strength and their money all frittered away. They are Charles Silverlock and A. Goldleaf. The former came to Arizona from Montana, with about $15,000, realized from the sale of a cattle ranch.

Yesterday was "Flower Day" in Phoenix and a score of automobiles and carriages were busy in scattering flowers to the hospitals and sanitariums and into every home where sickness was known to be. The idea was that of Rev. J. A. Geissinger, pastor of the First Methodist Church.

ISOLATE SICK INDIANS.

Francis E. Leupp, Commissioner of Indian Affairs, is in Phoenix, investigating, according to report, an outbreak of trachoma at the local Indian Industrial School. It is understood that he is especially looking into the health conditions of the southwestern tribes, with a view to possibly segregating the consumptive and diseased, thus cutting off the continual source of infection.

Judge Richard E. Sloan will arrive in Phoenix Thursday, to sit for the last time as a member of the Territorial Supreme Court, and on Saturday will take the oath of office as Governor of Arizona, succeeding Joseph H. Kibbey. Arrangements are being made for a formal reception to the new Governor, and to Secretary George U. Young, by a committee of the Board of Trade, headed by Gen. A. J. Sampson.

At a City Council meeting Saturday night construction of nearly four miles of cement sidewalk was ordered.

Yesterday in a cheap lodging house in Phoenix was found the body of a lodger who had registered as "H. Best, Los Angeles," and who had arrived from the Coast only the previous day.

NEW PLAY HOUSES.

April 30 will be formally dedicated the new Elks Theater, on which the order has spent about $30,000.

A new open-air theater, with seating capacity for 1500, is to be built at once at the corner of Van Buren and First streets.

An instance of the rise in the value of land around Phoenix was afforded Saturday in the sale of a section northwest of the city for $125 an acre by W. A. Giles of Chicago, who paid only $40 an acre five years ago.

Dr. Louis Stern, a pioneer physician of Phoenix, but for twenty years an active practitioner in San Francisco, died in the coast city last week, aged 55.

It is reported that the principalship of the Northern Arizona Normal School at Flagstaff has been offered Dr. R. H. H. Blome, now in charge of the department of psychology at the Arizona Normal School at Tempe.

Business Benefit of Ventilation.

A demonstration of the practical advantages of good ventilation has been experienced at the Cambridge station of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company. The tollroom in the building is long and narrow, with windows at the front and back. In winter, when the windows could not be opened with safety, the air became vitiated quickly. In the spring of 1907 a duct was built along the ceiling, opening to the street at the front, and discharging air into the room by 1¼-inch holes, fans being placed in the rear wall to exhaust the vitiated air from the room. The entire cost of the installation was $75, and a marked improvement in the comfort and general condition of the operators followed this change. In the winter of 1907-08 the average percentage of absences among the sixty-odd operators was cut in two. In the three winter months alone this saving amounted to 1.3 times the wages of one operator, equivalent to a profit of $195 for the company on its capital investment of $75.—[Exchange.

A Horse With Sense.

Horse sense was exhibited by an old gray horse hitched to a dray near the Milwaukee station yesterday. His owner had thrown a blanket on him in a careless manner, and one corner of the covering was turned back by the wind so that the horse's shoulder was exposed to the cold blast.

When the horse saw his driver go into the station to escape the cold, and knew there was nobody present to rearrange the blanket, he turned his head to one side and drew the blanket forward by his teeth. Whether it was intentional or not, he then pushed the loose end of the covering down between his shoulder and the thill of the sleigh. The wind kept blowing, but did not dislodge the blanket.—[Minneapolis Journal.

HER LIFE IN DANEGR

If You Have Catarrh or Weak Lungs, Read This Carefully.

"Some five years ago I was taken with a bad attack of bronchitis. I was affected with a bronchial cough and cold. The cough was generally much more apparent at night, and I would wake up choking and gasping for breath and there seemed to be a terrible stoppage in my throat and tubes.

"My throat was tender and irritable and had an aching sensation which was especially bad at times. I doctored and used several different remedies, but never received any permanent relief that kept the malady from coming on until I used Hyomei. This remedy, which to me is certainly infallible, cured the trouble, and to it I ascribe the cause of my being alive.

"Hyomei certainly saved my life, and I accord it the credit which it deserves and merits. There is nothing too strong for me to say regarding Hyomei."—Mrs. Ada Hopkins, 8 Cutter Ave., Coldwater, Mich., August 22, 1908.

Hyomei (pronounced High-o-me) is breathed into the lungs through a hard rubber inhaler in the form of antiseptic air; this air is produced from the extracts taken from the eucalyptus, pine and other trees that grow in inland Australia where catarrh, asthma or consumption was never known to exist.

The soothing antiseptic air of Hyomei as it passes over the inflamed membrane soothes the inflammation, kills the microbes and cures catarrh.

Complete outfit, $1.00, including inhaler, extra bottles 50 cents at leading druggists everywhere.

HIGH GROUND, PIANO FINISH.
HIGH GROUND, PIANO FINISH.
HIGH GROUND, PIANO FINISH.

This is without doubt one of the most perfect finished and arranged houses we have ever had the pleasure of advertising. New and the finishing touches just being put on; mahogany and oak, are finished just the same as your piano. Location is on southwest corner, being the double clean corner, and the lot 75x156 to alley. House contains 10 rooms, and we mean ROOMS not CLOSETS. The front porch is exceptionally inviting, being much out of the ordinary for size; all of cement. The entire entrance being of selected quarter-sawed oak with beautiful design of bevel-plate glass laid in copper. Upon entering you are received into large reception hall, finished in the finest Tabasco mahogany that money could buy, with elegant gold-embroidered tapestry border that is pleasing to the eye. The living-room, 15x25, finished in quarter-sawed oak, with oval bay window containing 7 windows; front window 14 ft. long, of one piece. The open fireplace and mantel is a work of ART. The equal of any contained in $50,000 and $75,000 homes. Walls are hung with silk-finished tapestry paper. Dining-room (oh, what a beautiful spot,) being 17x22, all in oak, with oval bay window containing 6 windows. Built-in buffet has no equal; beautiful in design and not one dollar left to make it perfect. Walls are hung with heavy imported tapestry. There are 2 large bed chambers on the lower floor, finished with beautiful embossed paper and special border. Bathroom on this floor is a show place; entire floor of tile and tile border; bath, toilet and lavatory running into hundreds of dollars. In fact, the plumbing bill alone in this house was $1181.50. It is impossible to describe the kitchen and its comforts, just let us show you. Back porch is 12x18, complete in finish. Basement is very large and contains laundry room, furnace room, wood and coal bins, heater, etc. No muss whatever on wash days. The upper floors contain 5 bedchambers, one of which is 15x30; large hall and a very commodious bathroom. The closets we will simply call them, women's delight. You possibly have seen good lighting fixtures before, but none that will make your eyes dazzle like the ones contained here. The lot highly improved with choice trees, some costing as high as $25 apiece. Garage is a beauty, being 2-story, with driver's quarters above. Sink, toilet, work bench, closets, pit, etc. In conclusion, if you are looking for a PERFECT HOME, perfect in workmanship and material, perfect in finish, perfect in arrangement, all we ask is the pleasure of showing you. We have just exactly what we advertise. We can arrange terms if you wish.

SECTION ON CAR LINE.
LOTS 171 FEET DEEP.
$1000 TO $1800.
ON SATISFACTORY TERMS.

There are many tracts offered but none having so many features of present worth and great future value. The locality is a broad mesa, swept by soft sea breezes. It overlooks a vast expanse of the famous Wilshire residence section. Surrounding tracts are platted artistically. The 70 ft. wide streets are oil tamped and have broad cement walks, curbs and gutters. The parkings are planted with large palms and flowers. Stone pillars surmounted by handsome electroliers mark the street intersections. The landscape is cultivated and the houses surrounding and in the tract are of a high order of architecture. Suitable building restrictions, and the high-class residences already completed assure a class of homes designed to elevate the standard and constantly increase the lot values. All improvements are of the latest type, placing Oxford Square a step or two ahead of all other residence localities, with the present price a step or two behind.

FOR SALE—
FIRST-CLASS ORANGE GROVES.
Two necessary qualifications of a good orange grove are good soil and plenty of water. These, with no frost, and it is only a question of time when any grove will become a money-maker. We handle such groves, and such only. Here are a few:
$26,000—15 acres W. navels, 16 years old, near Upland, A-1 soil; abundance of cheap water, fine location, $9000 crop this year. This grove has netted $27,000 the last four years, and can be depended on to pay for itself over and above all expenses in the next four years. This is a money-maker.

$5000—5 acres W. navels, in same neighborhood, on broad public thoroughfare; a $2000 crop just marketed. Netted nearly 25 per cent. this year.

$30,000—Will buy you the finest 17½-acre grove and home in Pomona Valley. One no better, no nicer, no better location, not so large, sold for $40,000. A home with all the conveniences wealth can buy, and your grove will take care of you. If you have a little money would like to show you this ideal home. Ten acres Valencias, balance W. navels; $6000 crop. New 2-story, 8-room house, modern in every detail. Nice lawn, broad avenue, good barn, no frost, abundance of cheap water. Good team, wagons, all farming implements, etc., etc., go with it; ½ cash, balance to suit.
These properties are all first-class, and we expect every one of them to go this week. If you are interested, act at once.

FOR SALE—
BEST AND CHEAPEST
ORANGE LAND
ON EASY PAYMENTS.
The best is always the cheapest. Monte Vista land is cheap and the best as well. No other land in the orange district excels it in fertility and productiveness. If you paid double the price you could not get land with a better present or more promising future value. There is very little of it left but the choice remaining is just as good as the choicest taken.

FOR SALE—TO "LINER" ADVERTISERS: Dating from June 1, classified advertising in The Times will be charged by the word at the present established rate of 1c per word in the daily issue and 1½c Sunday.
Close calculations, covering a period of several months, develop the fact that the average number of words to the line are a fraction over seven. This basis for charge, therefore, will prevail after June 1.
Cash "want" advertising has always been calculated by the word, and this regulation will not change the manner of handling it.
The present "want" ad. rate has been in effect for many years, though the circulation of the paper, now more than 50,000 daily and 80,000 Sundays, has trebled during this period. No paper in the United States, rate considered, compares with The Times in "want" ad. service.

TO "LINER" ADVERTISERS:
Dating from June 1, classified advertising in The Times will be charged by the word at the present established rate of 1c per word in the daily issue and 1½c Sunday.
Close calculations, covering a period of several months, develop the fact that the average number of words to the line are a fraction over seven. This basis for charge, therefore, will prevail after June 1.
Cash "want" advertising has always been calculated by the word, and this regulation will not change the manner of handling it.
The present "want" ad. rate has been in effect for many years, though the circulation of the paper, now more than 50,000 daily and 80,000 Sundays, has trebled during this period. No paper in the United States, rate considered, compares with The Times in "want" ad. service.

Teaching American Customs.

To teach the prospective English emigrant things he should know in order to adapt himself to his future home is the object of an imperial school near London. At it the youngster who has determined to follow fortune across the seas is taught farming, riding, shooting and the roping of cattle and horses.—[Exchange.

GIOVANNI GIOLITTI WINS BITTER CABINET FIGHT.

ROME, April 15.—The electoral struggle here was of the most bitter kind, and the result shows that the policy of the Giolitti Cabinet has the approval of the nation.

The contest was especially keen in Rome, Turin, Bologna, Genoa, Naples and Puglia. In the latter during the voting there were many fights, stones, sticks and in some cases revolvers being used. At 10 o'clock this evening news had been received of six deaths and more than a score of injured in election fights. Two Dominican friars are among the latter.

The Socialists gained principally in Rome and Turin. The total number of "extreme" deputies in the chamber is increased by about half a dozen. All the Ministers, Deputies have been reelected, it is believed. The result of the fight against the Minister of Posts and Telegraphs, Signor Schanzer, is not yet known, however. The clericals may be counted as about twenty, all, however, constitutionalists.

The Giolitti Cabinet has a strength now of about 400 Deputies. The opposition parties will altogether number about 150, but they are not united among themselves.

PRESIDENT'S REPORT.

CRITICISES SECRETARY OF THE NATIVE SONS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

MARYSVILLE, April 26.—Grand President Charles Belshaw was stuck in mud somewhere between this city and Colusa, in his automobile this morning and the opening session of the Thirty-second Annual Grand Parlor of Native Sons of the Golden West was delayed on that account.

First Vice-President Joseph R. Knowland, called the session to order at 10 o'clock and introduced T. R. Cooper, a representative of the United States Forestry Service, who gave an address on forestry and the work of foresters in Germany and the United States.

The committee on credentials reported near noon, the delegates were seated and the Grand Parlor took a recess until 2 o'clock.

The delegates and aspirants to office are busy doing politics. A big fight is on for the office of Grand Secretary and Treasurer. Charles Turner, the incumbent, has an opponent for the secretaryship in Fred H. Jung, of San Francisco, and for treasurer, the incumbent John McDougal, is opposed by Henry Pasque.

Frank McAllister and Al Kihn, both of Alameda county, are after the office of outside sentinel, while over a dozen members are mentioned for grand trustees.

Placerville and Georgetown Parlors have a proposition to donate to the Grand Parlor twenty-three acres of land adjoining the Marshall Monument at Coloma, providing the parlor will maintain there a home for old native sons. Many delegates are favorable to the project.

Berkeley Parlor has a plan to make admission to parlors more difficult, by providing that the medical examination be more severe and requiring the family history of the applicant be given.

Monterey and Lake Tahoe seek the next session of the Grand Parlor, and San José wants the Admission Day celebration.

Grand President Belshaw arrived at noon and his report was submitted. It scores the secretary for the manner in which he compiled the records of the meeting of the Grand Parlor held in Yosemite Valley. The report says:

"I feel it my duty to call the attention of the Grand Parlor to the fact that the proceedings of the thirty-first session of the Grand Parlor held in Yosemite Valley last year, not only do not contain several of the most important transactions of that Grand Parlor, but also record some of the transactions as they did not occur."

The report shows that the increase in membership up to January 1, 1909, for the year, was 1625. The total membership at present is 20,000.

The first day's session of the Grand Parlor of the Native Sons ended this evening with the appointment of the Committee on Resolutions:

President Belshaw's report criticising Secretary Turner was the principal topic of discusion among the delegates during the afternoon.

Grand Organist H. G. W. Dinkiespiel was absent and John E. Belshaw, Jr., took his place.

Grand Marshal Louis Erb named as his assistants W. H. Johnson, G. Little and M. G. Riggs.

The Committee on Credentials was composed of A. J. Turner, Frank Gonzales and Henry Sweet.

E. H. Haywood of Woodland was named as minute clerk.

Grand Trustee F. L. Arbogast moved that when the Grand Parlor adjourn, it be out of respect to the memory of Past Grand President, R. C. Rust, late of Sacramento.

The roll call of the grand officers disclosed the following present: Past Grand Presidents John H. Grady, Fred H. Greely, Frank H. Dunne, W. M. Conley, Frank Mattison and M. T. Dooling; Charles M. Belshaw, Grand President; Joseph R. Knowland, Grand First Vice-President; Daniel A. Ryan, Grand Second Vice-President; H. C. Lichtenberger, Grand Third Vice-President; Charles H. Turner, Grand Secretary; John E. McDougald, Grand Treasurer; Louis F. Erb, Grand Marshal; James E. Fitzgerald, Grand Inside Sentinel; R. G. Lawson, Grand Outside Sentinel; Clarence E. Jarvis, George A. Burns, E. F. Garrison, J. L. Griffin, F. L. Arbogast, Grand Trustees.

Tonight the city was brilliantly illuminated, and the street carnival and outdoor attractions were in full blast.

The public reception in the Marysville Theater was an overflow affair. Past President Fred Greely extended a welcome to the delegates on behalf of the city, and Mayor Peter Delay handed over the keys of the city.

Grand President Belshaw made the response and thanked the city in glowing terms.

Among the speakers were Judge M. T. Dooling, Congressman Joseph R. Knowland, Second Vice-President Daniel A. Ryan, Past Grand President, Frank Coombs, H. R. McNoble, John F. Davis, Past Grand President C. E. McLaughlin and E. E. Leake.

INDIANA DESERT EXTENDED.

White and Jackson Counties Go Dry at Local Option Election—Women Aid Workers.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

INDIANAPOLIS (Ind.) April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] White and Jackson counties, the latter containing the city of Seymour, voted under the county local option law today and both are in the dry column tonight. The wets carried Seymour by 302 majority, but this was overcome by the country vote, and the county is dry by about 370 majority. White county, which contains no important city, proved an easy field for the local optionists, and the official count will show a majority close to 1000.

The contest in both counties was characterized by a good deal of bitterness, but the elections passed off without any trouble at the polls, the chief feature being the work of the women, who served hot lunches to the workers.

Twenty-seven saloons will go out of business as a result of today's vote in the two counties.

Today's score makes forty-four counties that have voted dry out of a total of forty-seven local option elections held under the county law.

CRIES INNOCENCE IN DELIRIUM.

James W. Wilson, Convicted of Murder, Taken to Hospital Dangerously Ill With Pneumonia.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26.—Constantly protesting his innocence in his delirium of fever, James W. Wilson, the electrician convicted last Friday of the murder of his employer, John Boas, by sending him strychnine through the mails disguised as a remedy for indigestion, is in the County Hospital, dangerously ill with pneumonia.

When the jury returned the verdict of murder in the first degree, Wilson collapsed, and upon arriving at the County Jail was found to be in such a precarious condition that he was removed to the hospital, where it developed he was suffering from pneumonia.

AFTER THEATRICAL TRUST.

Missouri House Passes Bill to Compel Bookings on Open Dates.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

JEFFERSON CITY (Mo.) April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A bill aimed at the theatrical trust was passed by the House today by a vote of 73 to 22. Under its provisions managers of theaters are required to book any production on open dates. In order to determine whether there are open dates, the management, under the proposed law, is required to keep a list of all bookings and their dates for the convenience and inspection of any person desiring to rent the house. Violations of the clause requiring posting of lists is punishable by a fine of from $10 to $20. Refusal to let the theater for any reputable production on open dates, or fixing prohibitive rental values, is to be punished by a fine of from $100 to $500.

SLIDES BLOCK TRAINS.

KALISPELL (Mont.) April 26.—Earth and snow slides, which have continued intermittently for the last sixteen hours at a point on the Great Northern, one mile east of Nyack, have completely blocked traffic and a dozen trains, including four passenger trains, are tied up on either side. Large crews of men are endeavoring to open the road, but little progress can be made against the repeated slides. Some trains are now twenty-four hours' late. The damage to the tracks cannot yet be estimated.

LAUDS WESTERN CITIES.

President of Life Insurance Company Has Only Praise for Our Wonderful Growth.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, April 26.—After telling of the solidity and remarkable growth of the cities on the Pacific Coast and Far West, Darwin P. Kingsley, president of the New York Life Insurance Company, who has just returned from a western trip of ten weeks, said:

"I found that the mighty man in all that great region is E. H. Harriman. I found little criticism of him, even in California. On the contrary, his plans and purposes are recognized everywhere from New Orleans to Seattle as involving the best interests of all the Pacific Coast and intermountain region.

"San Francisco, Los Angeles, Tacoma, Seattle, Portland, Spokane, Salt Lake City and Denver are all making most remarkable progress—a progress which should make every man feel proud."

ST. LOUIS BANKER WEDS.

Marriage of Hamilton A. Forman to Miss Kilber Surprise to Friends. Wedding Trip South.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Hamilton A. Forman, former president of the Fourth National Bank, and of the Central National Bank, and, until a few days ago, president of the City Council, was married this afternoon to Miss Cora J. Kilber of No. 4230 Page boulevard, a beautiful young St. Louis girl, in Nashville, Ill. The wedding was a surprise to Mr. Forman's friends. The ceremony was performed in the parsonage of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, by Rev. T. A. Ballard. Mr. and Mrs. Forman departed at 5:22 p.m. for a trip South. It is understood they will go to Europe before they return.

ENDS FAMOUS SMOKE CASE.

Federal Judge Dismisses Suit Brought by Farmers Against Large Smelters at Anaconda.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

BUTTE (Mont.) April 26.—Judge William H. Hunt, in the Federal court today, dismissed the bill in the action brought in the name of Fred J. Bliss against the Anaconda and Washoe companies to close down the large smelters at Anaconda. Each side will pay its own costs, which are said to aggregate about $500,000. This order disposes of the famous "smoke case" begun three years ago by the farmers of Deerlodge Valley, who claimed they were being damaged by the fumes from the smelter and who demanded an injunction closing down the works.

JOKE ON M'CARREN.

NEW YORK, April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Wall street smiled today when it learned how Senator Patrick H. McCarren's check was used to pay for the stocks which Lindsay Russell, receiver of Ennis and Stoppani, delivered to him on Saturday. Senator McCarren had agreed to settle his account of $450,000 with its loss of $124,000, on condition that the stock certificates be delivered to him, but Mr. Russell did not have the stocks or any funds to buy them with. He borrowed the stocks from a broker, got McCarren's certified check in return and then had the broker buy in the stock on the exchange, using McCarren's money for the purpose.

SHOOTING OVER POLITICS.

MEADVILLE (Miss.) April 26.—Cornelius Pritchard is dead and three persons are wounded as a result of a six-handed shooting affray here today, the outgrowth of a political feud. Dr. A. M. Newman recently defeated Pritchard's father for chancery clerk, and feeling between the two factions became intense. When Pritchard met Newman today weapons were drawn and the firing was begun.

IS MELBA'S FIND.

New Mexican Line.

MEXICO CITY, April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Mexican government today granted a concession to the Canadian syndicate, headed by Dr. F. S. Pearson of New York for the construction of a line of railroad from Juarez, opposite El Paso, Tex., to the town of Chihuahua, State of Chihuahua, a distance of about 250 miles. The syndicate has organized the Mexican and Northwestern Railway Company to carry out its plans.

TRADE DEPRESSION IN JAPAN.

Large Falling Off in Foreign Trade and Decreased Purchases Tell the Story.

[London Economist:] The effect of the general depression of trade has been very marked in Japan, especially as it comes at a time when the country is by no means fully recuperated from the war with Russia. The falling off of about 130,000,000 yen in foreign trade, as compared with 1907, has naturally had its effect on internal trade, which is burdened by the high taxation necessitated by the recent war and by the high price of commodities occasioned thereby. A sure sign of hard times in Japan is the decrease of purchases before the New Year, and this was very marked in December last. Very many people are out of employment; all large establishments show a tendency to reduce the number of their employés, and many smaller works have shut up entirely; while the number of empty houses in the larger towns is noticeable. Probably as Japan has but recently entered the field of industrialism, and has less reserve power, she is more readily affected, while the general rise in prices caused by the government's persistence in an illiberal policy of exactions and restrictions increases the distress.

Freak Hands of Cards.

It is well known to card players that the number of combinations that can be made with a deck of fifty-two cards is practically unlimited, and many stories of freak hands at poker have gone the rounds for years. It is probable, however, that five hands dealt at a "family" game in Germantown one evening last week will stand as the most remarkable on record. In the game were three women and two men, and the pack had been in use for half an hour, when each of the players picked up a "pat" hand, which resulted in some lively betting of penny chips. When the showdown came it was found that the hands in order from the dealer were an eight full, a seven full, a six full, a five full and a four full. As the dealer had the lowest hand he was not under suspicion, but the five hands were kept as a curiosity, and the accuracy of the story is well vouched for.—[Philadelphia Record.

The Dream.

Begin at once to make ideal real,
Teach men to know what love would have them be,
By lives, not perfect, but of perfect trust
With courage to obey the deathless dream,
Till what was fancy is earth's common fact.
The ancient hope lives in the heart of him
Who glimpses glory through the passing shame
And wrong he longs to right, or turns in pain
Upon himself, when sorrow makes man wise
And visionary.

All is yet to be!
Whatever prophet dreamed of far-off joy,
Or poet chanted in his lyric heart,
Shall glow a moment ere it fade before
The grander beauty yet undreamed by man.
Let others hunt and hoard, but you must Bear the burden of the future; let the years
Crowd honor otherwise, but you must walk
With grief companion, loneliness as guide,
Along the valley where the vision leads.

Tomorrow we are gone, if life were well,
To other higher efforts. Do we fail?
Another takes our place, and all we loved
Or lived shall blaze anew in younger eyes;
By stronger hands the banner we let fall
Be flung above defeat, the lords of life
Singing triumphant as they march to fame:
"Who fights for truth must fight without reward."

Notice of Trustee's Sale.

Whereas, the People's Gas and Coke Company, a corporation organized and existing under and by virtue of the laws of the State of California, and having its principal place of business in the City of Los Angeles, County of Los Angeles, State of California, by a deed of trust dated September 1st, 1906, recorded October 12th, 1906, in Book 2873, Page 172 of Trust Deeds, in Book 1498, Page 87 of Mortgages, and in Book 189, Page 14, of Chattel Mortgages, in the office of the County Recorder of Los Angeles County, California, did grant and convey the premises therein and hereinafter described to the TITLE INSURANCE AND TRUST COMPANY (herein sometimes called "Trustee"), as trustee to secure, among other things, the payment of a bonded indebtedness of said People's Gas and Coke Company in the sum of $5,000,000, evidenced by 5000 bonds amounting in the aggregate to $5,000,000, dated September 1st, 1906, due and payable thirty years after date, with interest thereon at the rate of five per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually, in Gold Coin of the United States of America, interest payable on the 1st days of March and September of each year, and represented by interest coupons attached to said bonds, principal and interest to be paid at the National Bank of Commerce, Los Angeles, California, American National Bank of Pomona, California, or the Hanover National Bank, New York City, N. Y., and

Whereas, That $227,000 par value of said bonds and no more have been issued and bonds of said issue to the amount of $227,000 were on the 1st day of September, 1908, and are now outstanding; that G. H. Hayes was on the 1st day of September, 1908, and now is the owner of $219,000, par value, of said outstanding bonds; that on the 1st day of September, 1908, there became due as interest upon said bonds, owned by the said G. H. Hayes, the sum of $5475.00; that said interest was not then paid to the said G. H. Hayes or to any person in his behalf, and has not since been paid; that on the 2nd day of September, 1908, said G. H. Hayes, presented the coupons representing said interest to the Peoples' Gas and Coke Company and demanded payment thereof, which payment was refused; that on the same date he presented the coupons representing said interest to the National Bank of Commerce in the City of Los Angeles, California, said Bank being one of the places of payment of said coupons, and demanded payment thereof, which payment was refused by the said National Bank of Commerce because of want of funds of the People's Gas and Coke Company, to pay the same or any of them; and

Whereas, on the 8th day of September, 1908, written notice of said default was given to and served upon the said People's Gas and Coke Company by said Title Insurance and Trust Company, trustee, which written notice stated and declared the said default and the particulars and amount and consequences thereof, and

Whereas, said default has continued from the 1st day of September, 1908, to the present time, and for more than sixty days after said written notice thereof by the trustee to the said People's Gas and Coke Company; and said interest so in default has not been paid nor any part thereof; and

Whereas, it is provided in said deed of trust that if the said People's Gas and Coke Company shall fail to pay said coupons or any of them, according to their tenor and on the due presentation of the same and such default or failure shall continue for a space of sixty days after written notice thereof had been given by the trustee of the said People's Gas and Coke Company, then the whole amount of principal and interest on said bonds shall be deemed immediately due and payable at the election of the trustee; and

Whereas, said G. H. Hayes, being the owner and holder of $219,000 par value, of said bonds, has in writing declared said default and has declared that by reason thereof the whole amount of principal and interest of said bonds outstanding are now due and payable and has not waived the said default; and has requested and directed the trustee to elect and declare the principal of said bonds due and payable, and that it proceed to sell the property covered by said deed of trust as therein provided; and

Whereas, by reason of said default and the request and demand of the said G. H. Hayes of the TITLE INSURANCE AND TRUST COMPANY, trustee, has declared the whole amount of the bonds outstanding to be now due and payable; and

Whereas, it is provided in and by said deed of trust that in the event of a default as aforesaid the said trustee may proceed to sell and dispose of the property covered by said deed of trust at public auction in the City of Los Angeles to accomplish the objects of said trust, first giving notice of said sale as in said deed of trust provided; and

Whereas, there became due on the 1st day of March, 1909, as interest upon said bonds owned by the said G. H. Hayes, the further sum of $5475; that said interest was not then paid to the said G. H. Hayes, or to any person in his behalf, and has not since been paid, although payment thereof has been demanded by the said G. H. Hayes.

Now, Therefore, notice is hereby given that the undersigned by virtue of the authority in it vested as trustee will sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash in United States Gold Coin, on Saturday, the 22nd day of May, 1909, at the hour of eleven o'clock a. m. of said day, at the Broadway street entrance of the County Court House, in the City of Los Angeles, County of Los Angeles, State of California, the property therein described situate in the County of Los Angeles, State of California, to-wit:

1. All right, title, claim, estate and interest, legal or equitable, of the People's Gas and Coke Company in and to any and all real estate or the tenements or appurtenances thereof, however described or wherever situated, including therein all right and interest in the gas street mains and laterals, meters, governors, service pipes, connections and other incidentals connected or used therewith.

2. All the real property or interest or estate therein acquired since the date of said deed of trust, by the said party of the first part.

3. Also license-rights under the following United States Letters-Patent as per License-Agreement dated August ——, 1906, between Lowe Manufacturing Company and said People's Gas and Coke Company, and subject to all the covenants and conditions thereof, and which Letters-Patent are more particularly described as follows, to-wit:

Letters-Patent No. 711,904, granted October 21st, 1902, for "Apparatus for the Manufacture of Coke and the Recovery of Gases therefrom."

Letters-Patent No. 711,905, granted October 21st, 1902, for "Process for Manufacturing Coke."

Letters-Patent No. 718,008 granted January 6th, 1903, for "Air Heaters and Steam Generators."

4. All stocks, bonds and other securities and contracts held and owned by the said People's Gas and Coke Company or acquired by said People's Gas and Coke Company since the date of said trust deed.

Also all other property of every name, character and description owned by the People's Gas and Coke Company on the 1st day of September, 1906, and all property of every name, character and description acquired by the said People's Gas and Coke Company since said date, including all real estate, buildings, power houses, gas works, coke ovens, gas mains and connections, holders, receivers, tanks, wharves, warehouses, rights of way, means of distribution, machinery of all description, equipment, all rights under patents, privileges and franchises of every name and nature and wheresoever situated; including all property owned by the said People's Gas and Coke Company on the 1st day of September, 1906, and all property subsequently acquired by it to date hereof.

Together with all and singular the tenements, hereditaments and appurtenances thereunto belonging or in any wise appertaining.

Or so much thereof as shall be necessary to pay the principal sums of said bonds outstanding, to-wit: The sum of $227,000, together with interest thereon from the 1st day of March, 1908, at the rate of five per cent. per annum, the expenses of said trust in the sum of $1500, a counsel fee of $500, and the expenses of said sale.

Terms of sale cash in United States Gold Coin, twenty-five per cent. payable at the time of the acceptance of the bid and balance at the delivery of deed.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, said TITLE INSURANCE AND TRUST COMPANY has authorized this notice and has caused its corporate name and seal to be hereunto affixed by its President and Assistant Secretary thereunto duly authorized this 19th day of April, 1909.

Indiana's New Senator.

Benjamin F. Shively Talks of Himself, His Career in Youth, and of the Democratic Party of Today.

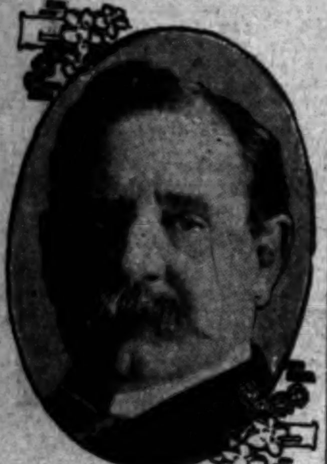
BY JAMES B. MORROW.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—If some citizen of Eastport, in Maine, on the Atlantic Ocean, for grave reasons of business or purposes wholly ceremonious, were desirous of talking to or looking at a Democratic Senator, Congress being adjourned, he would need to travel a long way and to spend no little of his time and currency.

Crossing New England, New York, a corner of Pennsylvania, the State of Ohio, and half of Indiana, he would wearily leave his train at South Bend, where any native, I dare say, would joyfully direct him to the law office of Benjamin F. Shively. If the Eastport citizen were to journey straight west he would not find another Democratic Senator until he reached the city of Denver.

Geographically, strategically, and politically, Benjamin F. Shively is a well-located and conspicuous man. New in the Senate, coming to his office during March just past, he was a seasoned orator and campaigner years ago in the lower House of Congress. He talked freight rates and monopolies before any regulatory laws were written into the national statute books. His public career reaches back to a vote on the bill which Roger Q. Mills wrote when he tried to reduce the tariff. In preparation, therefore, and in the technics of leadership he should be equal to party requirements and to the uncommon personal opportunities which may open, his friends think, the very door of the Presidency.

All of Mr. Shively's photographs were taken when he was a youngster. They make him to appear to be immature, and, perhaps, musical. I was amazed, consequently, to find a slender, large-boned, and muscular six-footer, with the head and the strong, handsome face of an idealized soldier. His hair, slightly crinkled and splashed with gray, was parted nearly in the center, while his mustache, tawny in color, was suggestive of the cavalry or artillery. His eyes are almost blue, his nose is big but classic, and his mouth and chin are aggressive and masculine. He wore dark clothing—the coat being short and double-breasted—a green necktie and a high, straight collar. In atmosphere he was self-poised and impressively attractive. When he talked he was candid and human, but he edged his words with the sagaciousness that accompanies watchful and capable craftsmanship in politics.



Ben F. Shively.

Before I ventured to ask him about the prospective fight in 1912, and its probable issues, I made some inquiries concerning himself and his family.

"My father," he said, "was born in Ohio, near Canton, the home of William McKinley. After he moved to Indiana he lived a few miles east of South Bend, on the banks of the St. Joseph River. He was both a carpenter and a farmer. Starting with a little land, he bought a tract of forty acres now and then as his three sons grew up, a performance in shrewd financiering, let me add, which always kept us in debt and my two brothers and myself hard at work.

"I attended school regularly until I was nine years old. After that I went four months in the winter, leaving early for the spring plowing and not returning until after the corn had been husked in the late autumn. I learned a little carpentry, but I did not master the trade. Although I might be able now to make a living at rough work, building fences and so on, I have never represented myself to be a proficient journeyman."

"Why did you begin to teach school at the age of seventeen?"

"I heard that Bill Whiteside and other older boys of my acquaintance were getting $40 and were boarding around. Forty dollars a month and board, I thought, was as far as any man need to go. I think I was sixteen years old when I crossed the St. Joseph River to see about a school of my own. One of the directors, a wealthy farmer, was husking corn in a large field. I asked him not to stop his work on my business, saying I would husk along with him while we talked. We went back and forth across the wide field several times, I keeping slightly ahead of the director for its moral effect. When I left, toward noon, he said he would confer with the other directors. In a day or two he sent me word that I had been hired. So I closed my first independent financial operation.

"I earned $160 that winter, and had the novel experience of boarding around. Every morning I congratulated myself because I wasn't compelled to curry the horses or to milk the cows. I bought some clothing and had a balance of $100 in the spring. Giving $95 to my father, I started for the town of Adrian, over the line in Michigan. A man whom I knew was employed by a concern that dealt in school furniture. He persuaded me to become an agent—a traveling agent, you understand. I was to ride on the cars and live at hotels. As the future took form in my expectations, I saw the schoolhouses of Washington, Baltimore, New York, Boston and Philadelphia full of beautiful new furniture, sold for spot cash and a mighty good commission by Benjamin F. Shively, traveling representative.

"I spent most of the $5 I had remaining during the short and happy journey into Michigan. Adrian, I remember, bought a dozen patent mops and a few other educational accessories—brooms, perhaps. I also made one small sale in the outlying regions. Meanwhile, I was sending my orders and writing daily letters to the friend whose art and eloquence had drawn me into the business. I didnt know it at the time, but he was sick in bed with the measles. My letters accordingly remained unanswered. I watched the freight trains, but the mops never came.

"At the end of a week my position as a traveling representative was distressingly embarrassing. The logical contact between my employer and myself seemed to be mysteriously broken. The janitor of the Adrian school asked many unnecessary questions. I owed my board, and was ashamed to face my landlady. Still, I didn't intend to confess my defeat by writing home for money. I had made some remarks to the family, previous to my departure, concerning the unprofitableness of agriculture, as compared with manufacturing, and had spoken rather positively of my prospective conquest of the East in the school furniture line.

"Well, the traveling representative walked into the country and plowed for a farmer until he had earned enough money to pay his debts in Adrian, and to buy a ticket back to the village of Osceola, in the State of Indiana. I never again attempted to peddle or to sell anything.

"The routine I had abandoned so confidently was resumed once more—farm work in the summer and school teaching in the winter. One year I taught in Osceola, which I deemed to be a long and lusty stride forward in pedagogics. After our own harvest, the autumn following my eighteenth birthday, Bill Whiteside and I set off for the Northwest to bind wheat. We left home dressed in frock coats, linen dusters and white cotton neckties. Bill was a local Methodist Episcopal preacher, but was still going to school.

"On the train a boy sold us a book for $1.50. Noticing our linen dusters, he wanted $4 at first. I succeeded in closing the negotiations, however, at the lower price. Bill was to be a regular preacher and I had about concluded to read law, and both of us felt studious and bookish. School teaching, at $40 a month and board, I had discovered, was not as far as a man could go. An atmosphere of literature, so it seemed to Bill and me, comported with our outlook, together with our coats and neckties. Nevertheless, the boy on the train soaked us. While waiting in Chicago for a boat we visited a second-hand store and saw piles of the very same book we had purchased plainly marked at 25 cents apiece. Technically, if I include my adventure in Michigan, the transaction with the boy was my third financial operation. After that Bill and I did not accept all we heard at 100 per cent.

"We went ashore in Wisconsin. Taking a slow train, buying tickets every few stations, we sat on opposite sides of the day coach and watched the ripening wheat fields. Pretty soon we got into a country where the harvest was about ready for cutting. We left the train, removed our dusters, and started off on foot, carpet bags in hand, to find work. I suppose we walked eight miles, passing houses that did not suit us and farms at which, from general appearances, we felt disinclined to stop. Occasionally we would halt and bargain—Bill at one place and I at another—merely as commercial exercise, as well as to ascertain the temper of the community with respect to wages and its general attitude toward itinerant gentlemen in the search of jobs.

"Along about sundown we drew near to a large white house with green shutters. I left Bill at the gate and stepped upon the porch. A mighty pretty girl, with dark eyes and hair, came to the door. When I told her my business she looked at my frock coat and laughed. 'The man you want to see,' she said, 'is back of the stable cutting grass.'

"As I turned to go I saw a lovely blonde at the parlor window. 'Bill,' I almost shouted when I joined him at the gate, 'this—this is the place. Fine house, everything neat as a pin, and two charming and beautiful sisters. After the work of the day is done we will sit on the porch and talk, and maybe they have a melodeon and can sing.'

"We found the farmer working a mower. He was an immense man, with an eye like an eagle and the voice of a bass drum. We stated our errand, and then he swore a blue streak. 'In all probability,' he yelled, 'you are a pair of swindlers. Honest men don't wear such coats.'

"Bill was a preacher, and could assume both dignity and authority. 'Sir,' he said, 'binding wheat is our one particular business. Moreover, we will match ourselves against any four men in the neighborhood.'

"In his eagerness to close with the farmer Bill overstated our capacity. Furthermore, the former held Bill to his word. We entered upon a definite engagement there in the grass, and then went into the house, where we learned to our chagrin that the pretty brunette was the farmer's wife, and that the blonde beauty at the window was his hired girl. Besides, we soon discovered that we were too tired in the evening to sit on the porch.

"The farmer put a seven-foot McCormick reaper into the wheat and Bill, another man, and myself were expected to bind all the grain that it cut. We worked like horses to keep our stations up. At the end of the second day we met for a consultation. 'We will settle down to an honest, steady gait,' Bill said, 'and not attempt to do seven men's work.' Meanwhile, we were getting fat pork and potatoes at every meal and nothing else. The farmer ripped around his eighty acres of wheat, chewing the grain down with his elephantine reaper, and swearing like a pirate. We bound all that we could, and left the rest on the ground.

"Naturally there was a rupture. The farmer beat us out of some of our wages, but we couldn't afford to wait and fight him. We walked six miles to a railway station, and there finding a butcher, gave an order for a hind quarter of veal to be sent in a hurry, collect on delivery, to the farmer. 'Anyway,' Bill said, 'the miserable hired hand whom we left behind in the clutches of that old skinflint will have something else than fat side meat for his supper.'

"In Minnesota, where the wheat was ripe for the cutting, Bill and I were put in charge of men and paid $4 a day until after threshing. The following summer Bill was preaching statedly at a frontier town in Kansas, and I went alone to the harvest fields of the Northwest. He was a fine, wholesome fellow and only died last year after an honorable and useful service in the Christian ministry. I made $4 a day during the second season. On the way home, with $100 in my pockets, I saw great cranberry marshes in Wisconsin. I bought cranberries for $1 a bushel and shipped them to Chicago. The venture netted me 100 per cent. profit, all of which I spent at the old book store that Bill and I had once visited.

"I worked in the fields and taught school until I was twenty-three years old, going to South Bend when there were teachers' institutes, and reading books on economic questions. A committee of anti-monopolists and soft-money men were printing a paper at South Bend, for which I wrote an article now and then. They finally asked me to take the management of the publication until they could find a suitable editor. I didn't know anything about printing, and I knew very little about writing. The committee owned some old type and other junk. Their press work was done at an outside establishment.

"Before I fully realized the situation, the committee had vanished, and I was sole proprietor of the Era, which, I neglected to say, was the name of the paper. I was a young man, and felt that I would be personally disgraced if the Era were to give up the ghost under my management. Furthermore, I was deeply interested in economical and industrial subjects. For three years I lived a life of toil and sacrifice. I learned to set type, and eventually did all the work of the establishment—editorial, mechanical and financial.

"I started out to write seven columns of editorials a week, and was pleased to see considerable of my matter copied into other newspapers. But I got to think less of editorials as my miscellaneous tasks increased, and I greatly reduced the output. From first to last, my experience with the Era—and I am bound to say that it was the most valuable training of my life—was nothing more than a protracted battle with poverty. Happily, I was not married. I sold out in the end, accepting a promissory note which I knew would never be paid. Then I went to Chicago and was employed on the Express, a reformatory organ, with principles similar to those which I had preached in the Era.

"In 1884 William H. Calkins, a Republican, resigned as a Representative in Congress to run for Governor of Indiana. The Democrats nominated a candidate for the full term, and I was asked to run for the unexpired term of Calkins. The Democrats and Greenbackers, in combination, carried the district, and it so happened that at the age of 27 I came to the Forty-eighth Congress, serving from December, 1884, until March 4, 1885, three months altogether."

"Under what circumstances did your famous friendship with William J. Bryan begin?"

"Mr. Bryan had come as a new member to the Fifty-second Congress, and Speaker Crisp, ignoring precedent, had given him a place on the Ways and Means Committee. He was slender and dark, resembling Samuel J. Randall to a striking degree, and very attractive. I had heard of his power as an orator, and so when the Tilden Club of South Bend, of which I was president, wanted a speaker for Jackson Day in January, 1892, I took him to Indiana. He captured South Bend almost to a man, and we have since been the best of friends."

"What must the Democrats do if they seriously hope to elect a President in 1912?"

"I have strong convictions on that particular subjects," Senator Shively answered, "but I should want to write them down with much deliberation rather than to put them into a haphazard interview. Speaking generally I would say that tariff taxation and the extravagant expenditure of public money ought to be the issues with which to fight the next Presidential election. Customhouse taxation, and that is exactly what a tariff duty on imports amounts to, touches every man, woman, and child in the country, and, therefore, concerns each American household. Regardless of what the Republicans will do at the present session of Congress, customhouse taxation will remain a live and very vital issue.

"You may have noticed," Senator Shively continued, "that the word economy has practically disappeared in late years from the vocabulary of the government. Recently we have heard some sporadic protests in Congress, but no warnings have come from the White House. It is a notorious fact that we are spending an enormous and dangerous amount of money. In 1861 the per capita cost of government was $2; now it is $6, not including the interest on war bonds, or the money paid for pensions. Usually the growth of a business concern, privately and capably managed, is accompanied by economies in production. The reverse is true with the government of the United States. A little $5000 appropriation by Congress is made for some obscure and seemingly innocuous purpose. Year by year the appropriation slyly grows until there is a regular department with an army of clerks, and, perhaps, a new and costly building."

"Do you think the money question is settled permanently?"

"Yes, as a practical issue. The flood of new gold, which added billions of dollars to the world's stock of money, stopped the downward course of prices and started them upward to the advantage of the farmers, the workingman, the merchant, the manufacturer. In my opinion, there will be no serious discussion of the money question so long as the present supply of gold is continued.".

HAIL SMASHES WINDOWS.

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 26.—Dozens of window panes were smashed in residences and downtown business houses here last night by one of the most terrific hail and rain storms ever known here.

DISASTER IN SUBMARINE.

NAPLES, April 26.—An explosion on the submarine boat Foca today killed seven men and injured several. The boat was sunk at her dock to prevent further explosions.

ELFIE FAY IS BRIDE IN REAL ROMANCE OF NAVY

Elfie Fay.

NEW YORK, April 20.—Another romance linking the navy and the stage has resulted in the marriage of Miss Elfie Fay and Ensign Lesley Barratt Anderson, of the battleship Missouri. This news will come as somewhat of a surprise, as the engagement of the actress and young officer was not known to any but their most intimate friends. The first hint of it came yesterday afternoon when Miss Fay and Ensign Anderson went to the City Hall and obtained a marriage license.

Ensign Anderson has just returned with the fleet from a round-the-world cruise. He was appointed to Annapolis from Pennsylvania in 1902, his home being at No. 726 North Forty-eighth street, Philadelphia. He is very popular in the navy.

Miss Fay is well known on the stage both here and abroad, as a singing comedienne. She has starred both in the legitimate and in vaudeville.

OFF TO TRADE SNAKES.

Curator of Reptiles of Bronx Zoo to Swap "Poison People" for European Specimens.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, April 26.—Raymond L. Dittmars, curator of the reptile house at the Bronx Zoo, will start for Europe on May 8 with several crates of poisonous American snakes, and a number of surplus animals born in the zoo.

He will trade to the zoölogical gardens in England, Germany and France and other countries for other snakes and animals which the Bronx Zoo desires.

In specially constructed crates he will take a dozen diamond rattlers, a dozen common rattlers, a dozen vipers, a dozen corral snakes, several lance-head vipers from South America, a dozen moccasins and a few other deadly reptiles.

In exchange for these Mr. Dittmars will bring back specimens of the cobra and other deadly snakes which are found in the east.

FIRE DAMAGE HEAVY.

Flames Destroy Two Hundred Thousand Dollars' Worth of Property in Kansas City.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

KANSAS CITY, April 26.—A fire which for a time threatened buildings in the heart of the principal business district, early this morning, resulted in the total destruction of the Ridge building, a four-story brick and stone business and office structure on Walnut street, near Ninth.

The fire was discovered at 2 o'clock in the basement of the building. Fed by old wooden floors and partitions the blaze spread within an incredibly short time to every part of the interior, and the efforts of the firemen were devoted to the saving of adjoining structures, including the six-story building on Main street owned by the Ridge estate, which also owned the burned structure.

The total loss is estimated at $200,000. The entire stock of the Olney Music Company, one of the occupants of the building, valued at $25,000, was destroyed. The insurance is said to cover considerably more than half of all losses.

SCHOOLMATES GUARD HER.

Mysterious Threat Against the Life of Little Girl Alarms Her Young Companions.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, April 26.—Because of a mysterious threat against her life, Tillie M. Papa is being escorted to and from public school in the Fort Hamilton section of Brooklyn by a bodyguard of her schoolmates.

Her father, a banker, received a letter a few days ago saying his daughter, who is 14 years old, would be killed unless he "prayed for her for the next nine days."

No demand for money was made. The girl's school companions became alarmed, and now every day a bodyguard of them calls at her home, escorts her to school and accompanies her home.

TIRED AFTER ONE DAY.

Roosevelt Resting While Lions and Buffalo Await His Prowess.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NAIROBI (British East Africa.) April 26.—Both Theodore Roosevelt and his son Kermit are indisposed today as a result of their recent hunting activity and their journey from Kapiti Plains to the ranch of Sir Alfred Pease on the Athi River. They are resting from their fatigue at the ranch.

Theodore Roosevelt left Kapiti Plains yesterday and went to the ranch of Sir Alfred Pease, on the Athi River. Lions are reported numerous on George McMillan's ranch and there is a herd of 150 buffalo, on Mr. Heatley's ranch, where Mr. Roosevelt will hunt.

GERMAN CROP POOR.

BERLIN, April 26.—The Imperial crop report for April 15, shows the condition of wheat and rye to be considerably worse this year than for the corresponding period of 1908. The dry autumn and the severe winter are given as the cause.

BIG MINE MILLS BURN.

PARRAL (Mex.) April 26.—News has been received here that one of the large mills of the Hidalgo Mining & Milling Company, at Presena, has been destroyed by fire. A high wind rendered all efforts to check the flames unavailing. The mill was built some years ago at a cost of $250,000.

GOSSIP OF THE FOREIGN STAGE.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

LONDON, April 14.—Beerbohm Tree has set the Easter ball of novelties rolling by the production at His Majesty's of "The School for Scandal." Among the promised features of the revival was a "star" cast, and if Tree's intention to include in it Mrs. Kendal, Irene Vanbrugh and Sir John Hare had materialized there could be no grounds for quarrelling with the designation. But for various reasons the original scheme fell through—"stars" are proverbially difficult cattle to harness to the managerial car unless, of course, they are allowed to have it all their own way. As matters stand, however, the company recruited for His Majesty's, if more remarkable for length of years than for stellar quality, is of rather more than ordinary brilliancy and Sheridan's comedy receives at its hands sympathetic interpretation. Of the work of such veterans as Edward Terry, Henry Neville and Hermann Vezin there is no need to speak—"nursed on rose-paint and cradled in properties" they could hardly go wrong—while both Ellis Jeffreys as Lady Sneerwell and Suzanne Sheldon as Mrs. Candour made successes to be expected of such experienced actresses.

The chief interest of the revival is naturally centered in the Sir Peter of Tree and the Lady Teazle of Marie Lohr. For both renderings the way had been carefully prepared beforehand. We were warned that we should see a Sir Peter of robust middle age and a Lady Teazle of quite tender years. Nor in this respect were we disappointed. Perhaps it might be a little unfair to criticize either by the light of the initial performance. A first night at His Majesty's is almost invariably marked by a certain air of hesitancy, or "linked sweetness, long drawn out." On such occasions Tree is rarely at his best, but on the lines indicated his Sir Peter deserves praise as a carefully finished and well-considered portrait, touched with a fine sense of dignity and authority not unmixed with humor. Marie Lohr, a veritable "dainty rogue in porcelain," scarcely answers to all our ideas of Lady Teazle; nevertheless, in its girlishness, its buoyancy, and its gentle fascination, the performance is quite delightful. As Charles Surface, Robert Loraine scored heavily. All that is wanted to make the study perfect is just a little more eighteenth century polish. As usual Tree had gathered around him a distinguished audience, Ellen Terry in particular receiving a hearty round of applause on her entrance.

There are few things Charles Frohman enjoys more than to vary the monotony of London existence by an occasional trip across the Channel. Within the next few days he is off to Paris to capture half a dozen leading actors and actresses for a series of matinées in French at one of his West End theaters. Chatting with him yesterday I gathered he had several Gargantuan schemes in his head awaiting development. For one thing he will, by next autumn, have added another London theater to the number of those in which he is already interested. And that number goes on steadily increasing from month to month! At the present moment he has his finger in five theatrical pies—the Duke of York's, the Hicks, the Comedy, the Garrick and the Haymarket—and with so many attractions on hand he could easily do with more. For instance, he is particularly anxious to find histrionic homes this season for Billie Burke, in "Love's Watches," and for William Collier in "The Patriot;" he has also some idea of putting on "The Honor of the Family."

A. L. Erlanger, who a short time ago spent three days in London, en route for the Continent, also expressed to me his eagerness to discover a West End house to which, in combination with Frohman, to produce "Little Nemo." The piece, of course, would have to be presented under very special conditions if it is to achieve success; so far these conditions have not been realized. It is four years since Erlanger paid London a visit and during the interval the position of things theatrical in this country has, as he pointed out to me, altered materially. He made no secret of his conviction that the complete Americanising of the London stage was only a question of time, that sooner or later all the important West End theaters will be gathered together under the control of one man, and that man not necessarily of English origin. It is interesting to listen to a manager of Erlanger's experience and ambitions talking in this strain; nevertheless, the day, I am persuaded, is sufficiently remote when the Trees and George Alexanders, the George Edwardes and the Frank Curzons will be swept out of their managerial seats by the hands of the invader.

I learn that Marie Dressler is, or was lately, in Chicago "looking after her interest in copper mines." It appears that she had something rather unpleasant to say regarding her London season at the Aldwych and the narrow-mindedness, the prejudice and lack of appreciation shown by our public. Possibly she may be concerned to know that things not altogether pleasant have been said of her since her departure from our shores. The truth is, she offered London a production which, her own performance apart, would have been no credit to a third-rate provincial town, and as London playgoers, like most playgoers, have an unfortunate habit of demanding value for their money they quietly left the Aldwych and its occupants to work out their own fate.

At the Palace Theater of Varieties and at the Coliseum Marie Dressler received the heartiest welcome; in point of fact she has no one but herself to blame for the disastrous result of her latest venture.

We are looking forward to the near return of that excellent comedian G. P. Huntley who, however, is only using England this year as a holiday resort. Frohman has a new musical play, concealed somewhere up his capacious managerial sleeve, specially designed for Huntley, who is to be seen in it in New York at Christmas. Fannie Ward and Charles Cartwright are also due in London about the end of this month, the former hopeful of obtaining a theater for the production of her new play "The Higher Law." Whatever one may have to say of Fannie Ward's abilities, and they are by no means inconsiderable, as an actress, one cannot but applaud the pluck which she has consistently shown throughout her professional career. She belongs to the class of people who never know when they are beaten.

To "Liner" Advertisers:

Dating from June 1, classified advertising in The Times will be charged by the word at the present established rate of 1c per word in the daily issue and 1½c Sunday.

Close calculations, covering a period of several months, develop the fact that the average number of words to the line are a fraction over seven. This basis for charge, therefore, will prevail after June 1.

Cash "want" advertising has always been calculated by the word, and this regulation will not change the manner of handling it.

The present "want" ad. rate has been in effect for many years, though the circulation of the paper, now more than 50,000 daily and 80,000 Sundays, has trebled during this period. No paper in the United States, rate considered, compares with The Times in "want" ad. service.

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

Psycho and Religio-Therapy.

"Character Building Through Psycho-Therapy," was told by Rev. Dana Bartlett, and the "Bases and Mechanism of Psycho-Therapy and Religio-Therapy," treated by Dr. Ross Moore, were the absorbing subjects which drew many interested club women to the Ebell yesterday afternoon.

Rev. Mr. Bartlett spoke of the great change that has taken place in the healing art, since the belief in charms and superstitions of the personal service as experienced in the social service department in the Massachusetts Hospital, and of protective work, in tuberculosis and yellow fever. He dwelt upon the soul power as exercised in diseases of the body, citing instances of its many forms, and of character building of the child through the parents. The inspiration side, Dr. Bartlett asserted, affects the body, and high ideals are doubly increased when we yield to the inspiration of the Divine.

Speaking of psycho and religio-therapy, Dr. Ross Moore stated that in all that has been spoken and written about the wave of inquiry into superphysical therapy, too much has been statement of opinion and prejudice, and too little has taken the form of sober inquiry. This new science is one of the signs of the times, he said, and therefore its reason for being is to be found in the psychological history of civilization, during the last hundred years.

The laws of the mind, Dr. Moore declares, are just as immutable as the laws of chemistry, but they are not as well known, that is all; many things seem miraculous simply because we are ignorant of the laws governing them.

Under the general name super-physical therapy given by Dr. Moore, he classed Christian Science, faith cure, the Emmanuel movement and suggestion, hypnotism, etc., in the hands of the doctor. Christian Science affirms God, love, life, good and health, and it denies hate, devil, death, and illness; not that everything in the first list is existent and everything in the last non-existent, but that, theoretically, they should be so. For instance, disease ought not so to be; God did not intend it, therefore it is not. Dr. Moore said this is a good millennial theory, and one to look forward to, when body is entirely dependent upon spirit, and spirit can live on unruffled by bodily conditions.

Faith cure, Dr. Moore stated, throws the burden of the cure on the Lord bodily, while the Emmanuel Movement recognizes the existence of disease as Do Children Need Alcohol?

Ask your doctor how often he prescribes an alcoholic stimulant for children. He will probably say, "Very, very rarely." Ask him how often he prescribes a tonic for them. He will probably answer, "Very, very frequently." Then ask him about Ayer's non-alcoholic Sarsaparilla as a tonic for the young. J. C. Ayer Co., Lowell, Mass.

the logical result of the breaking of nature's laws by ourselves, our ancestors, our associates.

Last of all the physician, who prepares himself by years of study to understand disease in all its phases, both physical and mental, applies those methods which seem best, be they water, suggestion, calomel or commendations, said the doctor.

HAMBURGER'S INNOVATION.

Throngs Visit the Big White Store and Take Advantage of the "Buyers' Sale."

The innovtaion of a "buyers' sale," which was inaugurated at Hamburger's yesterday, proved a marked success during the first day of the sale. The big establishment was crowded throughout the day, and the corner of Eighth and Broadway reminded one of the days of public parades, when all the people gather on the sidewalks.

Clarence E. Adams, president of the Hamburger Buyers' Association, was very enthusiastic over the results of the experiment. "The public has responded splendidly to our request for early shopping," he said, "and the people have been patient and indulge it during the most crowded hours during the day. We are putting on extra help just as rapidly as we can select and employ the people. We are going to give just as good and prompt service during these rush days as we do every other day."

Everything has a holiday appearance about the store, and the handsome show windows, which make a line the length of about two city blocks, are the center of attraction to all passers. The interior is gaily dressed for the occasion, the decorations showing both taste and skill.

SOUVENIRS FOR CHARITY.

"Tag Day" Managers Hit Upon Plan of Selling Autograph Signatures of Notables.

The Associated Charities hit upon the plan of securing the autograph signatures of hundreds of prominent citizens on the back of tags to be sold next Saturday for the benefit of the charity fund. Among those mentioned are Rear-Admiral Evans and ex-Vice-President Fairbanks.

The idea seemed to be so popular with those who are to handle them that yesterday 100,000 tags were sent to 4000 different persons in packages of twenty-five each, with a request that the name of the recipient be written on the back and the tags sold to friends as souvenirs.

The managers of "Tag Day" request that everybody who pays 10 cents to anybody selling them, take the tag to correspond with the dime, in order to keep the record straight, and while the management does not say so, this plan will also prevent anybody from taking advantage of generous people by failing to make return of all the money received. A contest is being developed between the two high schools, to incite the best efforts of the pupils to outdo the other in the amount of money turned in.

REVIEWS COMBINED FLEETS.

VILLE FRANCHE (France) April 26.—President Fallieres and the Duke of Genoa today reviewed off Ville Franche the combined fleets of France and Italy. Seventeen French and four Italian warships took part in the maneuvers. This Italian squadron was sent to greet M. Fallieres in memory of France's assistance in the national struggle for independence. Today is the fiftieth anniversary of the French advance into Piedmont.

Ice Customer—"Does that little piece of ice weigh one hundred pounds?"
Driver—"It cert'nly does."
Ice Customer—"It doesn't look it. I'd like to see you prove it!"
Driver—"My scales are on the wagon, Marm, and I'm too busy to go back again."

Under the old way of ice buying, and the old service, you never felt quite sure that you got full weight—now did you? And you didn't much like to make a protest to the old-time ice wagon driver—pretty sure to be insulted—it wasn't pleasant.

Forget all about it—you don't need to have that worry any more!

For the past year we have been evolving a new kind of ice service. It's here now, ready for you. It guarantees you certain things—a guarantee that we take as much satisfaction in making as you'll take in receiving.

It guarantees you courteous service—we have a fine, clean-cut force of drivers, who know what the word "courtesy" means—and act accordingly.

It guarantees you full-weight ice. We have inspectors who really inspect, a system of "checking up" that really checks up. We supply our customers with rules for measuring ice and a specially prepared computation table that enables them to ascertain the weight of the ice delivered—easily and quickly.

For years we have been trying to better our ice service—for years, indeed, we've given you the best ice service in the city. Now we've worked out an adequate system, for your protection—and ours—for we know that good, honest service to you is permanent business for us.

Telephone us, Home 10053, Sunset Main 8191, if you want ice. You'll find ice, delivery, weight and price—right. We guarantee all. Los Angeles Ice and Cold Storage Co.

THE CITY IN BRIEF

Put money in thy purse!

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Licensed in Chicago.

Kimball Fletcher, 21, of Los Angeles, and Edith M. Wadhams, 25, of Ann Arbor, Mich., were licensed to marry in Chicago yesterday.

Dr. Henry at Mission.

Rev. J. Q. A. Henry, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will speak at the Union Rescue Mission, No. 145 North Main street, tonight. It is anticipated that the eloquent preacher will pack the mission, and those who want seats will have to go early.

Arranging California Exhibit.

Secretary Wiggins of the Chamber of Commerce has gone to Seattle to arrange the California exhibit which is to be installed in one of the handsomest buildings on the grounds. H. B. Gurley will be acting secretary during Mr. Wiggins's absence.

School Board's Session.

The Board of Education met yesterday noon for a brief session. A deputy City Attorney informed the board as to the status of the litigation over the proposed bond issue. Much routine business was transacted, and a number of bills were approved.

Funeral of George Mason.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon over the remains of the late George Mason, conducted by Rev. J. S. Thomson of the Independent Church of Christ. The funeral was private, in accordance with the wish of the deceased, and the body was cremated for the same reason. Only the family and a few close friends were in attendance.

Memorial Day Observance.

The Memorial Committee of the Grand Army of the Republic met yesterday and adopted resolutions calling upon organized societies and all loyal citizens to discourage sports and picnics on Memorial Day, and to devote it to honoring the country's patriot dead. A copy of the resolutions was ordered sent to all ministers of the gospel, with the request that they be read from the pulpit and commented upon.

These "Oats" Half Wheat.

The Acme Mills of Portland yesterday secured the release of 500 sacks of cereal which were held in the custody of the United States Marshal. The goods were recently seized as being misbranded. The sacks were labeled "Iowa Rolled Oats," but analysis showed the cereal contained about 50 per cent. of wheat. The manufacturer agreed not to sell the cereal under its present misleading brand.

Tickets There.

Wong Ma Lung was arrested last night by patrolmen of the Chinatown squad on the charge of conducting a lottery game at No. 426 North Los Angeles street. With a search warrant the police had no difficulty in gaining entrance to the gambling joint, but found it vacant. A quantity of marked lottery tickets were seized. Acording to the police, Wong Ma Lung had been operating only a small game. He gave $100 cash bail for appearance in the Police Court this morning.

BREVITIES.

To "Liner" Advertisers: Dating from June 1st, classified advertising in the Times will be charged by the word at the present established rate of 1c per word in the daily issue and 1¼c Sunday. Close calculations covering a period of several months develop the fact that the average number of words to the line are a fraction over seven. This basis for charge, therefore, will prevail after June 1st. Cash "want" advertising has always been calculated by the word, and this regulation will not change the manner of handling it. The present "want" ad rate has been in effect, for many years, though the circulation of the paper, now more than 50,000 daily and 80,000 Sundays, has trebled during this period. No paper in the United States, rate considered, compares with The Times in "want" ad service. The Times-Mirror Company.

Remember the slogan: "Buy and Boost Home Products." For daily references, see page 17, of The Times, containing list of wide-awake manufacturers, under the heading "Made in Southern California." You will find there are manufacturers of necessities and luxuries here—manufacturers of things to eat and drink—things for the home, the factory, the office and the farm. Buy them! Try them! There are none better. Buy and Boost, and keep your money at home where it will do you and yours the most good!

GENERAL ELECTRIC'S PROFITS.

SCHENECTADY (N. Y.) April 26.—The annual report of the General Electric Company for the year ending January 31, 1908, issued today, shows profits for the year of $4,802,252. The amount paid in dividends was $5,214,026, leaving a surplus of $16,102,836. Because of the business depression the orders received were only 70 per cent. of the two previous years. The total orders received amounted to $42,186,917.

FLOOD THREATENS EL PASO.

Sand Bags Used to Resist Flood Waters of Rio Grande, and Watch Fires Are Burning.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EL PASO (Tex.) April 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] With the Rio Grande dangerously near the flood level, the southern portion of El Paso is threatened with inundation, and a constant patrol is maintained along the river banks. Occupants of houses in the threatened district are remaining close at home, surrounded by their children.

Constant guard is kept at the canal headgates, where sand bags have been thrown in to resist the force of the flood waters. A signal has been agreed upon, should a break occur, to warn the occupants of adobes along the canal bank. Watch fires are kept burning tonight on both the American and Mexican sides of the river, watching for the expected overflow.

River work on the Mexican side, it is believed, is throwing water to the American side, and the city has protested to the Boundary Commission.

CITY JOINERS GET TOGETHER.

San Pedrans Received by Committee Here.

Los Angeles Body Extends Recognition.

Outer Harbor Improvement Is Discussed.

At a joint meeting of the Chamber of Commerce last night the Los Angeles and San Pedro consolidation committees got together for the first time to discuss the merger plan and to talk over proposed improvements of the harbor. One result of the meeting was the assurance to the visitors that they will be called into conference with the local committee on the important question of the union of the two cities.

Shortly after the meeting opened, the San Pedro representatives asked that their committee be permitted to participate in the deliberations of the Los Angeles committee. After a brief executive session of the Los Angeles committee, the following resolution was adopted, being received, with approbation by the visitors:

"Resolved, that we recognize the Consolidation Committee here present from San Pedro tonight as the official representative of the consolidation movement in San Pedro and that we invite them to be present at all public meetings where the question of San Pedro consolidation is under consideration, whether the delegations who seek a hearing be for or against consolidation; that after the termination of the hearing of such evidence that the Los Angeles committee will then be prepared to enter into conference with the San Pedro Consolidation Committee."

Stoddard Jess, chairman of the local committee, presided, and nearly all the Los Angeles members were present. Dr. W. A. Weldon, chairman of the San Pedro committee, was accompanied by fifteen fellow-members.

Mr. Jess said, in response to a letter received Saturday from the San Pedro committee, the substance of which was published in The Times of last Saturday, that he had had no previous opportunity to consider it.

JESS EXPLAINS POSITION.

"From the repeated statements of the committee that it proposes to hear and carefully consider all propositions for the development of the harbor before coming to any conclusion, it seems to me unfair to suggest that any ideas forwarded by the government engineers will become the ideas of this committee. While I believe that every member of the committee recognizes that both Capt. Fries and Mr. Hughes are capable, honest and conscientious men who have only the welfare of all concerned at heart, we recognize that their views are from the standpoint of an engineer, while we have other elements to consider.

"The question of consolidation is one of the greatest interest to all of the cities concerned, and neither city can profit by it without creating a corresponding benefit to all. Through consolidation, the best interests of all will be subserved, and with private interests set aside, some common ground must be recognized that will allow all parties to work together for the development of a common harbor that will mean so much to the future welfare of Southern California."

John T. Gaffey, principal spokesman for the San Pedro committee, said it was the plan of the late Capt. J. J. Meyler, Corps of Engineers, U.S.A., to improve the outer harbor as well as the inner harbor. The 146 acres in the outer harbor, belonging to San Pedro, can be improved at an early date, he said, there being room for seven slips, with a depth of water of from twenty-five to fifty feet. Two slips could be built for a start, he said, with only a little dredging necessary to connect them with a forty-foot channel.

"It is idle to talk of a 700-foot vessel going into the west basin," said Mr. Gaffey. It has said that the inner harbor channel can be dredged within three and one-half years. The improvement we propose for the outer harbor can be accomplished much more speedily.

"We are not opposed to the dredging of the west basin of the inner harbor, but we propose the most feasible plan of early improvement.

"The outer harbor improvements might have been made some time ago by the State, but we were assured that Los Angeles would do the work and we declined the proffer of State aid. Now we believe the people of Los Angeles should keep faith with us by going ahead with the plan we suggest."

Another objection to the development of the west basin, said Mr. Gaffey, is that a drawbridge cannot be put in the Southern Pacific tracks without a long drawn out legal battle, which may extend over six years.

He proposed a tunnel as the best means of affording access from San Pedro to the proposed docks in the outer harbor.

Capt. L. Hansen, Dr. Weldon, E. D. Seward and others spoke for the outer harbor development, all urging that it should come first.

In Hollywood's Festival of Flowers.

Mrs. J. P. Adams of Los Angeles, who will be among the committee members in the cut-flower booth.

HOLLYWOOD'S FESTIVAL.

EXPECTANT TIPTOE FOR A POSY SHOW.

THE annual Festival of Flowers at Hollywood will open tonight and the whole population is a-tiptoe with expectation. The week will see the culmination of months' of planning and work. Beginning with the formal opening of the flower show, there will be a succession of fetes which will reach a grand climax in the floral parade, led by the May Queen, and in the tilting tournament, Saturday.

The scenes of activity, yesterday, in preparation for the event, were in marked contrast to the customary dignified quiet of the aristocratic suburb that skirts the mountains in the Cahuenga Valley. Decorators were putting patches of color in conspicuous places and workmen were getting the tournament grounds ready for the spectacles and sports. The chief point of animation, however, was the big building at Magnolia avenue and Prospect street, where the plant and flower show, under the auspices of the civic department of the Woman's Club of Hollywood, is to be held. There bevies of women and girls were engaged in preparing the place for the reception of the exhibits which have been gathered from gardens and the wilds of the mountain cañons. Leaders of society shoveled sawdust, carried boards, swung hammers and tugged at big pots containing plants as if it were an every-day occurrence. All worked with a will and when they rested from their labors, order had been brought out of apparent chaos.

TO BE ONE OF FINEST.

All the exhibits will be in place at 2 p.m. today, when the prizes will be awarded, and the committee in charge, of which Mrs. W. C. Parcher is chairman, is confident that it will have one of the finest flower shows ever seen in Southern California. The displays will be so arranged as to produce a splendid effect. Hanging from the palm-covered beams of the ceiling will be hundreds of baskets containing growing and cut flowers and cages containing singing birds.

The visitor, on entering, will be confronted by exhibits of wild and cultivated flowers arranged in contrast. There will be many special features, including a pond filled with water lilies from the Huntington gardens at Pasadena; a fine collection of cacti from the gardens of Arthur Letts; flowers from the gardens of Jacob Stern and the Salona ranch and rare plants from the Laughlin ranch.

One of the interesting features will be the juvenile exhibit, which will include potted plants raised by the Hollywood school children and wild flowers gathered by them from the mountains. Hollywood Union High School will also have a display of pressed flowers.

FRUITS AND VEGETABLES.

In an annex there will be shown in competition fruits and vegetables, among which will be some rare specimens. Mrs. H. Friend will show an Hawaiian carica papaya, grown in her garden here, and Edward Sturtevant will have an exhibit of plants seldom seen in Southern California.

In one respect the Hollywood show will be unique, and that is in the manner in which the exhibits were secured. Committees appointed early in the season sought the persons who cultivate flowers and urged them to prepare specimens for exhibit. In this manner the finest of flowers were obtained and nothing left to chance.

Society women and girls of Hollywood and Los Angeles will sell cut flowers and candy. Mrs. M. C. Nason will have charge of the candy booth; Mrs. Milton Saxton of the cut-flower department, and Mrs. Ollyer of the re-

GATHERING 'EM IN.

GRAND JURY REUNION FORCED BY SUBPOENA.

THERE will be a gathering in the dingy little Township Court presided over by Justice Stephens this morning, of representative business men and citizens of Los Angeles county seldom met with in such surroundings.

All the members of the last regular grand jury were subpoenaed yesterday as witnesses in behalf of W. H. Carlson, ex-banker and promoter, who is defendant in an action for embezzlement of funds from the Consolidated Bank of Los Angeles.

Besides the members of the grand jury a former Governor of California and a number of the leading attorneys of the city are under subpoena to give testimony. At least two bankers from San Francisco will add to the array of citizens Carlson desires to place on the witness stand.

There was a great deal of curiosity in the office of the District Attorney yesterday as to what Carlson could want with the entire grand jury, while members of this body were still further at sea.

The supposition is that the grand jurymen are wanted to testify that they refused to bring in an indictment against Carlson and "passed the buck" to the District Attorney.

Carlson recently made a demand on the District Attorney for certain books and papers, which were refused him, and he wants to spread the details.

The former grand jurymen for whom subpoenas were issued yesterday are W. H. Allen, J. J. Andrews, John B. Bloesser, Jr., Charles H. J. Bliss, J. C. Benson, E. C. Bechowski, A. K. Crawford, Wesley Clark, C. W. Dameral, Miles S. Gregory, P. F. Cogswell, E. W. Jones, A. E. Pomeroy, W. H. Richards, W. B. Scarborough, J. C. Sheppard, C. D. Sargent and R. E. Wirsching.

LUSCIOUS.

OUR STRAWBERRIES WIN FAME AFAR.

HALF a million dollars is the estimate of revenue which the strawberries produced in the country within a few miles of Los Angeles will yield this season. The berries are now returning to their growers between $5000 and $7000 per day. The season will run three and one-half months.

From a few acres, planted for commercial purposes about twelve years ago, the industry has grown to one of the largest of its kind in Southern California. There are about 2500 acres under strawberry cultivation. The largest area in any district is found at Gardena, where 900 acres are devoted to the raising of the delectable berry. Other large fields are under cultivation at Tropico, Glendale, Irwindale and Strawberry Park.

Until last year, large shipments of berries to far distant cities was practically unknown. When the season opened last year and the canneries refused to take the berries grown an outlet of some sort was necessary and one of the berry dealers struck upon the plan of shipping the fruit in carload lots. As a result about thirty cars of berries were sent out of this territory last year.

EAST AS FAR AS CHICAGO.

Up to the present twenty-two carloads of strawberries have left Los Angeles this season. Some of them have gone as far east as Chicago. When received there, the fruit was reported to be in excellent condition and worth 10 cents a basket or about $1500 for a whole carload. Seattle has received three cars of Los Angeles berries this season and they have all been shipped through in a good state of preservation. Other cars have gone to Spokane, Portland, Salt Lake City, Goldfield, and the majority to San Francisco, which territory depends on Los Angeles for its berry supply.

C. S. Marston, of the firm of Marston & Martin, which is shipping 60 per cent. of the berries grown this season, estimated that the shipments this year will run over fifty cars. "We have shipped nearly as many cars at this time as were shipped in the whole season last year, and the berry season is only beginning to reach its zenith. Our strawberries will continue to move out in carload lots until the first part of August."

These shipments do not nearly constitute the crop grown here. The receipts of berries on the public market every day average 4000 crates, from five to six carloads. They are sold out to the retail trade and resold to the housewife for immediate use or for canning. In addition to this, the canneries of this section will consume a great portion of the crop. The California Fruit Canners' Association has a standing order with the growers for 1000 tons of berries to be delivered within the next two months. The Bishop Company has a similar order and there are a number of smaller canneries which are taking as many berries as they can handle.

OTHER INDUSTRIES ASSOCIATED.

The production of the berries has given rise to the several tributary industries, chiefly box factories and tin shops. In the Gardena district a large factory employs half a hundred people in the manufacture of trays, crates and refrigerator boxes, which are used in shipments of less than a carload. The cooling cases are lined with zinc and made in different sizes, carrying from twenty-four to 104 baskets of berries in addition to sufficient ice to last on a trip of several days.

The berry producers are about all Japanese. The orientals produce 95 per cent. of the strawberry crop in Southern California. They have been in control of the production for the past three years. White men cannot complete with them, owing to the different method they have of cultivating the berry, the great industry which they use in bringing the fruit to maturity and their cheap methods of living, which makes it possible for them to work for less wages than are demanded by the white gardener. The owners of the strawberry land were formerly the producers, but this has changed. The white people still own the land, but find that it is much more profitable to lease it to the Japanese than to produce the berries themselves.

METHODS OF PROTECTION.

The method of protecting the growing berries from worms and insects differ. Chief among these, however, is sulphuring, which in no way affects the wholesomeness of the fruit. The recent poison scare was brought about more through the ignorance of over-indulgent berry eaters than by the actual sickness caused by poison. The Horticultural Commission found that poison spray had been used only in one or two isolated cases and that the reason for sickness lay in an over-indulgence in the aciduous fruit.

None of the growers act as their own distributors, this end of the business being left in the hands of practically four firms in Los Angeles. This is a recent plan and, so it is represented, has resulted this year in better prices all around, no real glut of berries and no total losses, such as were frequent last year

NATIONS AT PEACE.

RATHER FIGHT THAN ORATE.

Japanese Admiral Is Chief Guest at Banquet.

Says Speechmaking Is Not So Easy for Him.

Banzais for Our President by the Visitors.

Rear-Admiral Ijichi, chief guest of honor at the Chamber of Commerce banquet at the Jonathan Club last night, to himself and the officers of his squadron, said it was more difficult for him to make an address than to fight, so his words were few, though his expressions of pleasure were many. His liveliest manifestation was when he led the forty officers who accompanied him, in three banzais for the President of the United States.

The admiral himself proposed the cheers; in fact, it was he who shouted "banzai" each time, the officers following in unison.

The presentation of a silver loving cup to the admiral—a gift from the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce—moved him deeply, causing him to remark that he always would cherish the cup as a memento of a very happy occasion, and a token of the close relationship between th United States and Japan.

THROUGH INTERPRETER.

In responding to the presentation speech made by President Willis Booth of the Chamber of Commerce, Admiral Ijichi spoke in Japanese, the translation being made by acting Consul-General Matsuzo Nagai of San Francisco. When the distinguished naval officer spoke in response to Judge Wilbur's toast, "The Navy of Japan," he used the English tongue, praying the indulgence of his auditors in his limited command of the language.

The banquet closed the public functions arranged in honor of the admiral and the officers of the squadron during their stay at San Pedro. It came at the end of a day that had been spent in viewing the sights of the San Gabriel Valley and in enjoying the hospitality of the people of Azusa and Pasadena.

In the large dining hall of the club the feast was spread, the guests numbering one hundred in addition to the admiral and his officers. The decorations were uncommonly attractive, flowers being used in abundance, while the Japanese and the American colors, in flags, banners and streamers, adorned the walls and were suspended from the ceiling.

On the admiral's table, a miniature pond was outlined in flowers, while in the center a fountain spouted to a height of several feet. Thousands of pink sweet peas and fern branches were strung adown the center of the speakers' table and the three tables that ran at right angles to it. At frequent intervals there were tall vases of yellow and white jonquils.

At the right of the principal guest sat Mayor Alexander, and on the admiral's left Joseph Scott, the toastmaster. Other officers of the squadron alternated with the citizen guests, the officers, of course, being in full naval dress. There was a slight sprinkling of gold braid in addition to that worn by the Japanese, three or four officers of the United States army and navy

COSTLY COMPRESS.

Barber Applies Carbolic Acid to Corn With Result That He May Lose the Foot.

To remove a corn from one of his toes, Elmer Smith, a barber, living at No. 1508 Newton street, bound the toe with a compress saturated with carbolic acid. Gangrene set in, and in all probability Smith will lose his foot. Last night his condition became critical.

Being without funds, friends asked that he be admitted to the County Hospital for treatment. It is said aid was refused him by the county institution officials. Appeal was then made to the Receiving Hospital for the sending of an ambulance to take Smith to the city institution.

Police Surgeon Wright interested himself in the cause of Smith, and through his efforts an interne was sent from the County Hospital to attend to the sick man at his home. In all probability an operation will have to be performed today to save Smith's life. The sacrifice promises to be his foot and maybe his leg.

BICYCLE RIDER KILLED BY CAR.

WITNESSES SAY ELECTRIC WAS GOING AT RAPID RATE.

Not Seen by Contractor's Son, Who Is Thrown Several Yards—Taken to Near-by House, But Dies Before Doctor Arrives—Laborer Also Falls Victim.

Frank Mattoon, the 23-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Mattoon of No. 1025 West Eighteenth street, was fatally injured by a Washington-street car at Union avenue and Washington street at 5:20 o'clock yesterday afternoon. He was carried to a near-by residence, but died before a doctor arrived. The remains were taken to the Orr & Edwards undertaking rooms, where an inquest probably will be held today.

Mattoon was riding a bicycle on Union avenue toward his home. He did not see the approaching car until it was too late to escape.

Witnesses say the electric was going at a rapid rate and that Mattoon and his wheel were thrown several yards to one side of the tracks. His skull was fractured and his body crushed.

The car was stopped about one hundred feet from the scene of the accident and passengers assisted in carrying the injured man to the house at No. 1118 West Washington street.

The dead man's father is a contractor for cement work. Besides his parents, he leaves a sister, Miss Lyda Mattoon.

No arrangements have been made for the funeral.

INJURIES MAY BE FATAL.

Pedro Juarez, a laborer residing at No. 749 Castelar street, received what may be fatal injuries when he was hit by a Griffin-avenue car at Ord and Buena Vista streets at 8:30 o'clock last evening. He is suffering from a basal fracture of the skull, a fracture of the jaw and possibly from internal injuries. He was taken to the Receiving Hospital and at an early hour this morning had not recovered consciousness. Surgeons say there is little hope of his recovery.

Juarez was crossing the street with two companions and stepped directly in front of the car. Witnesses say the motorman was ringing his bell and that the car was moving slowly.

FINANCIERS AND BANK CLERKS AT BANQUET BOARD.

Former Secretary of Treasury Principal Speaker at Annual Gathering of Los Angeles Chapter, American Institute of Banking—Calls Recent Stringency Disruption of Credit.

Los Angeles Chapter, American Institute of Banking, held its annual banquet at the Westminster, last night. Hon. Lyman J. Gage, formerly Secretary of the Treasury, was guest of honor and the principal speaker. About two hundred bank clerks and financiers of the city were present. The tables were attractively decorated with roses and greenery and an excellent menu was provided.

Among those at the head table were: Charles G. Greene, president of the local society; G. K. Barrere, toastmaster; Benjamin F. Pearson, H. W. O'Melveny, W. H. Holliday, George F. Duffet, Newman Essick; Charles Ewing, A. C. Way, W. L. Percy, G. W. Fishburn, Maurice S. Hellman, J. G. Gist, J. A. Ramboz, John Alton, Gustav Hermann, J. A. Graves, A. M. Brown, A. E. Edwards and R. B. Hardacre.

Mr. Greene opened the after-dinner speaking by making a brief reference to the objects of the American Institute of Banking. He said it was organized for educational purposes and already had been of much help to young bank employés. The local chapter was incorporated last year, and now has a membership of nearly four hundred.

Mr. Gage, when introduced, said that the idea of the institute was conceived while he was president of the American Bankers' Association and that in consequence he had taken an unusual interest in its success.

Banking, he continued, had greatly changed since his day. Then it was conducted by "rule of thumb," and had none of the systems and arrangements essential to modern financiering. He rejoiced to see the younger bankers developing depth of mind and looking beyond the bank counter.

"Production lies at the foundation of things. That includes the raw and manufactured articles. Then comes transportation. We must have adequate means for carrying the products of the soil and the manufactory to the places where they are needed. Perhaps the banking business comes next in this scheme of economy. For without the service of the banks, the whole system of modern industry would be of little avail. We are performing a high public service, even if in the performance we are serving our personal ends.

"As you all know, but little actual

THE PUBLIC SERVICE—In the Courts and Offices.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Mayor started on a scalping trip yesterday and got the official head of his colored messenger, Frank White, and sought those of six sanitary inspectors.

The will of Mrs. Wilcox was admitted to probate yesterday. The property, valued at $250,000, goes to the four children.

Thomas H. Broadhead, ex-chief of police, and Sam Schenck, ex-police commissioner, were arraigned before Judge Davis; they will be asked to plead May 5.

AT THE CITY HALL.

MAYOR SEEKING MANY SCALPS.

MESSENGER IS FIRST TO FEEL HIS KEEN KNIFE.

Health Department Sanitary Inspectors and Police License Officer Wanted Out of Way by Executive. Supposed to Be Start of City Hall Clean-up—Council Hesitates.

The Mayor was on a scalp hunt yesterday. While he did not go out after some of the most valuable he made up in number what the list lacked in importance. As a result he really got one scalp—that of Frank White, colored, who is carried on the janitor's pay roll as Mayor's messenger. The Council agreed that if the Mayor doesn't want a messenger one should not be forced on him, especially as he says his clerks can do all that the messenger has been doing.

The scalping of White was not wholly economy in the original purpose of the Mayor. He intended to fill the place and a Latin-American and a colored man were led to expect it. But the Mayor found White surrounded by that hateful Civil Service fence, and rather than keep him he asked the Council yesterday to abolish the place.

White has been dutiful in the past two years and was really useful. But he happened to affiliate with the large element of colored voters who opposed the Mayor's election, and he suffered the penalty the Mayor would visit on all "who opposed him." White was one of the "90 per cent. inside the Civil Service fence who opposed me," as the Mayor once said.

The other scalps sought are those of Restaurant Inspector Schwegel, Bakter Drummond, Lodging-house Inspector Drummond, Lodginghouse Inspector West and Garbage Inspector Traynor. A meeting of the Board of Health was held in the Mayor's office yesterday morning and it was decided to ask the abolition of these offices and also that of the assistant restaurant inspector, now vacant.

In holding this meeting the board had designs to remove Hugh M. Love, secretary of the board, and Mortuary Clerk Sieff was called in to keep the minutes that Love usually keeps. One of these minutes included a request that the office of secretary be abolished and a new position of stenographer and telephone operator be substituted at $75 a month. The board also decided to cut down expenses at the detention hospital and get Custodian McAvoy out of the way. In all, the board seeks to get half a dozen scalps of the "90 per cent." class of city employés.

The Council received the request dubiously, but enough voted to send it to the City Attorney to tickle the recall gossips that it was "all done." It is not, however, for it is likely the ordinance abolishing all the places will never pass for some of them—fruit inspector and restaurant inspector, particularly—are deemed necessary by the Council. To remove experienced men and distribute their work is regarded as dangerous, and the Council may not approve of all the Board of Health urges. As a sop to get the scalps the board figures that it will save $3000 by the change, and it urges that part of this—not more than $1200—be used in employing a physician to treat the poor of the Second, Eighth and Ninth Wards free.

Being still ignorant of the civil service classifications the board "recommends that the incumbents of the positions abolished, so far as practicable, be given preference in the matter of appointment to the additional inspectorships." The board thinks eleven inspectors and three assistants would be ample for all purposes.

Another scalp sought by the Mayor was that of James A. Craig, police license inspector. The Mayor has never liked this and it was because Craig holds this job, especially created for him, that the Mayor wanted the Civil Service Commission to resign, thinking it had appointed him. Learning that the commission had nothing to do with the office, he asked the Council to abolish the position. But the Council laid the subject over for a week for the advice of Auditor Mushet, who urged its creation, believing that the inspector would add $100,000 annually to the license receipts of the city. Craig had an awful time landing the job and it seems that it will be a hard job to get him out.

NO REMOVALS.

FISHING FOR CAUSES.

No effort to remove M. K. Young and Dr. D. W. Edelman from the Civil Service Commission was made by the Mayor yesterday, as he knew the Council would not sustain him without better reasons than have been given—all political. It is understood that the recallers are trying to fabricate some kind of formal charges against the two commissioners in an effort to induce the Council to consent, but if such a programme is followed the members of the commission will demand trials and the Council will grant them, according to expressions. Most of the Mayor's friends believe he has realized the futility of his fight on the two men and that he will not press the removals further.

DEE'S REQUISITION.

BIG PISTOL FOR POLICE.

When E. M. Dee, examiner for the Civil Service Commission, a mild, scholarly young man, presented a requisition at the office of the Supply Committee yesterday for a revolver and 160 cartridges—ball, not blank—the young lady clerk gasped.

Mr. Dee suggests anything but pugnacity or disorder.

He heard the gasp and guessed the cause and hurriedly explained that, as an examination of policemen for advancement to the position of captain and lieutenant is to be held May 8, the weapon is needed for the tests of skill on the part of the applicant and all must use the same weapon.

The commission last night suspended its rules so that all sergeants under 50 years, who have been ten years on the force, may take the examination for lieutenant and also for captains.

Frank White,

colored messenger in the Mayor's office, who felt the executive scalping knife yesterday.

The application of C. W. Hatfield for reinstatement was again denied. This time Hatfield sent it by special delivery and the obscured return card in the corner of the envelope was that of a prominent lawyer. This led the commission to guess that Hatfield intends legal proceedings of some kind. He was in the fire department once under emergency appointment and subsequently passed examination with a higher average than any applicant in the past three years. But he was ten years over the age limit, and the commission would not permit him to receive appointment.

RIVAL MARKETS.

COUNCIL WON'T MIX.

War may involve rival markets but the Council will not intervene. The letter of E. B. Rivers, of Rivers Bros., to that body yesterday started something. It brought W. T. Craig before the members as the attorney for the proposed market at Ninth and San Julian streets, which the company building a market at Sixth and Alameda streets wants stopped. Craig said his clients intended to go ahead and build a market on their own land and that they had three hundred and fifty stalls leased. He said he had no objection to the other market at all, but insisted that the Council let private business enterprises alone.

An appeal to the City Attorney brought a decision that the Council has nothing more to do with a market than to require sanitary conditions and pure food and this decision caused the letter of Rivers to be filed promptly.

Both markets are private enterprises and the Council believes they should fight it out. Rivers wanted the Council to decide which location is the best and then let the losing company abandon its plans. Craig took the position that the Council could do nothing of the kind and he got the support of the City Attorney.

PAVING PRECEDENT.

CITY PAYS HALF COST.

Councilman Wallace got instructions from the Council to the City Engineer yesterday to prepare an ordinance to improve Thirty-sixth Place between Vermont and Normandie streets, with gutters and macadam roadway, half the cost to be paid by the city. This because he holds that the city in grading other streets forced the watershed on Thirty-sixth Place. The action was against the advice of the Board of Public Works and the City Engineer, who held that it would not do for the city to begin sharing the cost of streets that had never been improved. Dromgold and Yonkin stood alone in opposition. Some of the other Councilmen who voted for the instruction say they have similar cases they will ask Wallace to support later. The cost of one-half of the improvement as estimated by the City Engineer, is $4600, and the city is asked to pay it.

Get Five-Cent Fares.

Five-cent car fare over the Los Angeles-Redondo line as far as Manchester Heights is assured at a final conference between the City Attorney and the attorneys for the company today. In this the legal rights of both the company and the city as to the city's authority to require five-cent fares anywhere in the corporate limits will be waived and the settlement will not become a precedent. The settlement will be reported to the Council for ratification next week.

Connell's Case.

The Council committee of the whole, which has a full pigeon hole of things already, received another yesterday, when the recommendation of the Civil Service Commission that it investigate the charges of many machinery houses against J. F. Connell, examining member of the Board of Engineers, be investigated. The charges are serious, and the machinery and supply firms making them are prepared to offer testimony to support them. As the "committee of the whole" seldom meets, references to it are regarded as evasions.

Highway to Port.

Carrying out the plan to make a continuous highway between Los Angeles and San Pedro, the Council yesterday authorized the City Engineer to obtain rights of way along the eastern side of Wilmington through the Sepulveda rancho for a road that is to go straight south through the hills, instead of around them. The city is under promise to grade this road if the rights are granted by the owner.

City Hall Brevities.

The Mayor has reappointed Mrs. W. J. Washburn and John Parkinson members of the Municipal Art Commission.

The City Attorney has returned the letter of the Democratic League in reference to the San Fernando reservoir of the aqueduct to the Council with the advice to refer it to some board of commission that has power to summon witnesses, which is beyond the power of his office. The Council referred the letter to the Water Board and the Board of Public Works, and if the answers are not sufficient will hold an investigation of its own.

OFFICIAL MOURNERS.

The Bar Association took action yesterday upon the death of Former Judge R. B. Carpenter and appointed a committee to attend the funeral today and to draw up appropriate resolutions to be acted upon at the annual meeting. The committee consists of J. A. Anderson, Henry T. Gage, A. H. Van Cott, D. K. Trask and James A. Gibson.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

PSYCHIC PRICES IN DISPUTE.

MRS BARNETT SAYS THAT SHE WAS WORRIED.

Offers Explanation of Apparent Discrepancies Between Her Testimony and Other Evidence in Robert Crawford Smith Will Case—Laugh Over Dead Man's Verse.

The developments of the Robert Crawford Smith case yesterday, involving spirits, ran the entire gamut from passive mediums to doggerel verse, said to have been written by Smith when in his lifetime he courted the muses and took absent treatment for the cure of his sick sister 3000 miles away, from Mrs. Nora Barnett, at so much per treatment.

The examination of Mrs. Barnett, which was concluded with the day, also developed the fact that there had been a compact between Robert Crawford Smith and the witness in reference to the treatments, and also that Mrs. Barnett broke her silence in relation to that agreement. This was by reason of the fact that Smith had left in one of his account books the stubborn fact that on numerous occasions he had paid her sums of money. This did not agree with the statements she had made on the stand that the visits of Smith were of a purely personal character, and that he made frequent calls there because he liked the home atmosphere at the Barnett residence.

The crossing of the wires as to the testimony came out at the morning session, when Charles Cassatt Davis read from the transcript of her former testimony, and compared it with what she gave yesterday as to the visits of Smith. Mrs. Barnett in explanation said that she was so worried when on the stand before that she really did not understand all the questions.

"I took an oath with Mr. Smith and regarded it as binding as an oath to my God; but the entries in these books makes it necessary for my own protection to tell the facts," she declared, passionately. As she left the stand, and court adjourned, Mrs. Kate Johnson, who has been a regular attendant at the trial, embraced Mrs. Barnett and congratulated her upon telling the truth in regard to Smith. Mrs. Barnett was so overcome by the demonstration that she could hardly speak.

It was also her testimony in the afternoon that her price for seven treatments was $10, and that in the course of two years that she had worked with Smith he had paid her between $2500 and $2600.

Some of the poetical efforts of Robert Crawford Smith were produced in court, and the laugh was turned on Bradner W. Lee of counsel for the Smith heirs by the cleverness of the witness. One of the alleged poems was entitled "Life," and, after reading it, Mr. Lee asked:

"Is that some of the poetry you say that Mr. Smith wrote that is so beautiful?"

"Not as you read it," triumphantly declared the woman, amid a chorus of laughter that rang through the courtroom.

Mrs. Barnett denied strenuously that she had evolved the theory as to the cause of Smith's visits in her first testimony in order to hide her receipt of the money.

ANSWER NEXT WEEK.

BROADHEAD AND SCHENCK.

The cases against Thomas H. Broadhead, former chief of police, and Sam Schenck, former police commissioner, indicted by the recent grand jury on the charge of bribery, were presented before Judge Davis, in Department Twelve yesterday. After some preliminary jockeying on the part of attorneys the court granted them a continuance until May 5, to plead.

H. H. Appel, as attorney for Broadhead, objected to the procedure, representing that the transcripts furnished to the defendants by the District Attorney did not include the testimony of Edward J. Fleming, former city prosecutor, upon which he declared the indictment must have been based in part. It was further objected that the transcript did not include the testimony of E. T. Earl, nor copies of the reports read to the grand jury by Earl, nor copies of the affidavit by Nick Oswald to Earl, and read before the grand jury, embracing the charge of bribery against his client. It was also offered as an objection that the transcript did not include the testimony given in the grand jury room by Walter F. Parker.

Dist.-Atty. Fredericks contended that the defendant had no right to press these objections at this time; that they might be proper in support of a motion to quash the indictment.

Judge Davis thought the motions were premature at this time, and the objections were overruled.

Thomas H. Broadhead then stood up to be arraigned, and the indictment was read to him. It accused Broadhead of soliciting and receiving a bribe of $1000 from Nick Oswald, June 24, 1908, for protection of the Oswald interests in the red light district. The date for pleading was fixed for Wednesday next, and the same preliminaries were carried out in Sam Schenck's case. Schenck was accompanied in court by his young wife to whom he was married but recently.

The specific charge against Schenck is that he offered E. J. Fleming, then city prosecutor, an indefinite sum of money as an inducement to him to refrain from closing up the red light district. The accused was represented by his brother, Paul W. Schenck.

MONROVIA IDYL.

LEGHORN CHICKENS INVOLVED.

It was raining cats and dogs out at Monrovia, the night of January 14 last but that did not hinder George W. Crist, a citizen of the municipality, from making a raid on the chicken roost of George E. Powell, so it is charged. Some one broke into the place, and abstracted 120 head of choice White Leghorns which, in the present altitude of prices, means a loss to Powell of about $300. The loot was found in a big coop on the premises of Crist, and it was apparent that some one had tried his best to secrete the fowls from the owner and officers who made the search.

Crist was taken into custody and Judge Wilbur and a jury are wrestling with his case.

SOLDIER'S WILL.

GRANDCHILD REMEMBERED.

The will of Gen. James Montgomery, who died in Pasadena last week, was offered for probate yesterday. The testator was a native of New York, and one of the charities of that city is remembered.

To his niece, Adelaide H. Montgomery, he bequeaths $1000; to his grandchild, Mary Eglinton Montgomery, $1000; to his nephews, Henry Eglinton Montgomery and Stanley Walker Dexter, $1000; Home for Friendless Children of New York, $1000.

The will says that as the son of the deceased, Hugh E. Montgomery, will receive the full income of his mother's estate, in which the testator only had a life interest, he gives him $5000; he also devises to the son all the deceased's right, title and interest in his property in Philadelphia, known as the Whitehall estate, situated in the First Ward of that city, to hold the same in trust for the benefit of his daughter, Mary E. Montgomery, or to dispose of said property at a good price as he may elect, and the amount realized to be invested in good securities until the child shall reach the age of 18, when the money shall be paid over to her.

To his wife, Florence Miller Montgomery, he gives the home in Pasadena, No. 445 Bellefontaine street, requesting that in her will she shall deed the same, or if sold in her lifetime the amount of said sale, to his grandchild, Mary E. Montgomery.

All the residue of the estate with the income of the property is left to the wife during her lifetime. At her death it is to go to the grandchild, Mary E. Montgomery.

Stanley Walker Dexter and Henry Eglinton Montgomery, nephews of the deceased, are nominated as executors and trustees, without bonds. The will was executed February 23, 1909.

MARITAL WOES.

LITTLE WOMAN WHO DARED.

Robert Sturdy, a big-muscled blacksmith, enjoyed the unusual distinction yesterday of hearing the evidence of his wife, Alice G. Sturdy in an action brought by her asking for a decree of divorce, before Judge James.

At one period of the testimony, Sturdy broke out in vehement protest and it was feared that he would create a scene, but Bailiff Tom Murphy, armed with his favorite "blackjack," went after the man and compelled him to keep quiet. When the court had granted the decree little Mrs. Sturdy, who seemed but a mite in comparison with her muscular husband, stepped right up to him as if daring him to say or do anything, and the big fellow wilted, and had nothing to say. Sturdy was even bluffed by the daughter who testified against him, who turned up her pretty nose as she strode by, and he was very meek during the balance of the proceeding.

The Sturdys had been married before, and this was the second divorce secured by the wife. They were separated by law in 1896, but, after living apart for eleven years, they were remarried in 1907, Sturdy meantime making protests of his willingness to support her and the children properly. This agreement he had failed to keep, and in addition had spent his time and his money in drinking. Judge James granted the divorce, but refused the request for alimony, saying: "This woman has been the wife of Sturdy before and she knew what she was getting when she married him a second time. Hereafter he will be a stranger to her, but this court will not allow her alimony. The children are about able to support themselves."

Lizzie C. Snyder was granted a decree of divorce from Harry Snyder, on the ground of non-support. The wife, before her marriage to Snyder, was cashier in her father's restaurant, where Snyder was employed as a waiter. After the marriage they went to San Francisco, where the husband said he had a lot of money in bank, but this proved not true, and it was necessary for the couple to use $85 the wife had saved in order to get back to Los Angeles. Then the father-in-law of Snyder established him in the restaurant business at Long Beach, but that was not a winner, on account of Snyder's convivial habits, and was closed up. Snyder used to make Monday night trips to Los Angeles from Long Beach, on the alleged excuse that he was about to be initiated in a lodge of Modern Woodmen, but he was always too much intoxicated to take the medical examination.

Martin Murray declared that he would live nowhere else but Colorado, and he had swell apartments at the famous Antlers' Hotel, Colorado Springs. His wife, Helen C. Murray, just doted on the ocean, and she lived at Ocean Park. Martin would not come to Helen, and Helen made up her mind that she would not go to Martin. To make things more binding so far as Martin was concerned, he wrote a letter to his wife, telling her in plain words that he would never come to California; that he had had trouble enough with her, and that it was time for them to break away as husband and wife. Judge James granted the woman a decree on the ground of desertion.

MRS. WILCOX'S WILL.

QUARTER MILLION DISTRIBUTED

The will of Maria Antonia Arguello de Wilcox, bequeathing property valued at about $250,000, was offered for probate yesterday. The document was executed January 11, 1905. The only son, Alfred H. Wilcox, is made executor, without bond. Mrs. Wilcox died on the 18th inst., aged 66. The subscribing witnesses to the instrument are W. T. S. Hammond of Hollywood and H. W. O'Melveney.

The children are Fanny W. Drake, wife of James E. Drake, No. 2715 Hoover street; Tulita W. Miner, wife of Lieut. Randolph H. Miner, No. 649 West Adams street; Mary W. Longstreet, former wife of C. Tyler Longstreet, and Alfred H. Wilcox, who resides at the family home, corner of Adams and Hoover streets.

After providing for the payment of all claims against her estate, the testator makes the following disposition of her property:

To Alfred H. Wilcox, lot 714, Howard street, San Francisco; all shares of the capital stock owned by the testator in the Masonic Building Association of San Diego, San Francisco Gas and Electric Company and the C. I. Du Pont De Nemours Powder Company, this bequest to include both common and preferred stock. In addition he is to have all articles of personal property in or used in connection with the library; all sterling silver plate constituting the table service. It is also declared that in the event that Alfred does not marry before her death he is to have $15,000 in gold coin out of her estate.

To Fanny W. Drake, Tulita W. Miner and Mary W. Longstreet, equal shares in the undivided one-third interest in the following-described personal property: All her diamonds, jewelry, precious stones and wearing apparel; all furnishings in the residence except such as are given Alfred Wilcox.

In addition, the four children are given in equal parts the undivided one-fourth interest in the property at the southeast corner of Spring and Second streets, Los Angeles, known as the Wilcox building, "The Old Homestead" in San Diego, real property in San Francisco conveyed by James Freeborn and John W. Coleman to the testator in 1883, the "Picher Ranch" in San Bernardino county, the "Hughes Ranch" in Los Angeles county, lots K and L in block I, Horton's Addition to San Diego.

Then follows a section providing that to these four children is bequeathed an undivided one-fourth interest "in and to all shares of the capital stock of any and all corporations which I may own, or possess or be entitled to at the time of my death, whether said shares stand in my name, upon the books of the corporation or not," excepting, however, those certain shares of the capital stock of the Masonic Building Association of San Diego, San Francisco Gas and Electric Company, C. I. Du Pont de Nemours Powder Company, heretofore devised to Alfred H. Wilcox.

To the said four children, in equal parts, are given all the bonds of which Mrs. Wilcox is the owner, whether said bonds are issued by a private or municipal corporation, State or Federal government. They also get all of the paintings, pictures and statues, bronze pieces, works of art, etc., in the home.

Mrs. Wilcox says that, as Mary W. Longstreet has no separate home, she gives to her and Alfred W. Wilcox, in equal undivided moieties, lots 1, 2, 3 and 11, Monmouth tract, known as the home place, at corner of Adams and Hoover streets, and it is further provided that if either desires to sell to the other he or she shall pay $21,000, for the half interest. It is also provided that all sums of money, notes, etc., advanced by Mrs. Wilcox for Mrs. Longstreet shall be canceled, and that if she sells her interest in the home that she shall use the money to buy herself another residence.

To her brother, Francisco Arguello, she gives $1000; Sister Refugia A. de Coulta, $200; Sister Gertrude Hubbard, $600; Sister Lola Arguello, $1000; granddaughter, Daphne Drake, $3000; grandson, Wilcox Drake, $3000, the latter moneys for the children to be used for their education.

To the four named children is given in equal shares all the residue of the property of whatever kind. Alfred H. Wilcox, as executor, has power to sell, mortgage or lease the property if in his judgment such is necessary, without any formal order of the court.

"HUBBY'S KICK.

UNUSUAL AGREEMENT.

Rather a queer complaint was filed in the Superior Court yesterday by L. T. Lammers against his wife, Alma N. Lammers, E. Earl Crandall and Clifford Clow. It is set out that Lammers and his wife were married November 24, 1894, and that they are the parents of three children. The husband also avers that at the time of their marriage he was possessed of forty acres in San Bernardino county, a part of the California Colonization tract. He says that on September 14, 1908, the wife deserted him, and meantime she had managed to wheedle him into signing away his rights to the real estate. Crandall and Clow are charged with having managed the deal.

But the unusual part of the petition follows in the shape of an exhibit. It is alleged that on September 17, within three days after the wedding, she left him, and that afterward they drew up an agreement. In that document, Lammers was obligated to conduct himself in a manner becoming his station as a husband and father; avoid displays of ill temper; accompanying his wife to church and places of amusement; assist in entertaining her guests and company; in a word, to be a good which it plans to sink 3600 feet on Banning ground, at Newport, 544 acres of which it leases on a one-sixth royalty basis. Mr. Arkell states that no salaries are paid officers and no promotion shares issued. Sufficient stock has been underwritten to bore 3000 feet if necessary.

When buying a player piano don't select one that is still in the experimental stage. There is but one practical 88-note player piano made. That is the APOLLO—remember the name. Other manufacturers are experimenting with 88-note players, but cannot get results without infringing on the patents owned by the makers of the APOLLO. For the last seven years the APOLLO has been the only 88-note player on the market. Its many superior features, have made it the standard of the world. Being unable to cope with the competition of the APOLLO, other manufacturers are now placing on the market 88-note players, but these are just seven years behind the APOLLO. Why not have a piano in your home that every member of the family can play and enjoy? We will take your old piano in exchange at full value on an APOLLO. Call or write for descriptive booklet.

The officers are: Edgar Van Etten, formerly with the New York Central, president; W. H. Beeman, vice-president; A. H. Kemper, secretary and treasury; with J. C. Bird, A. M. Barnum, H. L. Oakley and W. I. Hollingsworth, constituting the directorate.

The land is just across the railroad from Balboa and is considered good prospect or wild-cat territory.

Wild Cat in Coalinga South.

The Standard Investment Company has erected four rigs on the south half of 22-21-15 in the south end of Coalinga to drill. The Coalinga Hub on the northeast corner of the same has a rig started.

Standard Has None There.

The report that the Standard has oil in the old Topo well on which it is working in the Monterey-San Benito field, is without foundation so far as any advices received by the Standard offices here go.

Land in Litigation.

Suit was brought in the United States Circuit Court yesterday by the California-Coalinga Oil Company against the Fearon Oil Company of Fresno county. It is alleged that the plaintiff secured a lease to oil-bearing lands from Joseph Fearon and that the defendants rely upon an alleged prior lease. The plaintiff asks to have the court set this aside and grant it the right to occupy the land and develop the oil.

LIFT FOR CHARITY.

NEED LARGE SUM FOR THE FINISH.

ONLY THREE DAYS MORE FOR ORPHANS' HOME GIFTS.

About Forty-three Thousand Dollars Yet to Be Raised for the New Building in Order to Assure the Donation of Site at Colegrove. Strong Pull.

With but three days remaining in the campaign for subscriptions for a new building for the Los Angeles Orphans' Home there is about $43,000 yet to be raised. The donation by Charles Stimson of a five-acre site at Colegrove is conditional upon $75,000 for a new building being assured by May 1.

The fund is growing gradually. Subscriptions yesterday were $1276.80. The largest contribution of the day was that of Mrs. R. Neustadt, who gave $500. Joseph Bradford was second on the list with $200. The other contributors were Mrs. Cummins B. Jones, $100; Mrs. Sarah A. Goss, $100; F. F. Stetson & Co., $100; George Chaffey, $100; E. S. Rowley, $25; A. M. Chaffey, $25; Theodore Todd, $25; L. G. Stocks, $5; Mount Hollywood Congregational Sunday-school, $5; Mrs. M. McManon, $1, and Alonzo D. Snively, $1. Subscriptions ranging from 10 cents up to 50 cents totaled $89.80.

Contributions of any amounts will be received gratefully. They may be left with the cashiers of stores and offices in which cards of the home are displayed; with Mrs. D. L. Sales, at Coulter's, and with Mrs. A. C. Balch, at the Angelus Hotel. Checks may be sent to Mrs. W. E. Dunn, No. 917 West Twenty-eighth street.

LAWYER HIT BY AUTO.

Steps from Sidewalk in Front of Machine—Severe Injuries—Home in San Francisco.

While crossing Sixth street, between Hill street and Broadway, late yesterday afternoon, C. F. Reynolds, a well-known attorney of San Francisco, was run down by an automobile driven by F. E. Cotharin of No. 911 Valencia street and severely injured. At the Receiving Hospital it was found that he was suffering from concussion of the brain, numerous lacerations on the head and body and possibly from internal injuries. His condition was such that Dr. Shurtleff, who was summoned, thought his removal to his hotel, or another hospital, inadvisable.

Reynolds came here from San Francisco about the first of the month on legal business, and was a guest at the Hotel Chickasaw. He was on his way there when the accident happened.

Cotharin, who is connected with the National Cash Register Company, says he was driving slowly, but that the lawyer suddenly stepped from the sidewalk and in front of his car, and that he was unable to avoid the collision. He says Reynolds sustained his injuries when his head hit the pavement and not from the impact of the car. He took the injured man to the hospital in his machine.

Before he removed to San Francisco Reynolds practiced law in Nevada. He has a family in San Francisco and his offices in that city are in the Crocker building.

BEACH MYSTERY.

Unknown German Who Committed Suicide at San Pedro May Be San Diego Man.

An aged German committed suicide early yesterday in the City Hall at San Pedro by shooting himself through the heart. A note found in his pocket, had evidently been carried some time. It was written in German and as translated reads:

"Dear Friend:—Write in a book: this was a man. Life is a battle, all sickness and trouble. Here I give up."

The note was signed Fr. Knoll. In pencil was written on the back, "Capitalists have the world and men may go to hell. When will it change? The right way teaches us to be socialists." There was also written in pencil, "Born in Germany, May, 1837, seven years in America." On separate slips was written the name and address, Fr. Knoll, No. 432 Grand street, New York. The man was a stranger here.

A report from San Diego says: The police are searching for the body of Carl Boeckh, an old German who has been missing since Saturday night. He mailed this letter to his daughter, Mrs. Christ. Martenson, with whom he lived. "I am compelled to commit suicide on account of ill health. I cannot stand the strain of sickness any longer. I want to thank you, my daughter, for all the kindness you have shown me."

"TAG DAY."

STUDENTS GIVE THEIR SUPPORT.

HIGH SCHOOL PUPILS TO SELL CHARITY CARDBOARDS.

Keen Rivalry Between Los Angeles and Polytechnic—Admiral Evans Enrolled in Cause, Hundreds of Women Prominent in Clubs and Society, and Many Theatrical People.

Five thousand students of the Los Angeles high schools boosted "Tag Day" yesterday at meetings held in the auditoriums of the schools. Practically every member of the student bodies pledged himself, or herself to help make May 1 the most successful "Tag Day" ever observed in the West.

The students were addressed by President Frank and Secretary Sewall of the Associated Charities, and by Messrs. Frank G. Tyrrell and Phillip D. Wilson. They explained the great amount of good that could be accomplished by the proceeds of "Tag Day" and urged the coöperation of the students, whose work last year was so fruitful of results.

The keenest rivalry exists between the student bodies of the Los Angeles and Polytechnic high schools—each one of which has an enrollment of about 2000.

Special prizes to individuals selling the largest number of tags will be offered by the Associated Charities, and another prize for the schools selling the greatest number. Last year, the Los Angeles High won this.

Arrangements for "Tag Day" have been nearly completed. An army of sellers will be on the streets early in the morning. Many new features will be introduced this year, and all the principal downtown thoroughfares will be scenes of fun and frolic.

One feature will be the appearance of Admiral Evans in an automobile at Fifth and Spring streets. He hopes to sell tags as rapidly as he can hand them out.

Another feature will be a big automobile, donated by W. L. Kennedy, which will be filled with pretty girls and singing and dancing comedians, furnished by John Blackwood from the Murray and Mack, Ferris Hartman and Belasco forces. The big car will be driven all over the downtown district and thousands of tags will be sold by its occupants.

Miss Edna Sidney, formerly prima donna of the Grand; Mrs. Charles Giblyn, Miss Blanche Hall, Kolb and Dill, and dozens of other theatrical celebrities will be on the streets with the little charity cardboards for sale. Hundreds of women prominent in society, club and religious circles have also volunteered their services, and receipts from this source alone promise to run up into the thousands.

MANY NEW RIGS ARE GOING UP.

ACTIVITY IN THE OIL FIELDS CONTINUES.

Many of the Old Wells Are Increasing Rather Than Diminishing Production, Is Report from McKittrick.

M'KITTRICK (Cal.) April 27. It is reported that President George Quarre of the Templor-McKittrick Oil Company is soon to begin drilling three more wells under his twenty-year leasing contract on the company's property located some two miles southeast of McKittrick. This company already has three producing wells. Number 3 is a new one and it has just been put on the pump and it is generally understood that it has developed into one of the best wells in that part of the producing district. With the present three producing wells and the three new ones which it is understood are to be drilled immediately on the company's property, the Templor-McKittrick Oil Company takes rank as a successful producer. Their economic conditions are splendid as they have their own five and one-half inch delivery oil pipe line to the railroad some two miles away.

It is also said that the Templor-McKittrick people are figuring on sinking two more wells on their 265 acres which they own in the Templor district. Their property is located not pany where they have seven producing wells.

President George Quarre says the stock of his company should not be sold for less than 25 cents a share or even a higher price and as soon as the present allotment that is under contract with a New York broker is disposed of, not another share of treasury stock will be sold at a less price.

At the present writing the tariff is still in the hands of its friends, not to mention Senator Aldrich.

A white robin is reported from New Jersey. Let's see—no, New Jersey is not a prohibition State.

Spain has been regarded as a "decaying nation," and yet the Spaniards have lately tunneled the Pyrenees.

The reprehensible eastern habit of calling San Francisco "Frisco" is invading California also, we regret to say.

It is perhaps unfair to call a man a liar who says the hardest work is loafing. He is merely filled with gross misinformation.

Abdul Hamid and Gen. Cipriano Castro are at present the most illustrious examples of "has beens" that can be called to mind.

The little brown sailor men looked nifty, that's a fact. But they don't seem to have the move about them that our own boys have.

There must be a tremendously large number of Armenians. Otherwise we don't see how there could be any of them left by this time.

Just as soon as the new government in Turkey gets settled it will look around to see where it can borrow some money. Then the fun will commence.

The eastern baseball fans have not yet attempted to kill the umpire, probably preferring to wait until they see whether or not he freezes to death.

An additional reason why every Los Angeles man should take the opportunity to rest this summer is that there will be another election for Mayor soon.

The delegation of Florida orange growers who are here will doubtless concede that Southern California is also in the business to at least a certain extent.

John Slater, a Philadelphian weighing 400 pounds, was thrown from a carriage the other day. Gee! We're glad we are not the ground where John struck.

When you consider that it required $15,000,000 annually to maintain the Sultan's household you can also discern some of the other reasons for the present revolution.

Also the Sultan Abdul Hamid incited the soldiers of his garrison to butcher their officers. He was a bad egg and he ought to be strung up on the nearest lamp-post.

Do you ever think, since you came to California, about that old line you used to write in the copy books when you were a boy back East about "June is the month of roses"?

"Fighting Bob's" platform lecture is all right, but it is not nearly so interesting as the remarks he occasionally makes before and after in the hotel lobbies and elsewhere.

It is announced that Walter Wellman will again attempt to reach the Pole in a balloon. We trust, however, that he will concede the public the right to take no notice of him this time.

The streets of Los Angeles were yesterday filled with Japanese sailors, and there was not a single case of hysteria among the population. "Red" Hayes will be surprised when he hears this.

HARD NUT FOR PEACE DREAMERS.

The Times is never in the class of pessimists upon any subject relating to humanity. It delights in the many forward steps taken in our time to make war more difficult to develop among the nations, to make war less harsh, cruel and costly. But while indulging the brightest views as to facts and the brightest hopes as to future possibilities, it can never become obsessed with vague theories or deliver itself up to the guidance of mere dreams.

The sober pacificists are often as funny as an ostrich. With a high and noble impulse for peace, they seem purposely to blind themselves as to facts in order to indulge in the sweet dream of a time when war will be no more.

The most recent years have encouraged us in the conviction that wars will be less frequent in the future and that we are making real progress toward an international condition which would finally in the far future make wars impossible or unnecessary, at least. These conditions have been very agreeable to the contemplations of the pacificists; and would that our hopes might continue and strengthen, and that the dreamers might still dream on!

But the outbreak in Asiatic Turkey and the revolution in Constantinople have rudely awakened the peace crowd. In one small district in Asia Minor religious fanaticism and race hatred have brought to bloody death at least 25,000 human beings of all ages, sexes and conditions of life. How many more have suffered martyrdom at the hands of the ferocious Mohammedans will never be known. Among the victims of this diabolical bigotry are many of our own countrymen, also subjects of the British crown, citizens of France, Germans, Armenians and persons of many other nationalities.

Whether the government of Turkey, torn apart by a revolution, will be able to check this work of slaughter, not to speak of the destruction of property, is not quite evident. That the perpetrators of these horrors will ever be punished adequately or at all is something not to be hoped for. If these outbreaks continue, what are the nations whose citizens and subjects are suffering from this outrageous conduct to do? Shall we all stand still, our arms folded like angels of peace with their wings at rest, and content ourselves with protests more or less mild to the Turkish government? Is it not evident that there are conditions prevalent in Asia Minor and at Constantinople which may force belligerent action on the part of those governments whose people are being mercilessly murdered? Once let a body of marines from the ship of any Christian nation land anywhere on Turkish soil, and by violence restrain the ferocious Mohammedans from shedding the blood of their fellow-men, and where will the conflagration kindled by the first shot come to an end? All Islam might easily be aroused by such an act in a Jehad which would sweep from the Bosporus to the mouth of the Indus and all the way down the continent of Africa.

RAISIN DAY.

Next Friday has been selected by the people of Fresno and vicinity as Raisin Day. The county of that name produces about 100,000,000 pounds of raisins a year. The market during the past year has been very slow. A great deal of last year's crop remains over, and the purpose of Raisin Day is to call attention to this food, its cheapness and excellence.

We have not become raisin eaters in the United States. It is somewhat difficult to account for this. We have been producing this fruit in very large quantities in California for many years. Generally the price has been a good deal lower than in many countries in Europe. Our people are able to live better on the average, and do live better. Yet in the United Kingdom about 40,000,000 people eat 73,000,000 pounds of raisins and 143,000,000 pounds of currants, a total consumption of 216,000,000 pounds of dry grapes. This is five pounds per capita.

The raisin crop of California last year was 100,000,000 pounds. There is said to be a hold-over of 60,000,000 pounds. The imports of raisins during the year were something less than 5,000,000 pounds, and there were exported to offset this 7,000,000 pounds. This indicates a total consumption in the United States of raisins amounting to less than 38,000,000 pounds. Of imported currants there was an apparent consumption of a little over 29,000,000 pounds, a total consumption of dried grapes and currants of something over 67,000,000 pounds. As our population is at least 80,000,000, we have here a per capita consumption of not quite .85 of a pound. Apparently, then, the people of the United Kingdom eat annually about six times as many currants and raisins as we do.

Why the people of the United States should import nearly 30,000,000 pounds of Greek currants a year when they could use as a substitute California raisins, is inexplicable. The Greek currant is put up in about as filthy a way as characterizes the handling of almost any food we eat. The California raisin is handled by people of high intelligence and cleanly habits in a community where infectious diseases are generally unknown. The Greek currant is treated by the hands of dirty people, while the California raisin is manipulated almost entirely by machinery, kept as clean as the utensils in the kitchen of a careful housewife.

As to the beneficial effect of eating raisins, there is no question on the part of physicians or food experts. It is a rich food containing an unusually high percentage of nutriment. It not only satisfies the hunger and sustains the strength, but it has an exhilarating effect upon the spirits akin to that of wine, but free from all the harmful effects of the alcohol in the liquid product of the grape. Probably the best way to eat raisins is as they come from the grocery store. But who, since he was a child, is ignorant of the fascinations of rice pudding? If one's appetite craves for pie and must have the pastry added to the fruit, it would be difficult to find a pie better than that constructed with a plentiful supply of raisins.

THE STATE GOOD ROADS MOVEMENT POPULAR.

Gov. Gillett has made a very warm place for himself in the hearts of most of the honest people of the State of California owing to many things he has done and favored, and especially for his earnest contention for a State system of good roads.

In swinging round the ellipse of the San Joaquin Valley the members of the Chamber of Commerce heard many expressions of favor for this project of the Governor's to build two State lines from the Oregon border to Lower California. Whenever the work shall be undertaken, one of these highways must pass somewhere along near the center of the San Joaquin between the two ranges of mountains, cutting nearly all the counties.

The building of good roads by county taxation in that great valley is a very serious proposition. In the first place, such means of communication between the several towns and with the railroad depots is a great necessity. There is an immense amount of hauling to be done, because of the bulky nature of many of the crops. For natural-soil roads, the various counties in this big valley maintain fairly good highways. Automobiles are quite common, and wherever the buzz wagon goes the roads must be at least fair.

But the construction of roads at county expense in counties like Tulare and Kern is a very different affair from doing such work in a county like Los Angeles. The assessed value of our county property is probably greater than that of all the counties in the valley. Yet to construct one line from Bakersfield to Fresno would cover a distance of more than one-third of the good roads proposed in Los Angeles county. From Tracy to Bakersfield the valley is 250 miles long. In width it measures from 60 to 100 miles. If a State highway could be constructed the whole length of the valley, the counties could easily build cross-country roads from mountain to mountain connecting with the State highway. Through each county such a road would generally extend only thirty to fifty miles. With the trunk road running north and south through the valley and several of these cross-country roads, the system would be of the highest usefulness to the farmers and merchants cultivating the soil in the country and doing business in the cities.

The good-roads fever is at a high heat all through the valley, and there is much discussion upon the topic, although the prospect of having county systems is not immediate. The counties have little hope of any movement in this direction unless the State highway shall be undertaken. People generally seem ready to bear their share of the taxation for the great State highway and are quite sure that with such a road once built the cross-country branches would follow.

A HISTORIC EXEMPLAR.

WEBSTER AND THE WEST.

Full many a time and oft have newspapers and orators in the West, whether in the era when it was wild and woolly, or in these modern days of silk hats and automobiles, dwelt upon the views of Daniel Webster as to the country on the sunset side of the Mississippi River.

In 1838 Daniel Webster said in the United States Senate, when discussing the building of a post road from St. Louis to Washington Territory:

"Fellow Senators, neither my voice nor vote will be given for this resolve before this body. What do we want of that enormous tract of barren land, stretching to the westward for hundreds of miles; of those gray-clad mountains, capped with eternal snows? What do we want with that seacoast of 1500 miles in extent, with scarcely a harbor on it? No, gentlemen of the Senate, my voice and vote are opposed to this resolve; and more, I will not vote to bring San Francisco one inch nearer Boston than it is at present."

To be sure, it is seventy-one years since the eloquent New Englander gave the world his views on the West. He spoke of "a country without a harbor." A more egregious mistake was perhaps never made by statesman. The bay of San Francisco would float all the navies, warships and merchant ships of the world, and Puget Sound all the ships of all kinds ever built, from the Ark to the latest Dreadnought just put into commission.

Then there is that vision of Webster's of an "enormous tract of barren land, stretching to the westward for hundreds of miles." Looking at this coast, without a harbor as he thought, and these hundreds of miles of barren land, Webster's eye missed as much in his dim vision of the land as of the harbors. Because of what he thought he saw, he proclaimed his determination not to vote "to bring San Francisco one inch nearer Boston than it is at present."

The State of California, which Webster regarded with so much contempt, produces annually nearly $20,000,000 in precious metals, nearly $50,000,000 of value in crude oil, more than $30,000,000 in value in fruit crops. This one of the three Pacific States is richer in minerals and agricultural wealth than all New England, with several of the Middle States added. San Francisco, of which he spoke so contemptuously, is crowding his beloved Hub of the Universe in population, wealth and commerce. Before another seventy years have rolled by San Francisco is likely to vie, not with Boston in the commerce in and out of her great harbor, but even with New York. And Los Angeles, a town of which Webster and his contemporaries never heard the name, will give Boston a run.

WORK FOR MAP MAKERS.

Will there be another radical reconstruction of the map of Europe made necessary within the next few years? The answer to this question depends immediately upon whether the Turks shall be able to reëstablish their government upon a secure basis. For two generations Turkey has been in a state of decided instability. It has taken at times all the power of Great Britain, with that of other nations added, to prop the tottering old Turk up and make him stand upon his feet. Russia has taken several thrusts at the "Sick Man of Europe" to tumble him into the Bosporus. It looks at the present time as if internal commotion would do what attack from the outside failed to do. All the king's horses and all the king's men of all the kings in Europe may prove unable to restore this shattered simulacrum of a nation to a condition of integrity again.

If the Turkish government, because of internal discord, proves unable to restrain the mad ferocity of Moslem bigotry and racial hatred in the provinces of the empire, foreign intervention seems inevitable. If the present convulsion should prove to be the precursor of the final dissolution of the Turkish empire, it would be very difficult to divide up the several parts to the satisfaction of any one of the European powers.

There is one coalition which might be formed, the effects of which would be exceedingly far-reaching. Should the two great Teutonic empires of Central Europe be able to draw Russia into a combination with them, the Danubian provinces, the Balkans and all the territory of Turkey in Europe and Asia might easily be parceled out between these three powers. With the Teutons on one side of the Bosporus and Dardanelles, and the Slavs on the other, the narrow straits between the Black and Mediterranean seas would be opened to commerce and to the passage of warships of the three contracting nations into the Mediterranean Sea. With Austria having a secure outlet on the Adriatic besides, the control of the Mediterranean would pass to the contracting parties and Great Britain's pathway to India would be cut off.

An interesting event is looked for daily at The Hague. Should the Queen of Holland be again disappointed in her hopes of an heir to her crown, the condition would be very awkward. We must remember that the German empire is a confederacy in which the various states exercise autonomy over their separate local interests. In case of hostilities between Germany and Great Britain the temptation would be irresistible to the continental power to seize Denmark, Holland and Belgium. On the present alignment of the powers, France would side with England; and with her eastern frontier safe from Russian aggression, and with Austria in alliance with Germany offsetting the French connection with Great Britain, Germany would undoubtedly send an army corps to Brussels and hold Belgium in subjection, throw another into Holland and a third into Denmark. With the River Scheldt under German control, and Antwerp a safe refuge for the German navy, the strength of the German position would be almost impregnable.

Of course, these reflections contain more or less of the visionary. But it seems by no means impossible that the map-makers will be called upon at some day, perhaps not distant, to reconstruct national demarcation on the continent of Europe.

HOROSCOPE.
Wednesday, April 28, 1909.
BY COZETTE.

Four planets promise in their shining court
To steer men's wishes safely into port.

Venus is in superior conjunction with the sun on this 118th day. Mercury is in perihelion. Jupiter is in conjunction with the moon.

The eight-day-old moon is in the masculine and fiery sign of Leo. Neptune is in sextile with Mercury. Saturn is in trine with the moon, and benefic.

Push all affairs in this 24-hour period. Buy that which you have long desired.

Ask favors or concessions. The influences of Jupiter, Neptune, Mercury and Saturn are favorable.

Do not speculate or hazard money or happiness in enterprises depnding on luck.

A brilliant planetary aspect for women, promising them all good things in love, social affairs, household and personal adornment, but warning against unconsidered, sudden extravagance in purchasing garments or luxuries.

Women in business should find the day profitable.

Saturn is in a position denoting benefits from dealings connected with the land, produce, building and farming.

A good day for those concerned with minerals or metals.

Good advice is promised from "aged lips."

Women and men with their birthdate today should govern both their appetites and their opinions carefully during this twelvemonth. Those in employment will profit by cultivating pertinacity.

Children born this day are under aspects indicating temperaments liable to running to extremes. They should be trained to cultivate calmness, discretion and frugality.

THE FAIRY PRINCE.
BY UNCLE WALT OF EMPORIA.

The Fairy Prince came, in his beauty and pride, and said he was looking around for a bride. He had castles to burn and he'd boodle in piles, so the maidens were anxious to bask in his smiles; they wore their glad raiment and flossiest lids, and boxed up their Trilbys in sumptuous skids, and they sat on the porch with a languishing air, but the Prince passed them up with an insolent stare. He passed up the parlor and eke the boodwor, and hiked for the kitchen, where cooking things are; there Susan

"A Pair of Schemers" is the bill at the Unique this week, and it is proving an entertaining and laughable one-act comedy. The plot is the old but unwearying one—two lovers with obstacles to overcome.

In this instance the lovers are the schemers, and the stern parents the victims. Will Armstrong, John J. Martin, Mr. Sellar, Miss Elwood and Frank Blair have good character assignments. Miss Irene Earle gives the illustrated songs, and J. P. Wild opens the programme with a new set of Travelogues.

RELATIVES CONTEST WILL.

Declare Mrs. Elizabeth Noble's Bequests to Charity Showed Her Mind Was Unsound.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

MANSFIELD (Mass.) April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There is to be a contest of the will of the late Mrs. Elizabeth F. Noble, of this town, who died April 2, at the age of 94, leaving a fortune estimated at from $600,000 to $800,000.

Mrs. Noble left large sums to charitable and other public organizations in New York, Boston and other places, while her relatives, nearly all of whom are said to be poor, were bequeathed only from $50 to $3000 apiece, as a rule. Several of the relatives are to contest the will, on the ground that Mrs. Noble was mentally incompetent when the document was drawn.

The will is dated December 7, 1901, when Mrs. Noble was in her 86th year. Mrs. Noble had no children of her own. Her husband, a wealthy New York business man, died forty years ago and left her all his money. Among the contestants is Dudley Kinsell of Oakland, Cal., a grand-nephew.

Begin With the Corset,
Not the Gown.

—whether it is to be the "creation" of a gown maker known to fame, or just a quiet, simple little gown; to make sure that it shall have that intangible, indescribable, elusive quality called "Style," you should first pay your undivided attention to the corset over which it is to be fitted.

THE GOSSARD CORSETS
"They Lace In Front"

You know, of course, that your new gown must have long lines! That is a preachment you've learned by heart! And you know that, whether you are slender or stout, you must have the look of slenderness; and, indeed, you want to look slender and you want to be comfortable at the same time!

Now, it is not a difficult thing for a competent dressmaker to cut a gown on the lines demanded by Fashion this season; but, if you have neglected your corset, and, when the gown is to be fitted, the dressmaker finds bulging hips; surplus, ugly flesh at thigh, or angles which need rounding, why, you cannot blame her if the gown, when completed, does not give you that intangible, indescribable, elusive, but all-important quality, "Style!" You expected to have, it and you are disappointed!

So, first be carefully, accurately, intelligently fitted with the proper corset (there's the right model in THE GOSSARD for you,) then give your attention to your gown, and you'll stand the biggest kind of chance of being pleased and satisfied with it, when it is complete!

Mme. Redding, an expert corsetiere, trained by the manufacturers, is here this week to assist you in securing the proper model and a perfect fit.

Choice New Neckwear

No article of neckwear will be more worn this summer than Dutch collars; their shapes make them very comfortable, and their effect is becoming to nearly everybody. All the good styles here:

At thirty-five cents we have a splendidly complete line; and at 50c to $1 many of the smartest new styles shown anywhere.

Included are the lacy styles, and the stiff linens; jabots, rabats, and all the other novelties that this spring's fashions call for.

Hindoo Suiting 25c

A novelty, you'll agree; and a very pretty one, too. Inexpensive, and colors fast, so that anything you make up from it may be laundered and re-laundered almost indefinitely:

Women are using it largely for shirtwaist suits; a wide quarter-inch stripe of brown, blue, pink, green or black alternates with very tiny hairline stripes or pin dots; the effect when made up is very pretty, and the character of the pattern permits many pleasingly different ways of putting together; 32 inches wide..............25c

Appropriate Summer Frocks

Every woman who visits the fashionable resorts requires carefully correct frocks. Realizing the importance of this, our fashions are kept strictly up to the mode—women may select with the fullest confidence as to styles. And prices are as fair as fair can be, with the added inducement—which no other store offers—of free alterations:

The very daintiest of lingerie dresses, of pretty dimities, with hairline stripes or pin checks, and neat figures, are buyable at five dollars; linene one-piece dresses at $10; and pure linens for as little as $12.50 and higher. And of course we've the choicest of hand-embroidered lingeries up to $97.50; frilly, captivating styles that will gain the most critical woman's admiration.

$1.25 Silks 70c Yard

You may search the town over for any better silks than these, even at full prices. When they're reduced this, secure all you can possibly afford:

Colored plain and fancy pongees, and pretty patterns in foulards, many of them exclusive with us; values to and including $1.25, for....70c yd.

$3.00 Bedspreads $2.00

THE LAND OF WEAK KIDNEYS.

It is admitted that Bright's Disease of the kidneys causes more deaths in the United States than in any other country; that more than half the sickness in America is due to weak or diseased kidneys.

We are a weak-kidneyed people, and the reason is plain. Ambitious to enjoy more than a mere living, to have all the pleasures that our neighbors have, anxious for wealth and success, we overwork, rest little, eat and drink unwisely, and are "on the go" all the time.

This strenuous life of today tells on the kidneys. The human body was planned for a simpler life. There is just so much work that each organ can do. The kidneys filter our blood day and night, receiving it in a ceaseless stream, draining off the poisonous impurities. This duty is heavy enough in a normal average life, but when we work early and late, give up rest and repose for enjoyment, and retire late to troubled sleep, the work of the kidneys is increased enormously. Every bit of energy consumed throws into the blood a quantity of waste like the ashes of a fire, and if the using up is too rapid, the kidneys cannot keep pace with it. A cold, chill, fever, strain or any excess may hasten the inevitable breakdown, and as the circulation of the blood never stops, the kidneys have no time to rest, no chance to mend. Sick kidneys cannot get well alone.

Why Kidney Troubles are Common in America.

The first warnings of kidney weakness are dull, aching pain in the back, retention, excessive flow, discoloration or scalding of the urine. This tells of kidney congestion or inflammation. Neglect the trouble and dizziness, nervousness, rheumatic pain, swollen ankles and limbs, dimming of the eyesight, sediment in the urine, or fluttering of the heart will mark the near approach of dropsy, gravel, stone in the kidney, diabetes or Bright's disease.

Only in one way can kidney disorders be checked and cured—by prompt treatment of the kidneys themselves with a special kidney remedy. Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys only. They cure sick kidneys, clear and regulate the urine, relieve strain upon the heart and nerves, and cure backache, rheumatism pain and dizziness. They are recommended at home by people you know.

LOS ANGELES PROOF

Frank Healy, living at 811 East Sixth st., Los Angeles, Cal., says: "My experience with Doan's Kidney Pills was highly satisfactory and if this had not been the case, I would be the last person in Los Angeles to recommend them. Some three or four years ago, while suffering severely from backache, brought on by the constant jar of the train, Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention, and I decided to try them. They quickly and positively banished all symptoms of my trouble. The pain in my back ceased, and my kidneys have given me no trouble since that time. I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at the Dean Drug Co. some months ago for my mother, and she used them with equally gratifying results."

MINES AND MINING.

GLORY HOLE IN LITIGATION.

Los Angeles Engineer Says It Is Not So Rich.

Mystery Developing; Likely Low-Grade Bodies.

Sierra County Shows Well; At El Tigre.

A Los Angeles mining engineer, just returned from Salome, reports that the "Glory Hole," of the Hillside Mining Company in the Harcuvar Mountains, the scene of the recent rich Salome strike, is in dispute as to ownership, and with its leases is tied up pending litigation. It is now asserted that the Glory Hole, which attracted wide attention and was reported to be fabulously rich ledge, was merely a big pocket. Some say that $30,000 will cover all the ore taken out; others even less, while a few set the figure at double that amount.

The attention called to the district as a whole, however, has been beneficial and many experts who have examined the properties there since the strike assert the camp will make a big low-grade milling camp, the equal of any in Arizona.

The railroad from Wickenburg to Parker passes through a richly mineralized country as far as the Colorado River and will tap on the California side a section equally as rich, in which a large amount of development is being done with promise of some good mines. Travel by automobile between Parker and Needles is very heavy, it being necessary to engage seats two or three days in advance. It is very active, both at Salome and in the Parker country but the development has not as yet amounted to anything; little shipping ore has been developed and while the work done has reached a point where big bodies are liable to be opened at any moment it is a waste of time to go into the country expecting to find large quantities of shipping ore on the jump.

Big Ten Days' Record.

Two hundred and fifty thousand dollars in ten days is the record made by the Sixteen to One Mine at Allegheny, Sierra county, this State, and the find is growing, according to W. E. Duplantie, of the Magalia Ridge Consolidated Mining Company, who has just returned from a visit to the northern counties. Twenty-one sacks, containing $125,000 have been shipped and are stored in the vaults of the Citizens National Bank at Nevada City, and a like amount is ready for shipment. According to officials, it is tellurium ore similar to that of Colorado and the ledge is declared to be not a pocket, but to show every indication of permanency. One piece of the lot shipped weighed eighty-five pounds and is valued at $11,000.

The Sixteen to One is one of the old mines in the northern part of the State that has been developing a good showing for a number of years; but while the ores are said to have been good all along this is the only great strike made for a long period. The vein is asserted to be a true fissure, improving with depth. The strike was made April 8, and remarkable values have been taken out from the time ore was broken into.

In the adjoining county the North Star, which has been operated since 1852 with good success, has a shaft down 3000 feet with a large amount of underground work. Last year it produced a little over $1,200,000 and from the work done will show a gratifying increase this year. Work is in good milling ore, the full complement of stamps dropping day and night.

While Butte, Nevada, Plumas and Sierra counties are among the oldest known to California mining, they still present practically virgin ground to prospectors and many old time Nevada men are going there, more than 100 locations having been made by them since the first of the year.

El Tigre for Sale.

The El Tigre mine in Sonora is under option to a New York and London syndicate for $7,000,000 until July 21. Thomas H. Leggett and Fred Hellman, mining engineers who have reported on and operated mines in South Africa, are on the ground examining at present.

C. W. Mitchell, engineer for the El Tigre, who is in the city, says the company completed 10,000 feet of development in 1908 and is doing 1000 feet a month in drifts, crosscuts, raises and winzes. Eleven million dollars constituted last year's output. The last 2000 tons shipped to the Douglas smelter averaged $250. Fourteen million dollars is blocked.

The present option is entirely different from the one formerly held by English capitalists that expired last year. The owners are those who won the property from B. F. Graham and known as the Kansas City people.

The owners of the El Tigre or Lucky Tiger, as the American company is called, are also working twenty-five claims of 500 acres at Silver Mountain, Southern Yavapai county. Development is down 230 feet on these. The outcrop is from 300 to 1000 feet wide and 4000 feet long. It is intended to sink 500 feet before crosscutting or drifting, which point is below permanent water level and where the sulphide bodies are expected to be struck. The ore gives 5 to 8 per cent. copper. In the early days the property was worked for silver, as high as fifty ounces being found sometimes, but the general run is about $5 gold and silver. There are three or four old shafts from fifty to eighty feet.

The location is nine miles from the station of Crown King, the terminus of the Prescott & Eastern Railroad.

The same people are operating also the Rosalie Copper Company's twenty claims, at Rosalie in Yavapai county. It is tunnel work. The vein is from five to 100 feet wide on the surface. A carload last shipped went 8 per cent. copper. A concentrator is planned at Agua Fria River four miles away and a narrow-gauge railroad will connect the two.

To Prove Bonanza Shoots.

The Goldfield Consolidated will start proving the bonanza shoots in a few days and large operation is promised. To handle the Mohawk and Red Top shoots the 750, 850 and 1000-foot levels of the Claremont will be the scene of extensive drifting and crosscutting to catch the downward extension of the shoots named. Extra men will be put at work drifting north and south from these levels. The Claremont shaft is down nearly 1100 feet, a station being cut at the 1000-foot level, making it one of the deepest gold workings in the West.

In Grass Valley.

Mining in Grass Valley is very active. Several mills are being erected and good properties opened.

The Golden Gate has erected its building for the ten-stamp mill recently ordered and expected daily, when it will be immediately installed. The Black Bear is receiving material for a similar mill, to be assembled and put in at once. Grading has been completed, and within a few weeks it will be in full operation. The Bear is steadily sinking, and has cut the big ledge in two places with crosscut tunnels.

The Pittsburgh Gold Flat is reopened and everything put into shape for active operation. The cleaning and timbering of the drainage tunnel has been finished, a steam pump put in and the shaft timbered as far as the drain tunnel. Active development will be carried on, according to present plans.

SCIENCE NOTES.

Fight Fire With Foam.

German chemists have been studying methods of fighting fires of coal oil, gasoline, benzine and other hydro-carbons lighter than water. The burning liquid floats on water and is thus spread over a wider surface than before. The result of the German experiments has been the development of an apparatus that will spray an exceedingly stiff and persistent foam formed by a union of aqueous solution of potash, alum and sodium sulphate with a similar solution of sodium bicarbonate, sodium sulphate and licorice-root extract. This foam cuts off all access of air, and combustion necessarily ceases.

London's Acid Snow.

The Lancet has been making an analysis of London snow on a week-day and on a Sunday. The Sunday snow showed roughly a fifth of the amount of impurities present in the week-day snow. But the most significant difference was that while the week-day snow contained as much as 3.36 grains of sulphuric acid per 10 pounds, the Sunday snow contained practically none. These results only show what was already well known, that it is chiefly due to the combustion, complete and incomplete, of coal that London owes its sullied air.

"Snail-like Pace."

The speed of snails was investigated a short time ago in France. Six snails were permitted to crawl between two points ten feet apart. Exact time was kept from the start to the finish, and thus the average pace was learned. The figures were then put into tables of feet, yards and furlongs, and it was found that it would take a snail just fourteen days to travel a mile.

Gas Mantle Spoils Photographs.

A New York photographer recently learned to his sorrow that the gas mantle emits a ray. He had stored away a large number of plates in a dark place and inadvertently left a gas mantle near the plates. They remained in the place for a month, and when the photographer took his plates out he found all of them fogged. The mantle contained thorium, a radioactive substance that penetrates a cardboard plate box as easily as it goes through glass. The man didn't know this, but now he knows better than to leave gas mantles near his plates.

A New Disease.

Pelegra is a common disease in Southern Europe, but comparatively new in this country, and so far has been found only in the South. About 2000 known cases have already occurred. Surgeon Lavinder of the Public Health and Marine Hospital Service has been to the Southern States to make a study of the disease.

The disease is apparently a combination of insanity and skin trouble—that is, it is a deep-seated functional malady, which is manifested through skin trouble and insane outbreaks. In Europe it has been common for many years, and many of the cases there run a slow course and become chronic, the outbreak, recurring with the coming of spring. In this country, however, the disease seems to be much more violent, and usually is fatal in one season after it is discovered. It is believed, however, by the doctors who have been thrown in contact with the disease that the first stages are insidious, and a person may suffer from pelegra without being aware of it until the trouble has passed beyond the help of medicine.

Cures by Radium.

Sir Frederick Treves, in a recent lecture at the London Hospital, told of some remarkable cures that had been effected by the use of radium. There is a great future for this remedy, he said, and its limitations have not been found. A young woman, affected by a growth on her face, which surgical operations had failed to remove, was cured with radium. A child of 12 years, with an angiomata situated in the arm, the size of a hen's egg, was treated with radium from two sides, and was cured within four weeks. In many cases eczema itching had been immediately cured, and it did not return. Radium would also cure rodent ulcers; in short, it would effect a cure where the X-rays had failed.

CASH HANDLERS.

cash is needed in this modern system, for we depend largely upon exchange. This plan works so smoothly that we scarcely notice it unless in a time of financial stress."

Mr. Gage told of business transactions where little money is needed and showed how the chain of banks extends around the world. He illustrated his point by referring to the man who was able, through a Chicago bank, to buy a cargo of bird seed in Syrian waters, through London exchange. And a few weeks later he said canary birds in America were eating seed purchased by means of cabled instructions to London.

The speaker asserted that it is a mistaken notion that Chinamen and Japanese carry a lot of money out of the country. While connected with a large financial institution in Chicago, he had many dealings with Chinamen. "Rarely did they carry home gold," he said. "Instead, they would purchase drafts on Hongkong. We had no balances there to draw against, but made an arrangement with Hongkong bankers to secure credit in London by means of our own exchange."

In closing, the speaker made a brief reference to the financial stringency of 1907 and said that it was merely a disruption of credit. He showed how the panic acted on all classes, including the bankers.

The other speakers and their topics were: Benjamin F. Pearson, "So and So;" H. W. O'Melveny, "Andrew Jackson and the Banks of the United States;" W. H. Holliday, "Necessary Qualifications for Success."

Yellow Aster Opens Body.

The Yellow Aster at Randsburg is opening a good body of high-grade in the lower levels 1300 feet below the apex and 500 feet from the surface, a crosscut from the 1300 point breaking into what is thought to be the same vein that ran as high as $1000 in the upper workings. It is concluded by mining men, from an examination of this old property, that the Yellow Aster is showing in as good shape as ever in its history, and is dropping its 130 stamps on 500 tons daily. Other properties are active around Randsburg, and a good deal of prospecting is going on.

A. H. Williams in the Stringer district is doing considerable work and is getting out some good ore.

The St. Elmo is working fifty men taking out a good grade of scheelite, running $300 to $600, which it is shipping regularly. A number of leases are working on Butte ledges, making a good showing; and while no noise is made, the whole district is being rapidly developed.

Good Arizona Strike.

A recent strike below the 450-foot level in the Black Hawk mine of the Arizona Commercial Company shows 19 per cent. copper, said to be large bodies of it. The find was made 130 feet below the level mentioned, and the winze has only a short distance to go to strike the 600 level, where a 300-foot drift will be run to the line of the Great Eastern, and to connection with the drift from the Eureka shaft, the winze and the shaft being 600 feet apart.

The company has completed grading for the coke and ore bins, and for the spur leading to these, and tracklaying will start in a few days.

The material has been ordered for a 400-ton smelter, and June 1 should see a large part of it on the ground—building to commence as soon as material gets in. The completion of the plant is set for August 15.

To Pay Dividends.

The Republic mine, owned by A. E. Stilwell and associates in Chihuahua, Mex., will pay dividends within a few weeks, according to reports received from Mexico. This property has been worked by Stilwell and a few of his friends, including James Malcomson of Kansas City, for several years. It contains large bodies of good milling ore, and only the fact that Mexico has been going through an extended period of low silver prices prevented a large output and dividends being paid several months ago. The plans call for a large number of additional men, and the output is to be increased.

HOLLYWOOD FESTIVAL.

freshment stand, assisted by Mrs. Alfred Leonard.

The judges of the flower show will be Ernest Braunton, Theodore Payne, John Blake, John Armstrong and Miss Geis.

FORMALLY OPENED BY MAYOR.

At the formal opening at 7:30 o'clock tonight, Mayor Dunlop will deliver an address, and a concert will be given by the Los Angeles Maennerchor.

Thursday night there will be a grand carnival, especially for the benefit of the people of Hollywood, and all the citizens are expected to turn out en masque. Prizes will be awarded for the best costumes worn by men and women. On Thursday, too, there will be a grand illumination, concert and a festival of sports at the tournament grounds, as well as a noise-making contest, in which fifty boys from Grant school and the same number from Fremont school will compete.

The feature of Friday evening will be an outdoor production of "As You Like It," by the senior class, on the High School campus. The school orchestra will also give a concert at the flower show.

Saturday will be witnessed the real spectacles of the week, the floral parade, and the tilting tournament. There will be twelve divisions in the parade, and twenty-two silver cups will be distributed as prizes for the best-decorated floats, tallyhos, pony carts, automobiles, one and two-horse vehicles, bicycles and horses with riders. A special feature of the parade will be a comic circus, illustrated by a number of floats. Entries already received assure a procession that will cover two miles.

It will be led by the May Queen, in a floral chariot, drawn by butterflies. Who the Queen will be is a secret which will not be divulged until the day of the parade.

The award of prizes will be made at noon, and the parade will start at 1 o'clock.

The tilting tournament, under the auspices of the Hollywood Club, will take place at 3 p.m., on the grounds at Cahuenga and Prospect avenues. There a course 300 feet in length has been laid out, and seats have been erected to accommodate 5000 spectators. A score of riders are expected to participate. They will wear fancy costumes, and will have richly caparisoned mounts. Practice on the course yesterday showed that the contestants are acquiring great proficiency in spearing the rings as their horses charge at full speed, and sharp and exciting competition is promised. Among the gentlemen tilters entered are: J. F. Grass, James B. Irsfeld, G. G. Greenwood, Earl Gilmore, T. W. Brotherton, C. C. Brown, M. C. Nason, E. F. Palmer, C. F. Hale, J. S. Hendrickson and O. L. Noble. The women entered include: Mrs. B. Blass, Miss Margaret Guilar, Miss Emma Hoeckmen and Miss Priscilla Morgage.

The Out West Riding Club, with 200 members, will participate in the parade and tournament, and a quadrille will be executed by a score of trained horses.

An invitation ball, given by the Hollywood Club at its rooms, Saturday evening, will be the closing function.

MRS. READER TESTIFIES.

CHRONIC CATARRH, STOMACH AND LIVER TROUBLE.

O. A. Dunman, 1413 Buena Vista st., Los Angeles.

Mr. Dunman says: "For fifteen (15) years I have been a victim of CATARRH. I have always had weak lungs. For the past four (4) years I was always short of breath. Would choke up and wheeze. I always had a pain in the chest and headache. My nose would stop up until I was compelled to breathe through my mouth and I would hawk and spit a great deal, especially when I would take cold, which was a great deal of the time. I also had trouble with my stomach and liver. I would bloat up and was always constipated. I was weak and run down in every way. This was my condition when I began Drs. Shores & Shores' treatment. I can say they have helped me in every way. I feel like a new man, and I take great pleasure in recommending Drs. Shores to all sufferers, for they have done wonders for me. Any one doubting this testimonial is at perfect liberty to call on me, for I feel sick people should know of Drs. Shores' great skill.

Charles S. Martin and Ernest W. Sundin, charged with being implicated in the robbery of the First National Bank of Monrovia, on the night of December 14, last, will plead before Judge Willis this morning. There is a motion pending in the case of Martin to set aside the information on the ground that Justice Summerfield, the committing magistrate, was not legally and constitutionally selected to fill his position, and attacking the constitutionality of the county government act. This will be disposed of as a preliminary to any further action. George B. Adams will appear for Sundin and H. H. Appel for Martin.

In the same court, U. C. Swenson will plead to the charge of burglary, and Joe Varala will also plead to the charge of grand larceny. Gertrude Driggs, the alleged forger, will be arraigned on that charge, and J. R. Veach, convicted by a jury of forgery of a $500 check, will be up for sentence. It is understood that an effort will be made to have Veach declared insane.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

NON-SUIT GRANTED. In the case of Cory G. Hoff against the Los Angeles Pacific Railway, for $15,000 damages, by reason of an accident to an auto, causing injuries to plaintiff, at the corner of Sixteenth street and Western avenue, last August, Judge Conrey granted a non-suit yesterday, on the ground that the plaintiff had been guilty of contributory negligence. The case of Calvin Hoff against the company for injuries received in the same accident will be called in the same court this morning.

ACQUITTED. The jury in Judge Wilbur's court acquitted Arthur Keach of the charge of selling a mortgaged horse after considering the evidence about half the day.

INCORPORATIONS. Papers for the following incorporations were filed yesterday with the clerk: Bailey Detective and Inquiry Agency, capital stock, $10,000; Miller Carburetor Manufacturing Company, capital stock, $10,000; Pico Heights Lumber Company, capital stock, $100,000, by George F. Guy, Val Hetzel, John Armstrong; Francis Murphy Gospel Temperance Association, by W. S. Bartlett, Arthur Letts, S. P. Mulford, Charles A. Elder, J. E. Carr, T. Wiesendanger, W. C. Patterson, Thomas E. Murphy and J. H. De La Monte; Northwestern Company, capital stock, $75,000, by W. H. Allen, Jr., John R. Haynes, G. W. Hoover, G. K. Barrere, William Mead and C. C. Porter; Ashley-Bailey Company, capital stock, $25,000; Drivers' Independent Laundry Company, capital stock, $50,000, by J. M. Lancaster, J. Edward Reid and W. W. Murray; Texas Oil Company, capital stock, $450,000, by W. E. Noble, A. H. Smith and L. C. Russell; Pacific Crude Oil Company, capital stock, $1,000,000, by M. P. Waite, G. Edward Averill, F. D. McClure, J. R. Riggin and W. H. Shaw; California Aërial Company, capital stock, $50,000, by Thomas L. Wadsworth, A. L. Smith, C. E. Hoyt, C. T. Brady and S. J. Parsons.

"OWL" IS CAGED. Richard Little, 16 years old, charged with disturbing the peace of Belvedere, as a member of a gang of young ruffians known as the "Owls," was arraigned before Justice Ling in the Township Court yesterday and sent for trial to the Juvenile Court next Friday.

FREED ON PLEADING. Justice Pierce yesterday dismissed the complaints against J. L. Hansard and John Galitch of embezzlement. They were recently arrested on five charges for converting to their own use money deposited with them by a number of Slavonian laborers. Yesterday they pleaded that the money had been deposited with the Southern Commercial Company on Commercial street, and not with them as individuals. The defendants are the company, but the technicality was a winner.

SUPERVISORS ACT. At the meeting of the Board of Supervisors yesterday a wholesale liquor license was granted to Claude Ducos at Delphi and East Second streets, just outside the city limits. County Superintendent of Schools Mark Keppel was granted a leave of absence from May 1 to June 10.

WOMAN WILL BE TRIED.

Must Face Forgery Charge, Application for Habeas-Corpus Having Been Denied.

Mrs. Gertrude Driggs, charged with having forged the name of the late John J. Charnock to valuable papers, will be tried in the Superior Court, as her application for habeas-corpus was denied, yesterday, by the Second District Court of Appeal.

This tribunal holds that the complaint filed before the magistrate was sufficient and that the instrument alleged to have been forged was such as might be made the basis of fraud after utterance. The decision continues:

"The delivery of the instrument by petitioner to the notary public was a representation of its genuineness and an utterance of the alleged forged instrument in contemplation of law. Such delivery to a public officer cannot be said to be a delivery to a private agent. The record of the instrument, by whomsoevr requested, was constructive notice of such record, and the absence of a disavowal thereof might be regarded by the magistrate as evidence tending to show a ratification.

"The expert evidence under the circumstances of the case—the death of the principal having intervened—was competent to establish the offense without preliminary proof of absence of authority to sign the name of the person sought to be charged.

"In applications for writs of this character, we will not enter into an examination of the record with a view of determining whether the testimony, in our opinion, warrants the commitment, but rather into an examination of the record to determine whether there was testimony from which the examining magistrate was warranted in acting. In other words, is there evidence in the record tending to show the commission of an offense?

MEET BEHIND LOCKED DOOR.

SECRET EFFORT IS MADE TO SETTLE DIFFERENCES.

Supervisors and Advisory Committee Noncommittal as to What Transpired at Conference, But Board Adopts Resolution Indicating Conditional Harmony.

Members of the Board of Supervisors and the Advisory Committee of the Good Roads Association met, yesterday morning, behind locked doors and afterward refused to make any statement as to what took place in the effort to settle their differences.

In the afternoon, the Supervisors held a second executive session but adjourned for a few minutes to the board room, where they adopted a short resolution setting forth their stand in relation to the committee, as follows:

"Resolved: That it shall be the sense of this Board of Supervisors to advise with the Advisory Committee on all matters pertaining to the building of the highways as advertised and conform to the resolution adopted by the former Board of Supervisors in so far as the same does not run counter to an honest discharge of our powers as Supervisors."

This indicates that the board has come to terms with the committee.

It was learned that the Advisory Committee demanded of the Supervisors a straightforward statement as to whether they would fulfill the pledges they took to consult with the committee in all cases relative to contracts for building. There was considerable discussion as to what points the Supervisors should submit to the committee.

While it is believed that Supervisor Eldridge set forth his opinion as to the responsibility of the board and its legal right to delegate its authority, at least he joined with the other Supervisors in the passage of the harmony resolution.

The members of the committee present were S. A. Butler, J. M. Schneider, A. P. Fleming, F. W. Blanchard, J. O. Koepfli, D. C. Bichowski of Pomona, and Supervisor Manning, a member of the committee. The other Supervisors present were Chairman Nellis and Pridham, McCabe and Eldridge.

"We are all pledged to secrecy," said Butler, when asked to indicate what had been done at the meeting.

"What is the purpose of making such a mystery of the affair?"

"Well, we came at the invitation of the Supervisors and you will have to see them. We are pledged not to answer any questions."

"Was the meeting harmonious?"

"You will have to ask the Supervisors."

An adjourned meeting of the board will be held tomorrow afternoon, and it is reported that another conference with members of the Advisory Committee will be held. On Friday, the Supervisors will hold a conference with the members of the Highway Commission.

At these meetings will be finally considered the question of continuing the contract awarded Frank Gillespie for the construction of the El Monte section of the highway system. It is probable that it will go through, as called for by the specifications.

MILK BELOW STANDARD.

Five Restaurant Proprietors Arraigned. Four Fined, One Demands Jury Trial.

Five restaurant proprietors were arraigned in Justice Chambers's court, yesterday, on charges of having violated the milk ordinance.

The defendants stated that they did not know the milk sold was below standard and that they delivered it just as it was received from the dairies. Four pleaded guilty and were fined $5 each. They are W. L. Godfrey, C. H. Fisher, I. M. Potts and J. M. Percy.

Elderton, proprietor of a spa on South Broadway, demanded a jury trial, and the case was set for May 13. Samples of the milk used in his establishment will be produced as evidence.

Dieting Does Not Cure Indigestion.

Self Denial by Prescribed Rules of Health Used to Be Considered a Cure.

Starvation is a strange remedy for any disease. Yet, starvation by rigorous diet was once generally resorted to in cases of Indigestion and Dyspepsia. Even yet it is sometimes tried. Such a remedy is worse than useless. Every day of life consumes a portion of the tissues of the human body. The food we eat serves to repair the waste, and you can't build up the system by withholding the material necessary for these purposes. When you have Dyspepsia or Indigestion, or any form of stomach trouble, take a little Kodol to help the stomach do its work.

We say, take Kodol, because it is the only preparation that will digest all the food you eat. Every tablespoonful of Kodol digests 2¼ pounds of food. It supplies the same digestive juices that are found in a healthy, vigorous stomach. There are other preparations that are partial digesters, but what your stomach needs is complete rest. Kodol is the only preparation that will give it. A man is so constituted that he needs a variety of foods; to reduce the variety always produces bad results. In 99 cases out of 100 Indigestion is due to lack of some of the elements which constitute the natural digestive juices. Kodol supplies just what is needed. Our Guarantee: Get a dollar bottle of Kodol. If you are not benefited—the druggist will at once return your money. Don't hesitate; any druggist will sell you Kodol on these terms. The dollar bottle contains 2½ times as much as the 50c bottle. Kodol is prepared in the laboratories of E. C. DeWitt & Co., Chicago.

Inspector Crowley is keeping watch on the downtown restaurants and more arrests will probably follow.

RAILROAD CALLED CRUEL.

Southern Pacific Charged With Failure to Feed and Water Cattle in Shipment.

A complaint, charging violation of the cruelty to animals act, was filed against the Southern Pacific Company in the Federal court, yesterday. A fine of $500 on each of two counts is asked by the United States District Attorney.

It is alleged that H. L. Johnson shipped cattle from El Paso, Tex., to San Francisco, in March, and that the railroad's employés did not feed and water the animals as required by law.

TOO MUCH HASTE; FINED.

Auto Drivers and Motorcycle Riders Convicted of Violating Speed Ordinances.

A busy day on the part of the motorcycle officers resulted in the arraignment of six violators of speed ordinances in Police Court yesterday morning, including automobile drivers and motorcycle riders. The police state that in future they will discourage reckless handling of motorcycles.

Fines of $10 were imposed upon C. R. Bradford, Samuel Wood, R. Atkinson, Mead Eldred, W. Sanders and Daniel Eyrand.

To "Liner" Advertisers:

Dating from June 1, classified advertising in The Times will be charged by the word at the present established rate of 1c per word in the daily issue and 1½c Sunday.

Close calculations, covering a period of several months, develop the fact that the average number of words to the line are a fraction over seven. This basis for charge, therefore, will prevail after June 1.

Cash "want" advertising has always been calculated by the word, and this regulation will not change the manner of handling it.

The present "want" ad. rate has been in effect for many years, though the circulation of the paper, now more than 50,000 daily and 80,000 Sundays, has trebled during this period. No paper in the United States, rate considered, compares with The Times in "want" ad. service.

EVENTS IN LOCAL SOCIETY.

Mrs. James D. McCoy,

formerly Miss Alice Shaw, who was married last evening.

MISS ALICE CLAUDIA SHAW and Dr. James David McCoy were married, last evening, at the home of the bride's parents, Hon. and Mrs. Victor E. Shaw of No. 2625 South Figueroa street.

The service was read by Rev. Hugh K. Walker in the drawing-room, which was attractively decorated. A graceful arch of pink and green gauze ribbon was over the heads of the bridal party, and from this hung a huge basket of pink sweet peas and maidenhair ferns. On each side, tall Lentia palms were used. About the room there were festoons of asparagus plumosus and the mantel was covered with pale pink sweet peas and dainty white flowers. Pink roses were combined with ferns in the dining-room, and a centerpiece of Cecile Bruner roses, lilies of the valley and ferns adorned the table. The buffet was fresh with fluffy ferns, among which twinkled pink shaded candles. In the hall sprengerii ferns formed a background for tall vases of lilac and Spanish iris, which were sent by friends of the bride.

Although the wedding was of interest to a host of friends, it was marked by simplicity. The bride wore a gown of white satin, trimmed with rose point and embroidered in pearls, a tulle veil and carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. Her sister, Miss Ethel Parker Shaw, attired in white embroidered chiffon lace and carrying an arm bouquet of Cecile Bruner roses, assisted as maid-of-honor. The maids, who included Miss Juliet Newkirk, Miss Lenore Heller, Miss Brooke Freverte, Miss Nell Elizabeth Doig, all of San Diego, and Miss Grace Rowley and Miss Olive Harpham of this city, were gowned alike in white over pink, and carried showers of pink peas. Helen O'Conor, the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. O'Conor of Pasadena, attired in a frock of white with bows of pink ribbon, scattered rose petals. The groom's brother, Lon McCoy, was best man.

Dr. and Mrs. McCoy will spend a month in Colorado and will be at home temporarily at No. 2625 South Figueroa street after June 1.

Surprise Party.

Mr and Mrs. John C. Davis of No. 314 West Santa Barbara avenue were surprised recently by thirty of their friends, in celebration of their twenty-fifth wedding anniversary.

Touring World.

Mrs. George Allen of Yokohama, Japan, who is touring the world, is the house guest of Mrs. William J. Variel of No. 2009 West Washington street. One of the delights of Tuesday will be the garden party to be given by Mrs. Variel at her pretty home.

In Oceanside.

Mrs. I. N. Van Nuys of West Sixth street is visiting friends in Oceanside. She will return Monday.

Box Party.

Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Hagan entertained, last evening, with a box party at the Majestic, followed by supper at Hotel Alexandria.

Going Abroad.

Mrs. A. T. McCord of No. 1244 Wilshire boulevard will sail on the White Star steamship Celtic, June 5, for a three months' tour of Europe.

Long Journey.

Rev. and Mrs. M. A. Rader will leave on the steamship Mongolia, May 5, for Honolulu, Japan, China and the Philippines.

Minister's Plans.

Rev. T. S. Urenn is to make a European tour. He will leave May 22 on a Hamburg-American liner for an extended trip.

Invitations Issued.

Mrs. Edward J. Price of No. 2627 Severance street has issued invitations for a bridge luncheon, to be given Wednesday.

Mrs. Wilder Hostess.

Mrs. Stephen S. Wilder of Hobart boulevard was hostess yesterday at a luncheon of forty-four covers. She was assisted by members of the executive board of the Ebell Club, including Mrs. Willetts J. Hole, Mrs. P. G. Hubert, Mrs. Frank W. King, Mrs. Lewis Clark Carlisle, Mrs. Edward C. Dieter, Mrs. George H. Kress, Mrs. Augustus Hine and Mrs. Jay B. Millard.

Visitor Honored.

In honor of Miss Florence Cornwell of San Francisco, Miss Lina Johnson entertained yesterday afternoon with a small tea at her home, No. 91 South Hoover street.

Mrs. Titian Coffey.

Mrs. Robert P. McReynolds of No. 219 North Grand avenue gave an informal luncheon yesterday as a compliment to Mrs. Titian Coffey, formerly Miss Eva Elizabeth Keating. Cecile Bruner roses and pink poppies were the decorations.

Johnson-Brown Nuptials.

A large number of friends were present last evening at the wedding of Miss Edna L. Johnson and Walter Arthur Brown, which was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. Rupert Johnson of No. 801 Edgeware road. The rooms were canopied with asparagus fern, from which were suspended baskets filled with white blossoms. The bride, who was unattended, wore a handsome gown of cream chiffon over white satin. Her bouquet was of lilies of the valley and her veil was fastened with a cluster of orange blossoms. Rev. George A. Cleveland performed the ceremony. Later, supper was served and the centerpiece for the bride's table was formed of pink carnations. Mrs. Johnson and her daughters, Mrs. Charles Gardner and Miss Gertrude Johnson, were assisted in receiving by Mrs. Reuben Shettler, Mrs. Leon T. Shettler, Mrs. W. B. Percival, Mrs. Harry Thomson, Mrs. E. Palmer Tucker, Mrs. A. J. West, Mrs. W. R. Albee of Redondo, Mrs. Carrie Bryant, Mrs. Walter R. Cuthbert, Miss Catherine Percival, Miss Edith McGinn, Miss Marion Albee and Miss Mabel Shea. Mr. and Mrs. Brown will be at home at No. 848 King street after June 1.

Coming Wedding.

News of the approaching wedding of Miss Hattie Bradford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Bradford of Pasadena avenue, to Frank Alexander will be received with interest by their friends. Miss Bradford has chosen May 19 as the date for the wedding.

Engagement Announcement.

Announcement is made of the engagement of Miss Fannie A. Wheeler, daughter of Fred F. Wheeler of No. 212 South Reno street, to Paul E. Oswald.

Luncheon and "500."

Delightful among affairs of Monday was the luncheon and "500" party given by Mrs. George H. MacGinnis and Mrs. Edwin MacGinnis at the Cosmos clubhouse at Venice.

Wartmann-Lodge Wedding.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Leta Lodge and John G. Wartmann of Los Angeles at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leander Lodge of No. 1375 East Ocean avenue, Long Beach, on Tuesday evening. Rev. J. H. Stewart of this city officiated. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Freda Lodge, as maid of honor, and Doreen and Margaret Lyon as flower girls. The groom was attended by his father, Judge J. W. Wartmann of Evansville, Ind.

Art Exhibition.

Lovers of art will be interested in the announcement made by Mrs. Ida M. Strowbridge of "Artemisia," that she will exhibit her private collection of paintings to visitors from Tuesday, May 4, till Sunday, May 16. The collection consists of over 100 pictures, all the work of leading local artists, and they will be shown in an out-of-doors gallery. While the exhibition is on, Mrs. Strowbridge's den, which has been closed to the public for over three years, will also be open. No cards of invitation will be issued for this exhibition, but all who are interested will be welcome.

FACTS, FEATURES AND FANCIES FOR WOMEN.

BY MISS SYDNEY FORD.

When I was in Washington I recollect noticing that the artistic studio of Frances Benjamin Johnston, known throughout the Cleveland administration as the "photographer of the American court," was carpeted with strips of plain "hit or miss" rag carpet. It was a most picturesque studio, built and designed by Miss Johnston herself, who was an artist before she was a photographer, and the special features of that studio, in which have been photographed probably more noted Washington women than in any other in the United States, were its large fireplace, its odd and irregular nooks and corners, and—its rag carpet.

Asked why she used this old-fashioned floor covering, which most young women regard as only fit for grandmother's kitchen, Miss Johnston replied that it was harmonious, effective and artistic. So the rag carpet, indorsed by a leading artist, became glorified, and rose from the rank of the commonplace. Art was introduced into homespun, and henceforth the humble rag carpet came to the front, after being banished for a generation and more.

Rag Rugs Revived.

Just now we have some wonderful rugs woven from rags—"poster rugs" they are called, and the name fits them perfectly. I examined a line of them yesterday in one of our leading stores. They come in strips a yard wide and two yards long, or in large 9x12 squares, which cover the entire center of your room, and they are proving very popular for beach bungalows, so the manager of the department told me. The borders are done in regular poster effect, and may represent a quaint old Dutch barnyard scene, with long-armed windmill, or it may be a picturesque log cabin, or a landscape scene—all deftly brought out in bright greens, and reds, and blues. The balance of the rug is in the plain "hit or miss" weave.

Another style is known to the trade as the "shikii" rugs—same rag carpet again, but done in the shadow cretonne effect, with borders in corresponding colors—pink and white, perhaps, which make you think of the old apple orchard back East in blossom time, when rosy petals drift down through the shadows of the trees in the sweet Maytime.

These rugs come in all sizes and all combinations of color, and are splendidly adapted to porch floors for country homes, as well as to the beach bungalow.

Nets and Hangings.

In this same establishment I saw some beautiful bungalow nets for curtains, which are made of a quality that holds its shape in spite of sea fog and dampness. It is shown in charming patterns, in both white and Arabian net, and there are lovely designs of cotton cluny lace which may be used as borders on the curtains, with excellent effect. These nets are two yards wide, and may be had for 25 and 50 cents per yard. "We sell a good deal for net waists," remarked the manager, "a couple of yards makes a waist, and some of the patterns are as well adapted for this purpose as those on the net counters below in the lace department."

Then there are art tickings for chair cushions and over-drapes, done in all the rich, art-glass colorings, and I saw a piece of royaline crepe that was a dream. Over its softly crinkled surface were strewn great lovely pink roses, so natural that you could almost sniff their perfume. These cotton stuffs, which may be had as low as 15 cents a yard, are being used extensively for fitting up bedrooms. For bed spreads, over-drapes for windows and coverings for tables, shoe and shirt-waist boxes and even dressers and picture frames, this treatment makes a room charming.

This particular firm takes measures and gives estimates for the complete curtaining of rooms. "For $5," observed the manager, "one can purchase enough of these dainty and durable fabrics—for they launder perfectly—to fit out an entire room, covering both furniture and bed with over-draperies and hangings."

For the dining and living-room there are scrims in stenciled effects at equally inexpensive prices, and in all colors, combinations and designs. For two bits a yard you can take your choice of dozens of patterns.

How to Utilize Last Year's Waists.

It has been said, by the teeth of a horse and the style of a sleeve you can tell the age of either the animal or the garment. It's the easiest thing in the world to furnish up your last year's lingerie waist so that you can deceive the very elect and make them swear it is of the vintage of 1909. First, and most important, as I have hinted above, are the sleeves. They must, of course, be built down. Sometimes, if your waist has never been laundered, you can quickly and effectually remove the signs of last year by simply matching the lawn or mull and making an entirely new pair of sleeves. Otherwise, you can always build them down with strips of lace or embroidery, alternating with the material of the waist if you wish.

Next, after the sleeves are disposed of, carefully remove the pearl buttons and substitute the crochet buttons now so much in use. You can get them from thirty cents a dozen up. Then get two or three of those fetching Irish crochet ornaments and apply them to the front of your waist—one on each side with a third in the center dropped down in a V effect, or any other way you like in placing them. I saw yesterday some of the loveliest ornaments done in Irish crochet that looked like fuchsias, others were like stems of grapes in bunches of tiny balls varying in size. These cost but little and will bring that last year's waist so entirely up to date that you'll be not only proud of your workmanship, but surprised at the trifling expense of it all.

Speaking of the Irish crochet for which there is such a craze this year, it has blossomed out in an entirely new design in the way of long linen fringe with little balls dangling alternately between the white threads. I saw a show window full of these new conceits yesterday and it gave me ideas for refurbishing just dozens of things. Odd how a little touch of the latest fancy in ornaments can revive and give new life, as it were, to last year's things.

A Model Hat.

I saw yesterday a stunning hat. It was not extreme. It was not expensive—considering its quality and style. It was the large turban shape, the crown of white yeddo braid and the brim of a black lacy straw. A soft fold of crushed velvet in a delicate old rose shade encircled the crown and the sole other ornament was a white marabout pompon with Paradise aigrette set in a chou of the old rose, and black velvet and gold ribbon. It was extremely smart and the sort of hat that a woman could wear on any occasion and feel that her head was handsomely and becomingly dressed.

Novelties in the Shops.

Among other novelties I saw yesterday some silver mesh opera bag purses with a drawing cord of silver run through the top.

The woven silk spike hat pins are odd. They come in colors to match your hat if you like. But the brilliants seem most popular—great clusters or balls or spikes of glittering stones that flash like diamonds.

I notice a new line of pins for the Dutch collars which promise to have such a run this summer. They come in brooches or bars or horseshoes in coral, jet, cameos, pearl or Pompeiian gold.

Fashions and Fads.

Bronze shoes are the rage.

The pigskin bag is very smart.

Among the revivals is the jaquette.

Heels are higher on the street shoes.

Wide ruching is used for front of blouses.

Buttons grow larger and dressier day by day.

Heliotrope always looks well with bronze shoes.

Long lace veils will be used to drape the hats.

Ribbons play an important part in feminine dress.

Among the new lingerie are the princess chemises.

There are signs of the reappearance of the bertha.

The voiles are less talked of than for some seasons.

For trimming the lingerie frocks Irish crochet takes the lead.

Graduation gowns will be practically all of the princess shape.

Many of the attractive trimmings show a touch of gold or silver.

The black satin slipper is becoming very popular for evening wear.

Some of the new lingerie have slight touches of colored embroidery.

COLLEGE WOMAN'S CLUB.

The College Woman's Club will celebrate May Day with an old English garden fete under the greenwood trees at Huntington Hall on the afternoon of May 1 at 2:30 o'clock. The feature will be a masque written by three of the club members, Mrs. S. C. Dunlap, Miss Eva Gray and Miss Louise Ehrmann. The play represents a conflict between the forces of summer and winter, and the final victory of summer, which is celebrated with gleesome choruses, the crowning of summer and a dainty May Pole dance on the greensward. The persons of the play are: Mother Winter, Mrs. Gertrude Kellar Bagley; Maid Summer, Miss Edith Spencer; The Shepherdess, Miss Louise Dixon; Leader of the May Pole, Miss Sarah McLean; Leader of the Winter's Train, Miss Adele Humphrey.

At the conclusion of the play, ten of the matrons of the club will preside at tea tables, from which true May dainties will be served.

AH WONG ACCUSED OF WRONG.

Ah Wong, proprietor of a small grocery store at No. 424 North Los Angeles street, was arrested last night by Chinatown police on the charge of running a gambling joint and lottery game in the rear of his establishment. When officers raided the place they found a poker game in progress between a group of celestials. A number of lottery tickets were also found. Ah Wong gave $100 cash bail for his appearance in Police Court this morning.

Wrecked Nerves

is needed for strengthening a weak woman's constitution. Take Cardui.

Cardui has been found to rebuild wrecked nerve force and make weak, shattered women into bright, happy, healthy beings.

For long years it has been doing this work for the women of America, until today it is well-known as "the woman's tonic" and thousands of weak, sick, miserable women, write enthusiastic letters in praise of Cardui.

Mrs. M. C. McElroy, of Clinton, Ky., writes. "For six years, I was a sufferer from female troubles. I could not eat, could not stand on my feet without suffering great pain. I had such awful hurting, down in my right side, that I could hardly be doctors said that I was in a critical condition and and I had lost all hopes of ever being better, when I take Cardui.

"Before I had taken one bottle I felt better and in a week's time I than I had been in six years. like a charm. I think it is the ever used. I advise all suffering take Cardui."

AGONY OF ECZEMA BEYOND WORDS

Whole Body a Mass of Raw, Torturing Humor—Hair All Fell Out and Ears Seemed Ready to Drop Off—Clothing Would Stick to Bleeding Flesh—Hoped Death Would End Fearful Suffering.

CASE SEEMED HOPELESS BUT CUTICURA CURED HER

"Words cannot describe the terrible eczema I suffered with. It broke out on my head and kept spreading until it covered my whole body. I was almost a solid mass of sores from head to foot. I looked more like a piece of raw beef than a human being. The pain and agony I endured seemed more than I could bear. Blood and pus oozed from the great sore on my scalp, from under my finger nails, and nearly all over my body. My ears were so crusted and swollen I was afraid they would break off. Every hair in my head fell out. I could not sit down, for my clothes would stick to the raw and bleeding flesh, making me cry out from the pain. My family doctor did all he could, but I got worse and worse. My condition was awful. I did not think I could live, and wanted death to come and end my frightful sufferings.

"In this condition my mother-in-law begged me to try the Cuticura Remedies. I said I would, but had no hope of recovery. But oh, what blessed relief I experienced after applying Cuticura Ointment. It cooled the bleeding and itching flesh and brought me the first real sleep I had had in weeks. It was as grateful as ice to a burning tongue. I would bathe with warm water and Cuticura Soap, then apply the Ointment freely. I also took Cuticura Resolvent for the blood. In a short time the sores stopped running, the flesh began to heal, and I knew I was to get well again. Then the hair on my head began to grow, and in a short time I was completely cured. I cannot praise Cuticura enough. I wish I could tell everybody who has eczema to use Cuticura. My condition was so terrible that what cured me cannot fail to cure anybody of this awful disease. If any one doubts the truth of this letter, tell them to write to me. Mrs. Wm. Hunt, 135 Thomas St., Newark, N. J., Sept. 28, 1908."

Cuticura Soap, Ointment and Resolvent (liquid or pills) are sold throughout the world. Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Sole Props., Boston, Mass. Mailed Free, Latest Cuticura Skin Book.

in Salt Lake City in August, and there feature the fine body of musicians.

J. J. Steadman, Past Department Commander of Iowa, extended a hearty welcome to the national commander in behalf of the comrades of Southern California. Comrade F. R. Worth, whose magnificent voice has entertained thousands of Civil War veterans, sang "Marching to the Front, Boys," a song of war, and one that many of the men there held dear because of the memories it brought up. Commander Nevius was then introduced.

"Coming from New Jersey, one of the original thirteen States of the Union, I always feel proud when I see the great States that these original thirteen produced, and California is one of the greatest," said the commander.

"I have been from one end of the country to the other and never in my travels have I seen as many beautiful flowers and homes as on my trip by automobile through Los Angeles and to Pasadena and the neighboring cities. It is a wonderland of flowers and I shall remember my visit to my comrades here as one of the happiest times of my life. I do not blame them for having come from homes in the East to settle in this wonderful land.

CALLS FOR RECRUITS.

"I have traveled much in the interests of the Grand Army of the Republic. I want to see every soldier entitled to the button and badge of the order wearing one. It is an honor, an honor that cannot be purchased by money and one that can only be obtained by those men who saw service for their country and were honorably discharged. I want all the comrades here to work to get in these old soldiers who are outside the ranks. According to the pension lists in Washington there are now 606,909 veterans of the Civil War drawing pension. Of that number, a little more than 225,000 are members of the Grand Army of the Republic.

"In 1890 there were more than 400,000 members. The ranks have been depleted by the sickle of the Grim Reaper, but there are many yet to be called into the organization and we want them all. We want a large delegation from Los Angeles to attend the encampment at Salt Lake. Los Angeles is the banner department of the West and we want as many as possible to be there. We want the fife and drum corps to be present. We will show you all a good time. Salt Lake is getting ready to receive us and when I review that vast army I want to see Los Angeles men among them. I have met here tonight comrades who fought side by side with me in the days of the war. There are hundreds here who have come from eastern States and it will do my heart good to see them meeting their old comrades in Salt Lake and talking over the brave old days of the past."

The commander was presented with great bouquets of roses after he had finished his address. He was followed by Col. F. M. Sterrett of Salt Lake City, who is working in behalf of the forty-third national encampment to be held in his city.

He extended a hearty invitation to the Los Angeles members of G.A.R. to attend the encampment and promised to show them the time of their life.

Mrs. Lizzie Belle Cross, department president of the Daughters of Veterans and Mrs. Ella M. Van Horn, department president of the Woman's Relief Corps, delivered brief addresses and presented the commander with bouquets. The meeting was closed with the singing of "America," led by F. R. Worth.

A reception followed and Commander Nevius shook hands with those present. Delegations from the Woman's Relief Corps, the Ladies of the G.A.R., Sons of Veterans, Daughters of Veterans and Spanish-American War Veterans, besides other patriotic organizations mingled with the comrades of the G.A.R. in extending a hearty greeting to Commander Nevius.

AT SOLDIERS' HOME.

SPEAKS TO VETERANS.

SOLDIERS' HOME, April 27.—Commander-in-chief Nevius was accorded a splendid reception here today. In addition to the commander a score of G.A.R. people from various points in California were of the party, which arrived at the home at 11:30 a.m. The visitors were met at the home terminus of the Los Angeles-Pacific Railway by Gov. Cochrane and staff, together with the non-commissioned staff under command of Capt. L. M. Lambert, adjutant of the home. After reviewing the two local organizations, John A. Martin Post No. 153, under Com. Timothy Sullivan, and Uncle Sam Post No. 177, under command of Joseph Enderlin, the visitors were escorted to the dining-room of the new hotel. Besides the home officers, the following G.A.R. past and present officials sat down to luncheon: H. M. Nevius, national commander; F. M. Sterrett, manager and director of the coming forty-third national encampment; W. S. Daubenspeck, department commander of California and Nevada G.A.R.; H. Z. Osborne, assistant adjutant-general of this department; C. H. Haskins, J. M. Guinn, N. C. Wharms and C. B. Wilson, aides to national commander, and E. S. Seymour, C. T. Rice, O. H. Coulter, Dr. H. H. Bartlett, G. C. Somers, J. W. VanHorne, D. L. Durand, J. S. Wilson, H. C. Gooding, Levi Price and E. H. Mills.

In the afternoon, a meeting of the joint local posts was held in the posts' assembly hall. Brief addresses were made, after which all adjourned to Memorial Hall, which was filled with veterans and their friends..

Com. Nevius, in the course of his remarks, promised that if veterans were mistreated in the soldiers' home, instance would, if brought to his knowledge, be properly, and if necessary, legally investigated and corrected.

Department Commander W. S. Daubenspeck urged that all G.A.R. members put forth efforts to increase membership of that organization. F. M. Sterrett also spoke.

The party left at 3:15 p.m. for the beach towns.

ELECTED ON RACE ISSUE.

JAPANESE GUESTS.

being present, while several members of the Governor's staff also were there.

It was late when the dinner started, owing to the fact that the dress uniforms of all the visiting officers had not arrived from San Pedro. When these had arrived by special messengers the banquet proceeded.

President Booth of the Chamber of Commerce opened the ceremonies by presenting the loving cup to the admiral, eliciting a response that breathed the friendly feeling of the Japanese empire toward the United States.

FELICITOUS SPEECHES.

In his introduction of the toastmaster, Mr. Booth spoke of the welcome reception given to California commercial representatives on their excursion to Japan last year, and of that accorded the American fleet. The banquet to Admiral Ijichi and the squadron officers, he said, was only in slight appreciation of the courtesies extended to our own people in the Land of the Rising Sun.

Toastmaster Scott was jolly in his introductory remarks, but it was clear that most of his fun was lost on the principal guests, most of whom seemed to miss the point of his jokes.

Lee C. Gates responded to the first toast, "His Imperial Majesty, the Emperor of Japan," He was followed by Oscar C. Mueller on "The President of the United States;" Judge Curtis D. Wilbur on "The Navy of Japan;" Admiral Ijichi in response thereto, and by Consul-General Nagai, who spoke wittily and in high appreciation of the courtesies extended to the visiting officers and himself.

It was during Mr. Nagai's talk that the admiral leaned over to him and said in Japanese that he wished the banqueters to know that he considered it more difficult to make an address than to fight.

ORANGES AND ROSES.

AZUSA WELCOMES OFFICERS.

AZUSA, April 27.—Rear-Admiral H. Ijichi, Capt. Gitaro Ishii, Capt. Tetsutaro Sato and forty officers came in a special car from San Pedro this morning, accompanied by A. P. Griffith of Azusa, Gen. Frank Prescott, Capt. Olmstead, Mr. Fitzgerald and other citizens of Los Angeles.

The car stopped at the packing-house of the Foothill Citrus Association, where a large number of people was assembled to welcome the visitors. The students of the schools were drawn up in a double line from the car to the packing-house, those on one side carrying a Japanese flag, those on the other, an American flag. The guests marched down the walk between the children, and entered the packing-house, where the different processes were explained to them by Manager Clark. Prominent ladies of the town gave each officer a rose, and bouquets were also distributed.

On leaving the packing-house the procession halted between the rows of children, and an address of welcome on behalf of the schools was read by Miss Grace Bierbower. Miss Bierbower was accorded this honor not only because of personal qualities which well fitted her for the task, but owing to the fact that she is a niece of Col. Frederick H. Bierbower, who, in 1854, acted as private secretary to Commodore Perry. Col. Bierbower still lives in Maysville, Ky.

Admiral Ijichi shook hands cordially with Miss Bierbower, and responded briefly to her words of welcome, saying that Japan is grateful to Commodore Perry for bringing her into contact with America, from which country she has learned much.

A Japanese song was sung by a company of ladies, to each of whom Admiral Ijichi presented a Japanese post-card.

The party were then driven for an hour through the orange groves of the valley, stopping at the Griffith ranch and also at the Foothill ranch, at which latter the Japanese employés had erected an arch bearing the word "Welcome."

Japanese men, women and children gathered from all the surrounding country to do honor to their fellow-countrymen.

From Azusa the party went direct to Pasadena.

SAILORS ENTERTAINED.

LONG BEACH ACTS AS HOST.

LONG BEACH, April 27.—Thirteen carloads of Japanese sailors came over from San Pedro this afternoon on the Pacific Electric Railway. The men were met by committees from the Chamber of Commerce and the local Japanese Association. Many courtesies were shown them, including the distribution of several thousand post-cards of Long Beach scenes. The municipal band played several selections, including the Japanese national anthem. The men attracted much attention and bore themselves well. An equal number will be brought here tomorrow.

SAWTELLE.

SAWTELLE, April 27.—City Recorder Downs will be called upon within the next few days to decide if a catsup bottle is a deadly weapon. Charles See is the defendant in an action alleging the commission of an assault with a deadly weapon, said weapon being a catsup bottle. See runs a restaurant and, becoming engaged in a bout with a noisy patron, is said to have used force and the glass holder of tomato condiment in encouraging the complaining witness out of the house. The complainant is a war veteran of the younger generation and a member of the Soldiers' Home.

VENICE.

VENICE, April 27.—The Trustees of Ocean Park are pouring oil on the troubled waters. The work is being done under the supervision of the health department in an effort to rid the Tokio vicinity of mosquitoes. The presence of these industrious insects has become a nuisance, and in an endeavor to rid the back country of them the pools of water are being given a top dressing of kerosene.

The voting precincts of this beach will be three in number hereafter, as the Trustees have rearranged the two so that the lines will conform to those established by the county for voting purposes.

NEWS REPORTS FROM CORRESPONDENTS OF THE TIMES.

PASADENA.

BAER CURSES THE JINGOES.

Invokes Awful Terrors on Trouble-makers.

Scathingly Denounces Anti-Japanese Laws.

Excited Guests Tear Flags from the Walls.

Office of The Times, No. 28 S. Raymond Av.

PASADENA, April 28.—"Palsied be the hand and mute the tongue, be it Japanese or be it American, that is ever responsible for sending our two nations to war."

With these words, Dr. John Willis Baer reached a thrilling climax in a scathing denunciation of anti-Japanese legislation, in his address of welcome to Rear-Admiral Ijichi and forty Japanese officers at the Maryland yesterday. The assemblage at the crowded banquet hall wildly cheered. Flags were torn from the walls and waved above the heads of the Japanese guests of honor scattered about the room, and their American neighbors grasped them by the hand in clasp of friendship. It was a remarkable demonstration.

Rear-Admiral Ijichi sat with the stoical passiveness of his race, just the faintest smile twitching his bronzed cheeks, but in his shrewd, dark eyes burned a glowing appreciation and understanding.

Consul-General Nogal of San Francisco replied. "It is for Japan to cement for all time this friendship that has been extended to us," he said. "It is for us to strive to emulate the magnificent spirit of fair sentiment and square dealing that we have been shown."

With a few happy remarks about the annexation of San Pedro to Los Angeles and the significance of the entry of that port by Japanese vessels, Chairman Edward T. Off introduced Mayor Earley.

"It is remarkable the sudden changes that may take place in a nation," said the mayor. "Fifty-five years ago Japan was a sealed book. Today she is one of the foremost nations of the world." (Stirring applause.) "A nation is like an individual; alone, it will become stagnant and inactive; allied with other forces in friendship and competition, it must either develop and cope with progress or drop into insignificance. The book opened, America has learned much from the strong form of government in Japan, a nation which educates its people, making the study of the English language compulsory, an education that has for its object, not only the good of their own people, but the good of all the world."

Dr. Baer, in the course of his speech, turned to the admiral and said: "We are neighbors. As such, we are merely separated by a bit of water, which I tell you, admiral, is but an American lake. From your view point, it is the back door of your country; from ours, it is our front door. We may get our feet a little wet in crossing, but we have a common ground of intercourse, so close that nothing must ever be done that shall separate those two great nations. When Commodore Perry opened the door and let down the barriers of Japan, fifty-five years ago, he launched a motive that has been a true movement from that time until the present moment.

"All honor and glory to a nation that was able to convert the Russian fleet into the greatest submarine navy in the world and who then transformed submarine vessels into floating ships of war to bear a message of peace to this country and to the whole world.

"In welcoming you, we must assuredly do a handsome thing to reciprocate the cordial hospitality extended by your nation to the battleships of America. . . .

"Admiral, you and your officers will find in this welcome more nearly the feeling that California and America has for Japan than in the misrepresentation (for it was little less than that,) that the anti-Japanese bills might have given you, which were before our Legislature this winter. Fortunately for us, we had a Stanton and a Gillett, men with backbones, who marshaled the majority; and while I do not in any way question the honesty of the motive of those presenting the anti-Japanese bills, they were in the minority, and that fact must be known; and therefore, they do not represent California or the United States. They were wrong.

"Admiral, the jingo press of your country and the jingo press of our own are on the same footing and they are both wrong and have misled a large section of the people in both countries.

"Our two great nations living on each side of the Pacific must work together unselfishly, frankly and harmoniously.

"In closing, I offer you this motto, both to you, my fellow-citizens, and to you, my friends from across the Pacific. "Each for all; all for each."

Consul-General Nogal blended happy humor with his sincere expression of friendship of Japan for this country. He explained that he had only been here four weeks, and that his stock of friendship was increasing as rapidly as the oranges which grow here. He said the rear-admiral would report to his Emperor the splendid courtesy received at the hands of Americans.

Rear-Admiral Ijichi spoke for five minutes in Japanese, while the young Consul-General leaned against the wall and then delivered the translation, which was in part: "This is the first time that I have ever been in this part of your country, but I know much about it from study. Twenty-nine years ago I came to San Francisco as a government student, and, while I heard of Los Angeles then, I did not expect to see the wonderful commercial and industrial developments that now surround you. That this country has developed is due to American spirit. We caught much of your spirit through the visit of Commodore Perry. It is one of your characteristics, and it is one that Japan is cultivating.

"I came from Japan upon no political mission, but for the opportunity of giving my midshipmen practical training. We all appreciate the kind welcome that has been accorded us, and, while I cannot express it to you as I would wish to, I assure you from the bottom of my heart that the Japanese are your friends, and I believe that you are ours. We were given the opportunity of entertaining the great American fleet last year, and with this visit of our ships to your shores the two countries will be more closely connected in the future."

A feature of the banquet was an announcement made by Chairman Off that a telegram has been received stating that President Taft will visit Southern California, Pasadena especially mentioned, in June.

The entertainment to the guests was concluded by a tour of the city in automobiles. The visitors then returned to Los Angeles in special cars.

UNDER WIFE'S THUMB.

Justice Klamroth gave a curious verdict yesterday by suspending a six months' jail sentence for U. J. Shaver and appointing his wife, Anna Shaver, as probation officer.

"If you abuse your wife again she will only have to mention the fact to the police and you will go to jail at once," said the justice.

"Now I have you where you belong," said Mrs. Shaver, "under my thumb. See? Come along and behave yourself."

BIG PROPERTIES DELINQUENT.

The delinquent tax list, amounting to $9976.72, includes the Federal post-office site at the corner of Colorado street and Worcester avenue, which the owners, Beede & Hawks, have allowed to become delinquent for taxes in the sum of $818.91, and the Wentworth Hotel property, whose debt amounts to $4039.40.

HARD HIT.

Many Pasadena business men have been hard hit by the decision of Judge Monroe of the Superior Court in regard to the Wentworth Hotel bond issue. The buyers of the stock were largely residents of this city. Although the bonds, which were given with stock in equal lots, are pronounced invalid, the holders are still responsible, it is said, for the indebtedness of the hotel in proportion to their stock holdings.

RE-ELECT VESTRYMEN.

Parishioners of All Saints' Episcopal Church held their annual meeting at the parish house last night and re-elected the board of eight vestrymen for the ensuing year. On the board are John Bakewell Phillips, S. Hazard Halstead, Louis Blankenhorn, J. F. Pearman, William F. Knight, J. B. Johnson, T. K. Alley and C. S. Byington.

MONSTER RESERVOIR.

Bids will be opened tomorrow for the construction of a 13,500,000-gallon reservoir of the Lake Vineyard Land and Water Company on its recently acquired acreage in the northeastern section of the city.

The new reservoir is primarily for the purpose of conserving the storm waters of the Arroyo Seco, and is secondarily a preparation for future development of the northeast section of the city with a view to giving adequate distribution.

MUSICAL TEA.

Mrs. C. A. Sharpe of South Orange Grove avenue was the hostess, yesterday afternoon, at a musical tea which was attended by sixty Los Angeles and Pasadena society people. She was assisted by her daughter, Miss Marion Sharpe, and receiving with them were Mmes. Joseph Foster Rhodes, Revel English and J. M. Mothershead. The programme included violin and piano numbers by Mr. and Mrs. Philo Becker of Los Angeles.

Garden roses and white snowballs were used in decorating the rooms and the dining-room, where refreshments were served, was decorated with Spanish iris. Mrs. Mothershead and Mrs. Rhodes presided over the tea cups.

"EL RETIRO" LUNCHEON.

Mrs. Fred Elmer Wilcox entertained yesterday at her home, "El Retiro," South Orange Grove avenue, with an elaborately appointed luncheon, which was one of a series. The color scheme of decoration was rose pink, and all the accessories were in shades of rose color. Covers were laid for Mmes. Arthur Jerome Eddy, John E. Jardine, Harlow W. Bailey, Walstein Root, Robert Pitcairn, John W. Hugus, Howard Huntington, Henry T. Fuller, Freeman Ford, Robert A. Rowan and Miss Cudahy.

BRIDGE LUNCHEON.

Mrs. Joseph Hixon entertained yesterday with a luncheon at her home, Columbia Hill. The table was effectively decorated with Spanish iris and field grasses and the golden-brown color in the flower was supplemented by satin ribbons of the same shade. After luncheon bridge was enjoyed in the drawing-room. Covers were laid for twelve.

PASADENA BRIEFS.

Prof. Ferdinand Ellerman of the Carnegie Solar Observatory on Mt. Wilson delivered an illustrated lecture last night on "Observation and Views of Mt. Wilson," at the Lincoln Avenue Methodist Church.

Contracts were let today for the construction of eleven bungalows in St. Francis Court, at the corner of East Colorado street and El Molino avenue. The cost will be $32,000 and will be finished in four months.

Two special cars of the Pacific Electric Railway conveyed members of the two Japanese schools of this city and their teachers to San Pedro yesterday, where a visit was made to the Japanese training ships.

The bid of the Spaulding Company for furnishing apparatus for the public playground at Carmelita Gardens has been rejected and new bids are to be asked for.

Oaths of office were filed yesterday by the newly elected officers of the city.

John B. Dame, formerly assistant manager of the Hotel Maryland, who recently severed his connection with the Hotel Potter in Santa Barbara to take a position in New York, is visiting in Pasadena for a few days.

State President Godber of the Christian Endeavor Union and John D. Mercereay, chairman of the local Convention and Entertainment Committee, have about completed their plans for the session which is to be held in this city the latter part of June.

HONOR FOR FIELD.

Elaborate arrangements are being made for the entertainment of the Harvard "Grads" of 1859, who will attend the celebration of their fiftieth anniversary in Cambridge in June. Henry Martyn Field, M.D., professor emeritus of therapeutics, Dartmouth College, and now living in Pasadena, is one of the most illustrious members of the class and is expected to be present if his health permits of the journey.

Thirty-eight of the original ninety-four members are still living. A rousing college celebration will be the programme. The gathering will be the notable feature of the commencement.

George Barney Merrill of Oakland and Abel Theodore Winn of Novato are also '59 men and the committee hopes to have them present.

LECTURES AT ARTESIA.

ARTESIA, April 27.—Capt. Amos A. Fries, U.S.A., delivered a lecture on San Pedro harbor at the quarterly meeting of the Citizens' Association tonight. A reception and social preceded the lecture from 7 to 8 o'clock. A large crowd attended and the lecture was appreciated.

LONG BEACH.

BOYS STARVE ON LONELY ISLAND?

LAUNCH CAPTAIN SAYS THAT HE GAVE THEM FOOD.

Lads, Committed to Home for Incorrigibles, Put on San Nicolas to Gather Shells for Matron's Son. She Denies That They Are Cruelly Treated.

LONG BEACH, April 27.—Capt. Dennis Flynn of the launch Elliott, who returned today from San Nicolas Island, says that two boys, Gordon Richardson, aged 13, and Dietrich Sepulveda, aged 15, who were committed to the Ella Linton Home for Incorrigibles, are kept by Clarence B. Linton, a collector of curios, on the island against their will.

Flynn states that he found the lads in a starving condition, and fed them from the launch's stores, and that they begged him to take them off the island, saying they were kept there to gather shells and curios, and did not see a white person for weeks at a time.

Mrs. Ella Linton, matron of the home, says that she secured permission from the parents of the boys for her son, C. B. Linton, to use them on the island. It was believed that employment would be good for them. Mrs. Linton denies that her son has treated the lads cruelly. She says they are not "State cases."

MERRY-GO-ROUND BLAZE.

What is believed to have been an attempt to destroy the "merry-go-round" on the beach was discovered last night, when smoke was seen pouring from the structure. A stream from a chemical tank extinguished the blaze, which was found in the north-east corner, where unknown parties had stuffed a box full of lighted paper under the foundation. The self-playing piano has not been popular with many people.

HARBOR FRONTAGE PLANS.

All details have been agreed upon between the Los Angeles Dock and Terminal Company and the Municipal Wharfage Commission regarding the purchase of water frontage by the city on the new inland harbor. The report will be ratified by both sides at a meeting tomorrow afternoon, and will be presented to the Council Thursday evening. It will recommend that the optional contract for the purchase of $200,000 of water frontage and the construction of wharves, to cost $40,000, be approved by the Council and that a bond election be called.

During the Odd Fellows' parade yesterday, Sergt. Kutz lost a Chinese jade from a ring. It was highly prized, as it had been taken from the finger of a dead Chinaman during the Boxer uprising by Charles Molloy, who was on the United States cruiser Newark.

BOARD OPENS BIDS.

The Board of Public Works today opened eleven bids for repainting the Auditorium. They ranged from $1901 to $1000, and were taken under advisement, as were also five bids for placing malthoid roofing on the sun parlor, the latter ranging from $550 to $250.

DECIDES UPON MODEL.

Pomona Church Will Be Built Upon Same Lines as Pasadena Structure—Real Estate Deal.

POMONA, April 27.—The Building Committee of the First Baptist Church of this city has been busy for days inspecting different church structures in Southern California, and has finally decided upon the new Christian Church of Pasadena as a model for convenience of arrangement and architectural form. Norman F. Marsh, who was the architect, has been chosen to prepare plans, and while the local church will not be as costly as the Pasadena edifice, the general arrangement will be the same. The church here will cost about $45,000, and will be located at the corner of Holt and Garey avenues. The old houses now on the property are being offered for sale to make way for the new structure.

Mrs. John Weber today purchased from Mrs. Anna M. Mitchell a twenty-foot lot on West Second street for $2500, the property being improved with a one-story frame building, which is occupied as a confectionery store. The sale was made through the J. A. Fitch agency.

Miss Ilig, sister of Miss Regina Ilig, who is visiting here, will leave soon to resume her work as a missionary on the west coast of Africa. Miss Ilig was at one time governess in the family of ex-President Cleveland.

Mrs. Hugh Capp, who visited at the home of her sister, Mrs. Mabel H. Dills for some time, has started for Boston.

CUPS IN COMPETITION.

Offered as Trophies at May Day Festival at Covina—School Children Will Dance.

COVINA, April 27.—Two handsome gold and silver cups for High School class competition will be offered at the May Day festival of sports Saturday. One trophy is for the interclass relay race winner, distance 220 yards. Entries for this are pouring in. The other trophy is for the tennis tournament. There will be men's singles and doubles and ladies' singles and doubles. A 100-yard dash for High School boys and a 100-yard open race will be run on Citrus avenue.

A big feature of the festival will be the Maypole dance by the children of the grammar school. The queen of the May is being chosen through a voting contest. Hundreds of votes are being cast in the town for the most popular girl. An automobile parade with the crowned queen at the head and a brass band will take place in the afternoon. In the baseball game Covina High is matched with Downey High, third game in the suburban series. The merchants will keep open shop all day. Lunch will be served by the staff of the High School Cardinal at 12 o'clock in the school grounds.

SOUTH PASADENA.

SOUTH PASADENA, April 27.—According to a preliminary financial statement submitted by City Clerk Cox to the Trustees, the total expenditure on municipal account during the last fiscal year amounted to $44,020.29.

Roy B. Stephens, superintendent of the South Pasadena postoffice, has been able from his records to make an estimate of the present population of the city. He finds there are approximately 1171 mail deliveries here and about 50 outside the free-delivery limits, making a total of 1221, which, multiplied by 5, as is customary, would give this city a population of 6200. These figures do not include the Raymond Hotel and are believed to be conservative.

LIONS LEAP UPON WAGON.

Attack Whittier Man in His Rig and Make Meal Off His Dog.

WHITTIER, April 27.—Arthur Woodstock, an employé of the Central Oil Company, who has a bee ranch in the hills near by, was attacked by two mountain lions last night about dark, as he was a short way out of town. Woodstock was unarmed, but he beat off the animals and sustained only a few bites and scratches, none of which are serious. He saw the lions following him, but thinking they were only dogs, paid no more attention until they leaped to the wagon seat, pulled his terrier to the ground and tore it to pieces.

CONVERT 'EM.

MAKE TUBERS YIELD "DOUGH."

MONROVIA POTATOES TO NET A LARGE SUM.

Ranchers Expect to Receive at Least Sixty Thousand Dollars for Produce Obtained from What Three Years Ago Was Considered to Be "Dry Land"—Flower Show.

MONROVIA, April 27.—Water development in the valley district contiguous to the city's southern boundary has made intensive cultivation possible, and hundreds of acres formerly devoted to winter grain have been planted to vegetables. In point of acreage, potatoes easily lead. On the Bradbury estate, supplied by a well put down last year, one field covers 225 acres. One hundred acres of the Snoddy ranch are in potatoes, and small growers in the Sierra Pacific tract have seventy-five acres. The crop will be ready for market in forty days. The visible supply is relatively small, and ranchers expect unusually large returns. Even an average yield at ordinary prices would net $60,000.

In the same tract of converted barley lands, 600 acres of alfalfa will come into full crop this season. The first cutting alone will put $15,000 into farmers' pockets. The entire territory now paying enormous dividends has been reclaimed within three years from the domain of "dry lands." Land which formerly sold for $200 per acre is now held at $500, and only a comparatively small acreage is in the market at that price. The deep well development in subterranean channels of the San Gabriel River has a potential supply of over 200 inches.

FLOWER FESTIVAL.

The first flower festival ever held in the city is being arranged by the ladies of the First Baptist Church.

Col. and Mrs. John Bradbury and son returned last evening from a trip to San Francisco in their touring car. The run northward was accomplished in three and one-half days, and even better time was made on the return trip.

Mrs. C. H. Ainley entertained the officers of the Methodist Sunday-school last evening in honor of Miss Cushman, a returned missionary from China.

Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Keenan will close their home on Prospect avenue and leave about May 1 for a European tour, stopping en route for a month at their former home, Philadelphia.

Mrs. Nathan Bell of San Francisco is the guest of her sister, Mrs. Zielly of East Lemon avenue.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Valentine died today.

FAVOR BRICK YARDS.

Santa Monica Council Removes License Fee—Auto Course to Be Fixed Up.

SANTA MONICA, April 27.—With a view to the encouragement of industrial and manufacturing enterprises, the City Council has decided to abolish the license heretofore exacted from brick yards. The tax amounted to $50 per year.

Mayor Dudley has given notice to the City Council that the automobile road races of the Southern California Automobile Dealers' Association are to be held on Nevada, Ocean and San Vicente boulevards July 10. The Council has issued the order to Street Superintendent Johnson to put the course in prime condition. The County Supervisors are also getting ready to fix up the county's portion of the road. The Board of Trade has named a committee consisting of Messrs. Goodrich, Seymour and Goetz to coöperate with the city and county authorities in the preparations for the racing events.

William Holmes of San Gabriel was at the beach today and said he would probably during the present summer build a brick store and office building on his Marine street lot. His property adjoins Speedway.

Again the plans have been prepared and work is expected to be commenced within a few weeks on the construction of a passenger and freight depot on Pier avenue, for the accommodation of the Los Angeles-Pacific offices and patrons.

ABOLISH THE TAX.

Ocean Park Trustees Do Away With Vocation Imposition—Consolidation Banquet Tonight.

OCEAN PARK, April 27.—Acting upon the recommendation of the Finance Committee, the Trustees have abolished the vocation tax, as applying to all legitimate business enterprises. Boxing contests will continue to contribute to the running expenses of the city, as it was decided to license such performances under the provisions of the ordinance regulating amusements.

Preparations have all been completed for the consolidation banquet to be given at the Pier-avenue casino tomorrow night by the Santa Monica Bay Chamber of Commerce to the City Councils and officials of Ocean Park, Santa Monica and Sawtelle.

Long hair may become the fad by the sea, as local barbers have entered a compact to raise the price of hair cutting from 25 to 35 cents, with an added tax of 5 cents for shaving the neck.

ENGINEER WILL ESTIMATE COST.

SAN PEDRO PLANS TO HAVE MUNICIPAL WHARF.

Proposed Site Is at the End of the Miner Fill in the Outer Harbor, Where the City Reserved Frontage When the Concession Was Granted.

SAN PEDRO, April 27.—The Trustees today instructed the City Engineer to make plans and estimates on the cost of a municipal wharf at the end of the Miner fill in the outer harbor, where the city reserved frontage when this concession was granted.

The instructions are the result of a resolution adopted by the Chamber of Commerce last week requesting an estimate as a preliminary step toward a bond election to provide a municipal wharf for deep-draught vessels. This resolution was not formally presented, but the proposition was brought up by Trustee Foot. He suggested that it would be a good idea to find out "where the city is at," and in what amount bonds would have to be voted to undertake the improvement.

City Engineer Whitman called attention to the fact that the city is permitted to run piers and make slips and that whether or not it utilized all its frontage or only a part would make a great difference in the cost. He stated that it was a mile to the bulkhead line from the shore, and that if the improvement was made before the Outer Harbor and Dock Company, owners of the Miner concession, made its fill, the city would have to pay for the approach to the wharf, and that would cost as much as the wharf itself.

Whitman also said it would be necessary that considerable dredging be done in order that deep-draught vessels might use a wharf on the city's frontage. On the bulkhead line there is now but eighteen feet of water, and at the end of the proposed slips there is twenty-four feet. To accommodate the vessels of the American-Hawaiian line thirty feet is required. This is the line for which harbor facilities are particularly needed at this time.

The instructions to the engineer do not call for estimates on the cost of providing a highway or other means of reaching the proposed municipal wharf, nor for dredging. On the bulkhead line the city has 1447 feet, and from this line piers and slips may be run 1000 feet.

GETS CHOICE GROVE.

Claremont Man Pays Thirty-three Thousand Dollars for Orange Orchard.

CLAREMONT, April 27.—J. Wolfersberger today sold his seventeen-and-one-half-acre orange grove and home on San Antonio avenue to H. F. McGowan of Pomona, stated consideration $33,000.

It is a significant fact that the highest priced orange groves are being sold to local men, well known orchardists like McGowan, who prefer a choice grove where big returns are assured.

Eugene W. Chafin addressed the students of Pomona College at chapel this morning, on the subject of prohibition. Alcohol was alluded to as the "Red plague" of the country, and compared to the "white plague," consumption.

Dr. and Mrs. R. P. Myers of this place spent today with Rear-Admiral Stevens, U.S.N., retired, at the Hotel Raymond in Pasadena. Admiral Stevens and Dr. Myers have been close friends since boyhood.

REDONDO BEACH.

REDONDO BEACH, April 27.—A committee of Redondo Beach business men and the ministers of the town conferred with Rev. Dr. E. S. Chapman, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of the Pacific Coast, today, regarding a proposed temperance movement to be inaugurated at this place. Those who visited Dr. Chapman were Rev. W. P. Hardy, Rev. F. A. Ziegler, W. M. Browning, George C. Hibbard, Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Corey. It was decided that the work be carried along educational lines, preparatory to an active campaign later. Union temperance meetings will be held once a month by the Methodist and Congregational churches, and by means of literature and public speakers the temperance workers will make an effort to create sentiment in that direction.

DIES AT LA VERNE.

LORDSBURG, April 27.—Mrs. Jane E. Young, aged 82 years, died at the home of her son, O. K. Young, at La Verne at 8 o'clock p.m. She had lived at La Verne thirty years. She leaves five children, Mrs. L. H. Bixby of La Verne, Mrs. F. H. Daniels, Huntington Park; Mrs. Lyman Allen, Berkeley, and two sons, O. K. Young and W. F. Young of Pasadena. The funeral will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday.

MEXICAN MURDER.

The officers have secured some evidence that goes to fasten the murder of Reyes Molino Sunday night upon Haciendo Garcia, father of Loadora Garcia, who shot Louis Menzo.

Claiming that he was intoxicated when he signed a contract, James Irvin of West Orange asks the Superior Court to declare that G. W. Maxon of Los Angeles take nothing by reason of Irvin's failure to carry out the contract. Irvin agreed to trade his ranch in West Orange, and a $8500 note for $35,000 property in Los Angeles, and failed to carry out the contract. Maxon asked $1000 damages. Irvin also claims freedom from damages because Maxon, by holding the property for five months, sold it for $35,000.

ALL RE-ELECTED.

The twentieth annual Orange county convention of the W.C.T.U. was held today. All of last year's officers were reëlected, thus: President, Mrs. Viola Norman, Santa Ana; vice-president, Mrs. Anna Hill, Santa Ana; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Alma Kellogg, Santa Ana; recording secretary, Mrs. Emma L. Schulte, Fullerton; assistant secretary, Mrs. Lizzie Warren, Santa Ana; teasurer, Mrs. Frances Paine, Orange; assistant treasurer, Mrs. Nellie Tedford, Santa Ana. Mrs. Paine has served as county treasurer for nineteen years.

OVATION.

GREET ADMIRAL WITH CHEERS.

EVANS SHOWERED WITH ROSES BY SCHOOL CHILDREN.

San Diego's Welcome Most Enthusiastic—"Fighting Bob" Forced to Hold Reception on Theater Stage After Lecture—Naval Officers Taking Riding Test.

SAN DIEGO, April 27.—Passing through long lines of school children and citizens, who cheered lustily, and showered him with roses, Rear-Admiral Robley D. Evans, U.S.N. (retired,) who arrived here this afternoon, was tendered an ovation.

At the conclusion of his lecture tonight, he was forced to hold a reception on the stage of the theater.

The admiral said he had every reason to believe that San Diego would be made a naval station.

"You can get it if you work for it," he declared, "and when you do, I'll come back here to boss the job of its construction."

SEEKS DIVORCE.

Mrs. Ruby B. Painter, a former society belle of San Diego, and wife of Charles G. Painter, instituted divorce proceedings in the District Court in Reno, Nev., today, against her husband on the grounds of desertion and failure to provide. The couple were married in San Diego in April, 1895. In her complaint filed with the county clerk, the plaintiff alleges that she was deserted against her will while they were in Brooklyn, N. Y., on April 15, 1908, and that she has been forced to support herself ever since. Attorney Gordon Stewart represents the fair plaintiff.

MISS FORSTER'S ESTATE.

In a note attached to their report to the Superior Court, appraisers of the estate of Charlotte B. Forster, declared an incompetent person in October, say she has received the sum of $15,000 from her father's estate in Maine within the last two years, but that they are able to find only $10,000 worth of her property here.

Miss Forster is the daughter of a late wealthy toothpick manufacturer of Maine. She has been a resident of La Jolla and San Diego for two years. She is now in a sanatorium and has a guardian. It is said that while her mind was not normal she gave away large sums.

The inventory of her estate shows that she owns real estate at La Jolla valued at $4500 and that her personal effects, principally jewelry and an automobile, are worth $6405.78.

TAKE RIDING TEST.

Orders have been received here for the officers of the fleet of torpedo boats in the harbor to take the riding or walking test as provided by the new army and navy regulations. Lieutenants W. H. Grassford, W. L. Lighton, I. S. Mansfield and C. H. Woodruff will ride ninety miles on horseback in preference to a fifty-mile walk. They started this morning to cover a circuit from San Diego to Del Mar, thence to Lakeside and back to San Diego.

Louis Costillo, a Spaniard, was yesterday sentenced to five years at San Quentin for assault with a deadly weapon on C. R. Thomas at Lemon Grove, the night of March 15.

SPEAKS AT CORONA.

Dr. Dorland Addresses Congregationalists—Rebekah Lodge Gives Its Anniversary Ball.

CORONA, April 27.—Rev. C. P. Dorland, D.D., of Long Beach, addressed the Congregational Brotherhood in the church last evening, on "Benevolences."

Starlight Rebekah Lodge gave its anniversary ball and banquet in Odd Fellows Hall last evening in commemoration of the ninetieth anniversary of the establishment of the order.

Leo Kroonen has the contract to build Newton Brothers' 37½x120 foot, one story brick building on Seventh street, to cost something under $4000.

Charles Lillibridge has bought a lot, 25x120 feet, on Main street, of W. S. Ritchie for $2500.

Dr. and Mrs. W. M. John are to leave Thursday for Santa Cruz, where they will make their ohme.

Mrs. Catherine Welch of Clinton, N. Y., arrived today to visit her brother, E. A. Gaskell and will probably remain in Corona.

E. Barner, after several years' residence here, is to leave Saturday with his family for New York.

C. M. Underhill of Buffalo, N. Y., is a Corona visitor.

VENTURA.

VENTURA, April 27.—A meeting of the Ojai Board of Trade was held at Nordhoff today to take steps looking to the putting down of petrolithic paving on the roadway between Ventura and the valley.

Three rattlesnakes were killed in the hills back of town Sunday. The snakes, always more plentiful in wet years, seem to have come out rather early this year. Raymond Dunning killed a four-foot snake in the cañon at the head of Ash street, Sunday afternoon, and the Butterfield boys killed two at Sheep Flat.

In Other Words Farmers of Fullerton Net Over Nine Thousand Dollars from Twenty-eight Carloads of Cabbages—Orange Output Also Turns to Golden Coin.

FULLERTON, April 27.—Twenty-eight carloads of cabbages were shipped from the local district for the seven days ended last night, which was a record-breaking week for the season. The growers netted $9800. The shipments in carloads were: From Fullerton, California Vegetable Union, 13; Pinkham & McKevitt, 1; M. M. Cobb, 2. The California Vegetable Union also shipped four cars from Anaheim, seven from Brookhurst and one from Olive. The market price has dropped from $35 to $30 per ton.

The orange output from Fullerton for the week ending last night will also net the growers about $15,000. Carload lot shipments were: C. C. Chapman, six; H. F. Dalrymple, nine; Citrus Union, three; Placentia Association, ten; Benchley Fruit Co., three; Thos. Strain, Jr., two.

PROFITS ON GROVES.

J. P. O'Brien has sold his forty-six-acre Brookhurst place to L. D. Timmons for $40,000. It is in bearing Washington navels and late Valencias. Mr. O'Brien paid $25,000 for the property eighteen months ago and has since set six acres to late oranges and made some other improvements. He has also received $15,000 for the orange crop during the past eighteen months.

L. D. Timmons has sold his ten-acre walnut and orange grove at Brookhurst to Mr. Wallace of Whittier for $12,000. Mr. Timmons paid $6000 for the property eighteen months ago and has since built an addition to the residence and put down a well.

R. T. Davies has purchased the seventeen-acre place of Edward Golter at Yorba for $15,000. Stern & Goodman made the sale. There are ten acres of Valencias and the other seven acres will be set to the same variety.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED.

The engagement of C. C. Covert and Miss Minnie E. Potter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Potter, is announced. They are well-known residents of Fullerton. The marriage will take place next month. The couple will reside in San Diego.

Mrs. W. E. Loomis has returned East after visiting Theo. Enoch and family and Mrs. Saul.

Mrs. Fred Gholson has returned from a visit with relatives at Ardmore, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gepford of Muncie, Ind., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Murphey.

An election will be held in Randolph district, May 22, to vote on a $6000 bond issue for the purpose of building a fine school building and furnishing it.

LATE WATER SOAKS LAND.

San Jacinto Ranchers Divert Hundreds of Inches from River to Their Alfalfa Fields.

SAN JACINTO, April 27.—The San Jacinto River is carrying a larger volume of water than for several years at this season. Thousands of inches are flowing into the San Jacinto Lake and the importance of a suitable impounding reservoir in the mountains is more apparent than ever. A number of ranchers along the course of the stream are taking advantage of this late water to thoroughly soak their lands and hundreds of inches are being diverted from the river onto adjacent grain and alfalfa fields.

The statement that the Columbian Sugar and Land Company has made positive preparations to establish a beet sugar factory at Perris has been received with no little satisfaction in San Jacinto. Many years ago experiments were made, which demonstrated that the soil here is particularly adapted to sugar beet growing, the beets produced being above the test in saccharine matter. As the company purposes to pay the same price for beets on board the cars at San Jacinto as will be received by the growers at the factory, the ranchers will not be at a disadvantage because of the distance from the factory. It is reported that citizens of Perris will donate land for the plant and contribute $10,000 toward its erection.

ANGELENO BUYS RANCH.

The sale of the fifty-acre Maple Leaf ranch lying west of San Jacinto is reported, the purchaser being Walter Middlecoff of Los Angeles. He is one of the four buyers of the Estudillo tract. The place is well improved with farmhouse and other buildings, fences, etc., and a considerable acreage is planted to alfalfa. A pumping plant with a capacity of fifty inches is located on the ranch.

Both lumber mills in the San Jacinto Mountains are making preparations to begin operations about May 1. The output from the two mills, it is estimated, will be 2,000,000 feet this summer. A considerable percentage will be made into box shocks for the orange and lemon crop of Southern California.

M. A. Aguirre is planting 4000 eucalyptus trees on his property on Mountain avenue. He was one of the first men in San Jacinto to engage in this industry and he met with such good success that this year he has decided to increase his groves.

The Cawston Ostrich Farm is contracting with local alfalfa growers for their entire output for the year. The hay is bought as soon as it is cut and in the shock and the contract price ranges from $9.50 to $10 a ton in the field. More than 500 ostriches are now on the farm and until the company's alfalfa fields are producing, an immense amount of hay will be bought from local growers.

BAY CITY.

BAY CITY, April 27.—Lewis Stanton of Los Angeles broke all records today fishing with a hook and line off the long pier. He pulled in eighty-nine King fish in five hours. Yesterday he landed seventy and the day before, forty, making a total of 199 for three days.

The Atlantic Gulf & Pacific Company has been awarded the contract for the bridge to be built across the San Gabriel River. Work will be begun immediately. This will put Bay City in land connection with Long Beach.

SANTA MARIA.

SANTA MARIA, April 27.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Postoffice Department has accepted the proposition of Reuben Hart to lease new quarters on the east side of Broadway, between Main and Church streets, for ten years from July 1, including equipment, heat, light, safe and water.

Miss Virginia Roberts, daughter of Capt. Roberts, U.S.A., who will serve sweets at the McKinley Home benefit.

WOMEN'S CLUBS.

For McKinley Home.

A brilliant, spectacular performance will be the presentation of the "Mystic Midgets," at the Auditorium Friday evening and Saturday afternoon, for the benefit of the McKinley Boys' Industrial Home.

Rehearsals for this charming two-act operette are going on daily, under the direction of H. E. Collins, and the hundreds of little people who will represent fairies and flowers in a number of intricate dances, are prepared to give a faultless performance, while the grown-ups are letter perfect in their different lines.

Already all the boxes for the two performances have been sold, and many merry parties have been formed to witness the matinée performance on Saturday. The boys of McKinley Home are looking forward with much pleasure to this May-day treat, for it has been arranged that they shall be brought to the city on a special car for this performance.

Mrs. G. A. Bobrick, president of the Los Angeles Ladies' Auxiliary of the home, is an earnest and tireless worker for the success of the benefit, and she is ably assisted by the members of her organization. Miss Virginia Roberts is one of the group of charming young society girls who will serve at the booths.

Wednesday Morning.

The Shakespeare section of the Wednesday Morning Club will meet this morning at 9:30 o'clock, when the play, "Taming of the Shrew," with Mrs. H. E. Brett as leader, will occupy the members. Music and a travel talk by Mrs. W. H. Housh, the subject of which will be a description of a "Coaching and private train trip through England and the British Isles" will make up the afternoon programme, which will begin at 2 o'clock.

LAY BAD CHECKS TO HIM.

Young Man Arrested Accused of Having Defrauded Grocers With Bogus Bank Orders.

Charged with passing worthless checks on two grocers in the University district, Frank R. DeMeritt, 20 years of age, was arrested last night at the home of his parents in Alhambra by Marshal Benjamin C. Parker on request of local police. The young man was brought to the city and lodged in Central Police Station where he will be held until officers can investigate reports that he has passed other checks than those which have been reported thus far.

Victims of DeMeritt, so far as police know now, are A. C. Bertram, a grocer at No. 3724 McClintock avenue, and S. B. Saunders, a grocer at No. 3727 Vermont avenue. Each was fleeced of $10. Young DeMeritt is now out on probation from the Superior Court for passing worthless checks several months ago.

Monday forenoon DeMeritt entered the Bertram grocery and purchased $2 worth of coffee. In payment he tendered a check for $10 on the German American Savings Bank made out to, indorsed and signed with the name of W. F. Allen. Bertram accepted the checks and gave $8 in change. A few minutes later DeMeritt entered the Saunders grocery and received the change from a similar worthless check after purchasing some olive oil.

DeMeritt was able to cash the checks because he was known in the neighborhood, having been a habitue of pool halls in the vicinity. To police officers he told several stories of where he had worked under assumed names, but the police proved them all false. Recently DeMeritt has lived with his father, F. E. DeMeritt, at Alhambra. The parent is a civil war veteran and supports himself from his pension.

STUMBLES OVER SUICIDE'S BODY.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 27.—Madeline Lamenette, a 6-year-old girl, today stumbled over the dead body of Ulysses Dussour in the cellar of her home on California street. Dussour, who was a French gardener working about the place, had cut his throat some time during last night.

Kidney Ailment

There is Hope

I want every person who suffers with any form of Kidney ailment, no matter how many remedies they have tried, no matter how many doctors they have consulted, no matter how serious the case, to give Munyon's Kidney Remedy a trial. You will be astonished to see how quickly it relieves all pains in the back loins and groins caused by the kidneys. You will be surprised to see how quickly it reduces the swelling in the feet and legs, also puffiness under the eyes, after taking a few doses of this remedy. You will be delighted to see the color returning to your cheeks and feel the thrill of vigor and good cheer. If your Urine is thick or milky, if it is pale and foamy, if it contains sediments or brickdust, if it is highly colored or has an offensive smell, if you urinate frequently, you should persist in taking this remedy until all symptoms disappear. We believe this remedy has cured more serious kidney ailments than all the Kidney medicines that have been compounded. Professor Munyon believes that the terrible death rate from Bright's Disease and Diabetes is unnecessary and will be greatly reduced by this remedy.

Go at once to your druggist and purchase a bottle of Munyon's Kidney remedy. If it fails to give satisfaction I will refund your money.—Munyon.

For sale by all druggists. Price 25c.

THE MARKETS.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

At no time have the produce merchants or the commission men so realized the importance of the Japanese gardeners as they are realizing it at the present time. They are hoping that the Japanese warships will not tarry long and will not return until another ten years has passed. The entire Japanese gardening force has been demoralized by the presence of these ships. Their gardens for the first time in years, are neglected while they go down to the sea to bid their countrymen welcome. The market was never so well cleaned out as yesterday morning. Many of the dealers had sold every vegetable and every berry, those making a specialty of either line having practically empty business places. Prices firmed up as a result and in several instances advanced. The scarcity of cabbage has boosted this up to $1.50 for the very best, with a downward range of 50 cents. Asparagus was more firm and the white variety was hard to obtain. The first homegrown bell peppers brought in this season arrived yesterday. They were sold at 15 cents a pound, about 10 cents lower than the foreign peppers which are larger and of better texture.

Receipts of eggs were 521 cases. There were no particular features in the market, and the range of prices was as wide as usual.

Butter arrivals were very heavy and the market was weak as a result. There was no absolute decline owing to the fact that the surplus stock was placed in storage. Total receipts were 41,622 pounds.

An advance in cheese was again called for on account of the fact that eastern prices went up. Singles and twins advanced to 20 cents a pound while longhorns went to 21 cents flat. Receipts were above the ordinary, 5341 pounds.

Potato arrivals were 1466 sacks. The market was fair in demand and Highlands and Oregon spuds were called for more than other varieties. Two cars of onions were also reported in and helped to bring the market to a lower level. Nearly two cars of beans were reported in from Ventura County. Sweet potato receipts were a trifle better than for several days. The stock arriving is small and frequently shriveled up on account of over irrigation.

The first cherries of the season are expected in from the north this morning. It will mean an early opening of the cherry market which at present promises to be one of the best seasons in years. Berries were all plentiful with the exception of strawberries. [illegible] sold as low as 7 cents while raspberries were down to 12 cents. Both varieties are being shipped in from Orange County.

DUMPING OF DAISY FEATURE.

More Than Eleven Thousand Shares Sold on Los Angeles-Nevada Mining Exchange.

Daisy slipped off ½ point under heavy selling on the Los Angeles-Nevada Exchange yesterday. Aside from this business, little of special interest transpired.

Deals in Daisy amounted to 8100 shares in the morning and to 3000 shares on the informal call. The price ranged from 41½ to 41. The close was at 40½@41, off ½ and 1 point, respectively.

Combination Fraction slumped to a close at 1.05@1.07, off 2 points in each quotation. None was sold. Florence was also inactive, closing at 3.42½@3.50, off 2½ and 5 points in each quotation. Goldfield Consolidated was quoted at 8.22½@8.30, lower by 7½ and 15 points.

The Tonopah stocks were firm, and sales of 200 shares of Montana were reported at 80. This was 2 points above the closing bid of Monday. Final quotations were 80@82.

Leon Gold and Silver was handled at 28, to the extent of 3000 shares, and Eureka, at 3 1-4@3 3-8. Similar prices ruled for Golden Eagle, and North American Mining sold at 4@4⅝; Consolidated Mines, at 1 7-8; Duplex Contact, at 4 5-8; California Hills, at 7, and Johnnie Mining and Milling, at 18½.

LOS ANGELES-NEVADA. EXCHANGE QUOTATIONS.

The closing quotations on the Nevada mining stocks made yesterday on the Los Angeles-Nevada Mining Stock Exchange, ground floor of the H. W. Hellman Building, Fourth and Spring streets, together with the regular call sales and the sales of the afternoon informal session, were as follows:

LOS ANGELES STOCK EXCHANGE

HEAVY SELLING OF ASSOCIATED.

PRICE FALLS OFF SLIGHTLY DURING TRADING.

Two Hundred and Sixty Shares and Two Bonds of Company Change Hands—Continental Oil Bought Freely—Union Trifle Weaker in Bid—Mining Deals.

Heavy selling of Associated Oil was the feature on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange, yesterday, 260 shares changing hands. The price opened at 37.25, and slipped off to regular delivery sales at 37.00 flat, and the same figures ruled for seller-thirty contracts. One hundred and eighty shares were sold on regular delivery. The stock closed at 37.00@37.12½, off ⅛ point in the asked price. Luther H. Green was buying practically all that was offered.

Two $1000 Associated bonds were sold at 90¾, and the close was firm and unchanged at 90@90½.

One thousand shares of Continental Oil changed hands at 35, and the close was at 34½@35¾. Twenty-three thousand shares of the Billiken Oil flotation stock were sold at 20@21.

Union was slightly weaker, the closing prices being 104.25@106.00, off ¾ point in the bid, and up ¼ point in the asked price. One sale of five shares was made at 105.00. The affiliated issues were quiet. Union Provident was quoted at 102.50@105.00, unchanged in the bid, while United Petroleum closed with a ½ point loss in the bid at 105.00@106.25.

Two thousand shares of Euclid Oil were sold at 50½.

Two shares of Home preferred changed hands at 60.25. The close was at 60.00@60.50, off ½ point, and unchanged, respectively. The common closed at 12.50@15.50, up ½ point and 2½ points, respectively.

Another advance was scored in the bid for American National Bank, which closed at 120.00, with none offered. It appears that the Citizens' National and American National banks will merge, as the control of the latter has been purchased by members of the board of directors of the former. No stock was sold.

Clark Copper sold at 21 regular, and at 21¼@21¾ on the afternoon session, and 1000 shares of Consolidated Mines changed hands at 1⅞.

SAN FRANCISCO LIST.

PUBLIC REFUSES ITS SUPPORT.

MARKET FOR GOLDFIELDS IS FAR FROM ACTIVE.

Consolidated and Florence Score Losses—Tonopahs, However, in Good Demand and Nearly All Issues of Camp Are Higher—Rawhide Coalition Weak—Output Figures.

[Special Service to The Times by B. F. Taylor, 524 Citizens' National Bank Bldg.]

SAN FRANCISCO, April 27.—The market was very quiet today. The Goldfields have been standing still for the past two days, owing to the non-support of the public and the absence of Wingfield.

The Tonopahs are in good demand, and nearly all the issues scored an increase in price and look higher, on the good showing of the mines of that district.

Montana Tonopah made a gain of 6 points. Goldfield Consolidated lost 7½ points. Florence, 5; Daisy, 1; Great Bend, 1; Jumbo Extension, 2; Fraction broke even. Booth was off 1 point, Silver Pick was unchanged, Atlanta was up 1 point, Belmont opened and closed at 105 bid, off 2½ points from yesterday. Tonopah Extension and Midway lost 1 point each and West End, 2. Rawhide Coalition was weak and closed at 30@32. Queen was in demand at 33 bid.

The output from Tonopah last week was valued at $140,300, representing 5808 tons of ore, of which the Tonopah Company contributed 3300 tons, the Belmont 700, Montana Tonopah 1028, Midway 100, MacNamara 350, and West End 130.

The annual statement of the Tonopah Mining Company, which has just been received, showed the number of tons of ore milled last year to have been 162,747, with an average value of $23.61, and producing 55,884 ounces of gold and 4,940,464 ounces of silver. The total receipts for the year were $3,131,958. The total disbursements, including $750,000 dividends, were $2,760,877. The surplus, after paying dividends, was $431,168. The total earnings and income for the year were $1,751,096. The net surplus for the year was $1,001,096, and the total surplus February 29 was $4,725,316.

The ore reserves on March 1 were 367,304 tons, showing an average value of $21.11. The cost of mining and milling per ton during the year was $8.96.

The report for the month of March, just issued by the Goldfield Consolidated Company, shows some astounding figures. Nineteen thousand one hundred and fifty tons of ore were treated in the mill, averaging $51.68 per ton. The extraction was $46.78 per ton on a recovery of 90.5 per cent. The Hampton Stope shipped 352 tons, showing net returns of $215,599, or 90 per cent. of the assay value. The cost of mining, development, milling, transportation and office and general expenses was $5.85 per ton. This includes the cost of 1500 feet of development work. The cost at the mill was $2 per ton. The total net income for March was $664,328. If this rate is maintained during the year, the net income from the property will amount to $11,571,947.

The output for the Goldfield camp last week was $606,225.

Boston Copper Market.

[Furnished by Logan & Bryan, Members New York and Boston Stock Exchanges, Bradbury building.]

BOSTON, April 27.—An effort was made this morning to open North Butte as low as possible and then to accumulate stock. The same people who have been instrumental in forcing down of Butte were active sellers of other copper stocks today, special attention being given to Copper Range. The balance of the list was weak, but showed no real pressure. The market looks much better than it did last night. Following were closing quotations on the Boston Stock Exchange:

GENERAL EASTERN.

WHEAT PRICES AGAIN GO UP.

STRONG REACTION FROM SENSATIONAL SLUMP BEGINS.

Quotations Rise Steadily All Day and May Delivery Closes at Top Notch, With July Only Slightly Below Best Market—Corn, Oats and Provisions Strong.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CHICAGO, April 27.—The bulge in wheat prices today was due chiefly to buying based on the general belief that a reaction was due from the sensational slump of the last few days. One of the leading bulls was credited with liberal purchases, while shorts also were active bidders. Prices rose steadily all day and at the close the May delivery sold at the top notch, at $1.21, while July was only 1-8@1-4 below the best market, 1.08 5-8. Weather conditions were generally favorable to the growth of the fall-sown crop, although reports from experts now on a tour of investigation throughout Ohio and Indiana claim that the crop in these two States is not responding as it should to the warmer weather. Cold weather in the Northwest was said to be delaying seeding operations. Declines at all the leading European grain centers seemed to have little effect on the trade here. Corn traders paid no attention to a decline of 3-4 pence at Liverpool but brought the grain freely, causing sharp advances in all deliveries. May was especially strong and closed at a net gain of 2 1-8@2 1-4 compared with the previous close. During the day, May sold between 69¼ and 71 5-8 and closed at 71½@71 5-8. July closed at 69 1-8. Oats exhibited firmness and closed at net gains of 3-8 to 7-8 over yesterday. The range of May for the day was 55 3-8 to 56 3-8 and closed at 56 1-8@56 1-4. An advance of seven cents in the price of live hogs and the bulge in corn had a bearish effect on the provisions market. At the close, prices were 10 to 22½ higher, compared with final quotations of the previous session.

Cash quotations were as follows: Flour, weak. No. 2 rye, 85@86. Feed or mixing barley, 65½@66; fair to choice malting, 66½@67. Flax seed, No. 1 Southwestern, 1.54½; No. 1 Northwestern, 1.64½. Timothy seed, 3.80. Clover, 9.50. Mess pork, per bbl., 17.80@17.85. Lard, per 100 lbs., 10.37½; short ribs, sides (loose,) 9.85½@9.85; short clear sides (boxed,) 9.75@10.25.

"MARCHES" AHEAD.

Literally, The Times "Marches" ahead in the volume of its advertising, distancing all contemporaries, North, East, South and West.

An average of 141 columns, or 20 full size, seven-column pages of advertising per day is a most stupendous record; but actual compilations, kept day by day, show that the Los Angeles Times made this unusual exhibit of paid business during the month of March, 1909. The figures far exceed those of any other newspaper in the United States, or the world.

Following is the tabulated statement, taken from reports given by newspapers in the various cities named, showing the newspaper leading in volume of advertising in each city for March.

New York Cotton Market.

[By Private Wire to E. F. Hutton & Co., Members New York Stock Exchange, No. 112 West Third street.]

NEW YORK, April 27.—The weather reports showing good rains over a large part of Texas, together with lower cables and quite active selling, resulted in a further decline in the cotton market, prices for the active months. The trade has been paying comparatively little attention to the private reports of extensive showers at scattered points in Texas for the past ten days, but the rainfall on Monday night was of such a pronounced nature and over such a large area that even the bulls were forced to admit that the drought had apparently been broken and that the crop prospects in Texas were materially benefited. Spots were rather quiet, with American mills poor buyers.

Logan & Bryan's letter follows: "The cotton market suffered this morning from unexpected rains in Texas and showed an easier tendency in the early part of the day. The rains seem to have been pretty well scattered and for the first time large enough to say that they afforded any confidence. It is evident as we get closer to it that the trade conditions for the balance of this season, when matched alongside of those a year ago, will make all comparisons of the two years make this year look bullish, indeed. Mr. Ellison shows European mill stocks to be only 2,170,000, against 2,139,000 last year, while the mills are now consuming 190,000 bales per week, against only 181,000 per week on the year ago. So far as the new crop is concerned, we are not going to have an increased acreage and it is ten to one that it will not again raise as much cotton per acre as we did last year, hence large crop ideas should be abandoned."

California Dried Fruits.

NEW YORK, April 27.—The market for evaporated apples holds steady on attractive fruit, with fancy quoted at 8 1-4@9 1-4; choice, 7@7 3-4; prime, 6@6½; common to fair, 5@6. The market for California prunes continues unsettled, for while there is less undesirable old crop stock offering, there is a disposition to reduce stocks and there seems to be some pressure to sell from the coast. Prices range from 3 3-4 to 12 for new crop California fruit and from 6½ to 9 for Oregons. Apricots are firm; choice, 10@10 1-4; extra choice, 10½@10 3-4, fancy, 11@13. Peaches are steady, @6 1-4; extra choice, 6 1-4@6 3-4; fancy, 7@8½. Raisins are unchanged. Loose muscatels quoted 3½@4½; choice to fancy seeded, 4 3-4@6; seedless, 3 3-4@5½; London layers, 1.20@1.70.

Boston Wool Market.

BOSTON, April 27.—The local wool situation is very strong. In domestic wools the reports of wool houses are actively bidding for the new clip and prices have been forced to levels higher than have been recorded for four or five years. Montana wool has sold at 23½ as against about 17 to 18 last year, and at about 16 for the same wools early in the present season. The Montana clip is practically all cleaned up. Quotations: Scoured values—Texas fine, 12-months, 60@62; fine, 6 to 8-months, 53@54; fine fall, 45@47. California—Northern, 58@60; middle counties, 45@50; fall free, 42@45. FORMER RECORDS BROKEN.

Collections of First Installment of Taxes Hundred Thousand More Last Year.

The final collections of the first installment of taxes for the fiscal year by the County Tax Collector ended yesterday, and former records were broken.

Altogether, there is due $5,221,731.69. The collections yesterday amounted to $74,895.11, and the total for the season, to $4,691,834.16.

Collections for the first half approximate $100,000 more than for the same period last year.

Polite to the Company.

Little Dick H. is the pink of politeness, and generous withal. A few days ago his mother was entertaining two ladies who had called on her, when Dick came into the parlor. He was duly presented, and then took a seat in his rocking chair, from under the arm of which he detached a good-sized piece of chewing gum, which he began to masticate quite vigorously.

Suddenly recollecting his manners, however, Dick took it out of his mouth and, holding the paste at arm's length, said, "'Scuse me, ladies; but would either of you like some of my chewing gum?"

Both declined, however, and the youngster, confident of having observed the proprieties, resumed his seat and "said nothing, but chewed gum." —[Exchange.

A Correction.

In "Home Builders" advertisement in the Sunday papers of April 25th, a manifest error needs correction. The advertisements reading: "In addition, its stockholders received CASH DIVIDENDS of $3 a share and $20 per share was carried to surplus and undivided profits account;" should have read: "Cash dividends of $3 and $20 on each 100 shares," the par value of the stock being $1 per share, now selling at $1.25 until June 1, when the price advances to $1.30 a share, with cash dividends of 2 per cent. a quarter commencing May 1, 1909, on all money received during the quarter.

What the Firm Says About It

Never before has the strength of our buying force come to the front as in this sale. The Buyers' Association is doing fine work right now in handling this, the most successful sale we have had in many a day, and have done fine work for months past in preparing these truly gigantic bargain-magnets, that are now pulling the crowds to the Big White Store.

What the Buyers Say

It's all very well to give the buyers the credit for this sale, but without the public's confidence but little could be accomplished. It is the result of Hamburger's confidence-building policy for years that has been the greatest factor in the success of the Buyers' Sale.

Buyers' Sale Tailored and Lingerie Waists at $2

Wednesday we're going to prove again that the center of the crowd's whirlpool at the Buyers' Sale is the center of our Second Floor.

Not an offering of merely a few dozen, but actually hundreds of waists. A good many of them worth more than double our price, at which we give you unexcelled choice. There are tailored waists of linen, madras and P. K. in all the newest plaited effects; and lingerie waists trimmed with the prettiest embroideries and laces. Second Floor.

That Buyers' Sale started things going in the waist department, even livelier than it usually is at this busy spot of the busy Big White Store. In the assortment offered for Wednesday you should take notice of the pretty new lingerie waists with Dutch neck, Princess Louise and regular collars. When it costs as little as this to have the very latest, it is really wrong not to be up-to-the-minute.

THE RANGE INCLUDES VALUES UP TO $4.50—BUT THEY GO AT $2.00 IN WEDNESDAY'S SALE.

Buyers' Sale 100 Silk Dresses at $14.75
